RANDALL COUNTY EXHIBIT IS FIRST IN COUNTY EXHIBITS AT FORT WORTH STOCK SHOW

First Honors in Wheat and Alfalfa Also Received By Randall Entries; Exhibit is Attracting Wide Spread Attention.

Randall county began to get her share of the first places in honors and awards at the Fat Stock Show and Southwestern Exposition at Ft. Worth this week. Added to the list of honors won by the livestock judging team of the College, the Randall County Farm Exhibit, which is being exhibited by W. H. Upchurch, Randall county agriculture agent, was judged first in the group of county exhibits on display at Fort Worth.

The exhibit is the same that won first place at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last September. Following the Tri-State Fair, the exhibit was pooled with the Panhandle-Plains, Inc., exhibit, and shown at the State Fair in Dallas. The Garza county exhibit which won first place at the South Plains Fair in Lubbock last fall was second in competition at Fort Worth.

In his communication from Fort Worth announcing the winning of first place, Mr. Upchurch states that the Garza county exhibit at the stock show is much better than the one exhibited at the State Fair, which ranked high in the list last fall.

He stated that the competition was much closer at the stock show than at the 1929 State Fair and that the exhibits ranked higher in the number of points scored.

Randall county led the list with a total of 946.75 points out of a possible thousand. Other counties rated as follows: Garza county, second, 944.50 points; Harrison, third, 942.50 points, and Ellis, fourth, 905.25 points.

Frank Phillips, who returned on Tuesday from the stock show, stated that the exhibit of Randall county was the most beautiful at the show, both in arrangement and in quality. He says that the exhibit is beyond doubt the outstanding one there, and that it is attracting widespread attention.

A feature of the exhibit is pictures of scenes of the Palo Duro Canyon.

In addition to the winning of first place in county exhibits, a wire from Mr. Upchurch Wednesday morning stated that Randall county had won all first and second prizes on hard wheat grown by Walker and Ash. Also first and second on alfalfa grown by Roffey and Brown, besides several other lower places.

Two Day School For Farmers is Planned Here

A two days' school for the farmers and stock breeders of the Panhandle will be held at the College Friday and Saturday, March 28 and 29, under the direction of Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department of the College.

The purpose of the school, it is announced, will be to better acquaint the farmers and breeders with the facts concerning the conducting of bull circles, purebred seed farms, and improving poultry strains.

The school will be known as a two days' Herd Improvement school. The vocational agriculture teachers and county farm agents over the Panhandle have been consulted concerning the conducting of such a school and all have given it a hearty approval. They will bring with them a number of farmers to attend the school.

The first day of the school will be devoted to instructions concerning the physical properties of breeding animals. On Saturday morning Dr. Frank Jones, head of the state live stock sanitary board of Fort Worth, will speak concerning the diseases among breeding stock. Dr. Jones was formerly on the faculty of Texas A. & M. college.

Saturday afternoon will be devoted to a discussion of cross breeding and line breeding. T. C. Bennett and Professor Grout are listed as speakers for that time, and will discuss various phases of the subjects.

Permit is Issued For $500 Warehouse

A building permit for $500 was issued to Rhea Robbins Monday for the construction of a sheet iron warehouse at 712 Fifth avenue. It is understood that the building will be used to house farm implements. The total permits issued this year exceeds $8,000.

Carlsbad Man Hurt Here Last Friday

M. L. Davis, of Carlsbad, N. M., was painfully though not seriously injured Friday morning in front of the home of his son, Ray V. Davis, at 1704 Sixth avenue, when he was struck by a passing automobile. The car which struck Mr. Davis was driven by George Ward.

Mr. Davis sustained two broken ribs, besides other injuries. He, with Mrs. Davis, had arrived here Thursday from Carlsbad for a several days' visit with Ray V. Davis and family.

One Act Plays Of High Schools Are Next Week

On March 21 and 22, seventeen high schools from 21 counties of the Panhandle will present one-act plays at the West Texas Teachers College, as the second of the series of Texas Interscholastic events for District No. 1.

The first important meeting for the high schools of the region was the basketball tournament in February, which brought 150 high school basketball players and more than that number of observers to Canyon.

The third of the meets will be the Interscholastic Literary and Track Meet which takes place on April 18 and 19, when a thousand or more contestants will try for places in the state finals at Austin.

The schools that will be represented in the One-Act Play Contest are: Amarillo, Texline, Stratford, Perryton, Channing, Dumas, Sanford, Miami, Canadian, Panhandle, Lefors, McLean, Pampa, Canyon, Claude, and the Oklahoma Lane School of Farwell, Texas.

W. E. Lockhart, head of the commercial department of the West Texas State Teachers College, is director general for the first district, and the play contest will be given under the general direction of Miss Mary Morgan Brown and Mr. F. J. Byer of the speech department of the Teachers College.

Tom Knighton Enters Race for Mayor's Office

To the People of Canyon:

Believing that the office of Chief Executive of our city offers many opportunities for public service, and that the time is ripe for the development of a bigger and better Canyon, I hereby offer myself as a candidate for Mayor at the April election. I have no revolutionary program to propose and no personal axe to grind. I make no criticism of those who now manage our city's affairs, and fully appreciate the service they have rendered. They are all good men and have the community's welfare at heart. I am not asking for the office on the basis of the demerits of the other fellow. I believe that as your Mayor I could set in motion those influences that will stimulate the growth of our city and make it a more attractive place in which to live. In my judgment, we ought to offer every inducement, consistent with honesty and public economy, to people of means and those who are interested in education to make this their home. A united citizenry behind a progressive program of both private and public enterprise will result in the doubling of our population in the next few years.

If you should see fit to give me the high honor of serving you as Mayor I pledge my very best effort to develop a prosperous and happy community. I shall endeavor to administer the affairs of the city as to give the public the greatest possible value for the cost of their government, using my time and what ability I have in the interest of the whole people.

Thanking you for whatever consideration you may see fit to give my candidacy and assuring you of my earnest desire to see our city move forward, I am,

Sincerely yours,

TOM KNIGHTON.

Low Water Rates During Summer Allowed By City

The City Commission has announced that the six months' contract rate on city water for irrigation purposes will be in effect again this year. The time covered by the contract will be for the months of April, May, June, July, August, and September. Contract for the low rate allowed under the agreement must be made at the city secretary's office not later than April 10.

Last year was the first time that irrigation rates were offered by the city water department in allowing an excessive use of water during the summer months at a minimum cost. The project last year was considered more or less an experiment, but it met with such popular favor that the City Commission has decided to repeat the contract this year.

Users of the water under the contract rate agree to use the water for household and irrigation purposes or irrigation purposes only. The low rate does not apply for commercial use.

Committee Is Appointed For Trades Day

A committee has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of preparing a program for the Monthly Trades Day on March 24, according to an announcement made by the president, W. A. Warren.

Those who have been appointed are: Carl Laughery, Ray V. Davis, W. A. Pierce and J. W. Daniel. They will have complete charge for the arrangements of the program.

The monthly trades day held in February was the first this year. It proved to be one of exceeding interest and drew a large crowd to town, despite the unfavorable weather.

Among the contests held last month, the old fiddlers contest attracted much interest among those who came to Canyon that day. It is said that the contest may be established as a permanent feature for the regular trades day.

C. of C. Pledges $500 to Museum For P-P Society

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, with its headquarters at Canyon, has the enthusiastic support of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting of the board of directors Friday, the commercial organization pledged $500 to the museum fund of the Historical Society. This amount is payable in two installments, the first in 1930 and the second early in 1931.

Old Stirrup is Found at T-Anchor; Given to Society

A stirrup made of a discarded wagon tire was recently plowed up on the old T Anchor Ranch near Canyon.

The stirrup was shown to J. W. Turner, who was a cowboy on the ranch in 1888, and he stated that stirrups were frequently made of this material, the work being done in an adobe blacksmith's shop which served the ranch.

The stirrup will be placed in the collection of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Meeting Held To Discuss the Paupers of City

In response to a call of County Judge B. F. Fronabarger, a group of men representative of the churches, city officials, Chamber of Commerce and county commissioners met in the county court room to discuss and plan a way by which to care for the poor and destitute of Canyon.

Said to be attributable to the unemployment wave which is now sweeping the nation, the local situation is said to be growing acute and alarming.

Discussing the situation, business men and others pointed out innumerable cases of begging that had been seen here in the past few days. It was pointed out that the town was faced with two problems. That of caring for the resident poor and some means of handling the transient beggars.

R. A. Bellah presided over the meeting, with Rev. C. G. Howard acting as secretary. Resolutions were adopted which called for the appointment of a committee to look into the cases reported to them and then appeal to the commissioners court for funds. The commissioners court was asked to appoint the committee of those who were to take care of the situation.

In destitute circumstances, the committee will appeal to the commissioners court for the funds to handle other cases.

Those appointed to the committee were: R. A. Bellah, Rev. C. E. Jamison and Rev. W. C. Kunze.

CANDIDATES FOR CITY OFFICE

The following names have been authorized to be placed on the City of Canyon Ticket to be voted on April 1st, 1930:

First Honors in Stock Show Judging Won by W. T. Boys

In the State Teachers College division of live stock judging at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, West Texas won first place. The West Texas judging team, composed of Clarence Kaylor, Judie Boston and Weldon Terry, won a total of 1,481 points to take first place, followed by East Texas Teachers College with 1,343 points for second.

According to news advices from Fort Worth the three high point men in the judging were from Canyon. Frank Phillips, head of the agriculture department at the College, is coach of the College team. Aside from the team honors, Kaylor won first place as judge of dairy cattle, and Terry first in hogs.

In discussing the honors won at the Fat Stock Show, Frank Phillips, who returned Tuesday, said: "This is the first time in the history of the exposition that the three high men in the contest were from the same team. The three boys were within four points of each other in the scoring. Others were from thirty to forty points below the Canyon boys."

Highway Men Are Preparing Highway Route

Draftsmen at the County Highway Engineer's office are at this time preparing drawings of the routing of the Hereford highway through Canyon.

The road, according to the drawings, will form a "Y" in the west part of Canyon, one road running down Fourth avenue to the Amarillo Highway, while the other road will be north of the Santa Fe tracks.

Highway men state that the plans will be made for the paving of the road, but as yet no money will be available for the paving and will not be provided for before some time has elapsed.

The section of highway between Canyon and Happy which has been closed for several months will not be opened for traffic for several weeks yet. Work on the big bridge just south of town has not been completed. Grading work on the road has already been completed.

College Students Directory Will Be Ready Soon

The Students' Directory of the College, which is being published by the Students Religious Council, is now in the hands of the printers and will be off the press within the next few days.

Freeman Curtis is managing the publication of the directory this year and states that 800 copies will be ready for distribution soon.

Game Warden Makes Arrest of Fishers Sunday

Four Amarillo residents were arrested by State Game Warden S. D. Turner, Sunday afternoon for catching fish with a seine in this county.

The men were arrested and brought to Canyon, where charges against them for the illegal catching of fish were filed in the justice court. Fines and costs amounting to $26 each were assessed.

The four were Claude Prewitt, J. A. Mitchell, C. R. Richerson, and E. Chilton. All are said to be employees of a smelter in Amarillo.

Mrs. Sudie Terry of Quitaque is visiting in the home of her son, A. E. Terry of this city.

New School Building Planned for Dist. 10

Plans to erect a new school house in rural school district No. 10 of Randall county are being made. A petition was being circulated this week, with the expressed purpose of calling an election to vote bonds for the erection of the new building.

The new building would combine the two schools of Fairview and Plains Center in one building.

J. W. Turner Donates Trees to College Farm

J. W. Turner of Umbarger, Texas, visited the T Anchor Ranch March 7, and brought to it three Sapi plum trees to be placed in the orchard of the College farm.

These trees, which were budded by Mr. Turner himself, were placed in the orchard of the old ranch because of his personal interest in the place, and interest in orchard and gardening experiments. These trees are frost-proof and heavy bearers of fine fruit annually.

Turner has known the T Anchor Ranch since the spring of 1888, when he came to it as a cook and cow-puncher.

At that time there was not a single house in Randall county, and on the site where the T Anchor headquarters was later built, there was an adobe blacksmith shop and a bunk house of adobe. A short distance away a warehouse and barn had been built of cedar logs that were cut along the Palo Duro creek about two miles away from the T Anchor headquarters.

Mr. Turner explained that the reason freighting was done from the north rather than from the south was that the harder soil to the north made the hauling much easier than through the sand to the south.

Fred H. Woodard Announces For County Attorney

To the Voters of Randall County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Attorney of your county subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in July, 1930. I have resided in Amarillo for the past five years and in Randall County off and on during that time, and now reside in Randall County at 3709 Polk Street, Amarillo. If I am elected to the office I will immediately move to Canyon the County Seat, where I will engage in the practice of the law, handling such practice as may be permitted under the law in connection with the office of County Attorney. I promise to give all of my time to the office of County Attorney and do my full duty as prescribed by law. This is the first time in my life to run for public office and I am therefore not a politician. I am 37 years of age and was born in the mountains of North Carolina near Asheville. I was admitted to practice law in North Carolina after examination by the Supreme Court of that State on February 5th, 1917. I obtained my education in the mountain schools of North Carolina and obtained equivalent to high school education in the Sylva (North Carolina) Collegiate Institute. I attended the University of North Carolina (Law) in 1909 and Wake Forest College (Law) 1916. The balance of my education (if any) was obtained by hard knocks. When I was about eleven years of age I started my career on the railroad as a section hand in North Carolina and rose from that to Agent and Operator and Train Dispatcher, being permitted by the officials of the Southern Railroad Company to take leaves of absence to attend school at intervals until my admission to the Bar in 1917. In the year 1914 I was with the Rock Island railroad and was during that year relief agent on the Amarillo Division and worked at Alameda, Adrian and Vega. Since then I have always wanted to come back to the Panhandle where I shall remain as far as I know now. I have a wife and one child. In July, 1917, I joined the United States Army, and was assigned to the 105th Field Signal Battalion, 30th Division, at

Active steps in the organization of a Business Men's Association, with duties corresponding to a credit association, were taken last night at a meeting of a group of Canyon business men at a banquet held in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Following the dinner hour, those present were addressed by R. O. Walkup, manager of the Amarillo Business Men's Association, Inc., and Fred H. Woodard, Amarillo attorney. Their discussions touched on the vital points in the organization and management of the association.

Ray Campbell, presiding chairman, was elected to head a board of directors composed of the following Canyon business men: O. N. Gamble, Dr. H. A. Brown, Carl Laughery, R. E. Ball, W. H. Stroud, and T. C. Thompson.

According to plans discussed last night the association will make an application for a state charter and carry the name of Business Men's Association, Inc., of Canyon. A secretary to the association will be secured and the organization operated on lines corresponding to a business firm, offering service to merchants in the nature of credit information.

This association is to be affiliated with both the state and national associations, offering a scope of service covering the entire nation, if necessary.

In a paragraph of the application for membership the purpose is set forth thus: "That this corporation was formed for the purpose of supporting an educational undertaking in an effort to educate the public as to credit purchases and to promote better relations between debtor and creditor by a general dissemination of knowledge on this subject to the members and to the public."

Champion Buffs Will Play Teams In Colorado

Coach Burton and his T. I. A. A. champion Buffaloes will start on a barnstorming trip into Colorado Sunday. So far the Buffaloes have only two games scheduled on this trip. They will be gone for about four days unless other games are scheduled between now and that time.

Two games with the Trinidad Independents have been arranged for. These games will be played Monday and Tuesday nights.

Coach Burton states that the short trip will be made more or less as a good will tour. An opportunity will be offered West Texas to become better acquainted in the section which will be included in the tour. In this way, it is hoped, many will become friends and supporters of the Buffalo teams in the future and perhaps be a means of attracting prospective students to Canyon.

Three former Buffalo players are teaching and coaching in Trinidad at this time and it will probably be very much like Buffaloes vs. Buffaloes when they take the floor Monday night.

A few boys are working out on the track at the College, but Coach Burton states that no definite call for a track team has been issued up to this time. It is probable that the regular workouts will not begin before the latter part of next week, perhaps later than that.

SWISHER EX-STUDENTS MAKE PLANS FOR BANQUET

The Swisher county ex-students of West Texas State Teachers College are planning a banquet to be held at an early date, according to L. N. George, field secretary of the ex-students association, who has been in Swisher county this week.

Mr. George spoke to the senior class at both Tulia and Happy this week. Also he was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at Tulia Wednesday.

Hi School Orchestra Will Play at Banquet

It is announced that the Canyon High School orchestra will play for the Randall County Dairymen's Association annual banquet, which will be held Friday night, March 21. It is understood that the program will include speakers from Amarillo. The banquet is for members of the association and invited guests only.

Meeting Held To Discuss the Paupers of City

In response to a call of County Judge B. F. Fronabarger, a group of men representative of the churches, city officials, Chamber of Commerce and county commissioners met in the county court room to discuss and plan a way by which to care for the poor and destitute of Canyon.

Said to be attributable to the unemployment wave which is now sweeping the nation, the local situation is said to be growing acute and alarming.

Discussing the situation, business men and others pointed out innumerable cases of begging that had been seen here in the past few days. It was pointed out that the town was faced with two problems. That of caring for the resident poor and some means of handling the transient beggars.

R. A. Bellah presided over the meeting, with Rev. C. G. Howard acting as secretary. Resolutions were adopted which called for the appointment of a committee to look into the cases reported to them and then appeal to the commissioners court for funds. The commissioners court was asked to appoint the committee of those who were to take care of the situation.

In destitute circumstances, the committee will appeal to the commissioners court for the funds to handle other cases.

Those appointed to the committee were: R. A. Bellah, Rev. C. E. Jamison and Rev. W. C. Kunze.

First Honors in Stock Show Judging Won by W. T. Boys

In the State Teachers College division of live stock judging at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, West Texas won first place. The West Texas judging team, composed of Clarence Kaylor, Judie Boston and Weldon Terry, won a total of 1,481 points to take first place, followed by East Texas Teachers College with 1,343 points for second.

According to news advices from Fort Worth the three high point men in the judging were from Canyon. Frank Phillips, head of the agriculture department at the College, is coach of the College team. Aside from the team honors, Kaylor won first place as judge of dairy cattle, and Terry first in hogs.

In discussing the honors won at the Fat Stock Show, Frank Phillips, who returned Tuesday, said: "This is the first time in the history of the exposition that the three high men in the contest were from the same team. The three boys were within four points of each other in the scoring. Others were from thirty to forty points below the Canyon boys."

Highway Men Are Preparing Highway Route

Draftsmen at the County Highway Engineer's office are at this time preparing drawings of the routing of the Hereford highway through Canyon.

The road, according to the drawings, will form a "Y" in the west part of Canyon, one road running down Fourth avenue to the Amarillo Highway, while the other road will be north of the Santa Fe tracks.

Highway men state that the plans will be made for the paving of the road, but as yet no money will be available for the paving and will not be provided for before some time has elapsed.

The section of highway between Canyon and Happy which has been closed for several months will not be opened for traffic for several weeks yet. Work on the big bridge just south of town has not been completed. Grading work on the road has already been completed.

College Students Directory Will Be Ready Soon

The Students' Directory of the College, which is being published by the Students Religious Council, is now in the hands of the printers and will be off the press within the next few days.

Freeman Curtis is managing the publication of the directory this year and states that 800 copies will be ready for distribution soon.

Game Warden Makes Arrest of Fishers Sunday

Four Amarillo residents were arrested by State Game Warden S. D. Turner, Sunday afternoon for catching fish with a seine in this county.

The men were arrested and brought to Canyon, where charges against them for the illegal catching of fish were filed in the justice court. Fines and costs amounting to $26 each were assessed.

The four were Claude Prewitt, J. A. Mitchell, C. R. Richardson, and E. Chilton. All are said to be employees of a smelter in Amarillo.

Mrs. Sudie Terry of Quitaque is visiting in the home of her son, A. E. Terry of this city.

New School Building Planned for Dist. 10

Plans to erect a new school house in rural school district No. 10 of Randall county are being made. A petition was being circulated this week, with the expressed purpose of calling an election to vote bonds for the erection of the new building.

The new building would combine the two schools of Fairview and Plains Center in one building.

J. W. Turner Donates Trees to College Farm

J. W. Turner of Umbarger, Texas, visited the T Anchor Ranch March 7, and brought to it three Sapi plum trees to be placed in the orchard of the College farm.

These trees, which were budded by Mr. Turner himself, were placed in the orchard of the old ranch because of his personal interest in the place, and interest in orchard and gardening experiments. These trees are frost-proof and heavy bearers of fine fruit annually.

Turner has known the T Anchor Ranch since the spring of 1888, when he came to it as a cook and cow-puncher.

At that time there was not a single house in Randall county, and on the site where the T Anchor headquarters was later built, there was an adobe blacksmith shop and a bunk house of adobe. A short distance away a warehouse and barn had been built of cedar logs that were cut along the Palo Duro creek about two miles away from the T Anchor headquarters.

Mr. Turner explained that the reason freighting was done from the north rather than from the south was that the harder soil to the north made the hauling much easier than through the sand to the south.

Fred H. Woodard Announces For County Attorney

To the Voters of Randall County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Attorney of your county subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in July, 1930. I have resided in Amarillo for the past five years and in Randall County off and on during that time, and now reside in Randall County at 3709 Polk Street, Amarillo. If I am elected to the office I will immediately move to Canyon the County Seat, where I will engage in the practice of the law, handling such practice as may be permitted under the law in connection with the office of County Attorney. I promise to give all of my time to the office of County Attorney and do my full duty as prescribed by law. This is the first time in my life to run for public office and I am therefore not a politician. I am 37 years of age and was born in the mountains of North Carolina near Asheville. I was admitted to practice law in North Carolina after examination by the Supreme Court of that State on February 5th, 1917. I obtained my education in the mountain schools of North Carolina and obtained equivalent to high school education in the Sylva (North Carolina) Collegiate Institute. I attended the University of North Carolina (Law) in 1909 and Wake Forest College (Law) 1916. The balance of my education (if any) was obtained by hard knocks. When I was about eleven years of age I started my career on the railroad as a section hand in North Carolina and rose from that to Agent and Operator and Train Dispatcher, being permitted by the officials of the Southern Railroad Company to take leaves of absence to attend school at intervals until my admission to the Bar in 1917. In the year 1914 I was with the Rock Island railroad and was during that year relief agent on the Amarillo Division and worked at Alameda, Adrian and Vega. Since then I have always wanted to come back to the Panhandle where I shall remain as far as I know now. I have a wife and one child. In July, 1917, I joined the United States Army, and was assigned to the 105th Field Signal Battalion, 30th Division, at

Active steps in the organization of a Business Men's Association, with duties corresponding to a credit association, were taken last night at a meeting of a group of Canyon business men at a banquet held in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Following the dinner hour, those present were addressed by R. O. Walkup, manager of the Amarillo Business Men's Association, Inc., and Fred H. Woodard, Amarillo attorney. Their discussions touched on the vital points in the organization and management of the association.

Ray Campbell, presiding chairman, was elected to head a board of directors composed of the following Canyon business men: O. N. Gamble, Dr. H. A. Brown, Carl Laughery, R. E. Ball, W. H. Stroud, and T. C. Thompson.

According to plans discussed last night the association will make an application for a state charter and carry the name of Business Men's Association, Inc., of Canyon. A secretary to the association will be secured and the organization operated on lines corresponding to a business firm, offering service to merchants in the nature of credit information.

This association is to be affiliated with both the state and national associations, offering a scope of service covering the entire nation, if necessary.

In a paragraph of the application for membership the purpose is set forth thus: "That this corporation was formed for the purpose of supporting an educational undertaking in an effort to educate the public as to credit purchases and to promote better relations between debtor and creditor by a general dissemination of knowledge on this subject to the members and to the public."

Champion Buffs Will Play Teams In Colorado

Coach Burton and his T. I. A. A. champion Buffaloes will start on a barnstorming trip into Colorado Sunday. So far the Buffaloes have only two games scheduled on this trip. They will be gone for about four days unless other games are scheduled between now and that time.

Two games with the Trinidad Independents have been arranged for. These games will be played Monday and Tuesday nights.

Coach Burton states that the short trip will be made more or less as a good will tour. An opportunity will be offered West Texas to become better acquainted in the section which will be included in the tour. In this way, it is hoped, many will become friends and supporters of the Buffalo teams in the future and perhaps be a means of attracting prospective students to Canyon.

Three former Buffalo players are teaching and coaching in Trinidad at this time and it will probably be very much like Buffaloes vs. Buffaloes when they take the floor Monday night.

A few boys are working out on the track at the College, but Coach Burton states that no definite call for a track team has been issued up to this time. It is probable that the regular workouts will not begin before the latter part of next week, perhaps later than that.

SWISHER EX-STUDENTS MAKE PLANS FOR BANQUET

The Swisher county ex-students of West Texas State Teachers College are planning a banquet to be held at an early date, according to L. N. George, field secretary of the ex-students association, who has been in Swisher county this week.

Mr. George spoke to the senior class at both Tulsa and Happy this week. Also he was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at Tulsa Wednesday.

Hi School Orchestra Will Play at Banquet

It is announced that the Canyon High School orchestra will play for the Randall County Dairymen's Association annual banquet, which will be held Friday night, March 21.

It is understood that the program will include speakers from Amarillo. The banquet is for members of the association and invited guests only.

BUSINESS IS GETTING BETTER

Men whose occupation it is to keep their fingers on the pulse of national conditions report with a great deal of confidence that the outlook for business is better than they had expected to find at this time. There was a belief at the turn of the year that it might be midsummer before industrial conditions got back to normal. Now it is the general feeling that it will not be much after Easter before the slack has been taken up. Definite predictions with a time-limit are always doubtful, but the fact that intelligent investigators believe the worst is over is of great significance and interest.

One of the most reliable indexes of business confidence is the volume of national advertising. Six of the largest advertising agencies recently reported that not only there been no cancellation among their advertising clients, but that many of them had increased their advertising appropriations by from 10 to 15 per cent.

There are several reasons why what looked in November like the beginning of a business depression did not develop as such things have done in the past. One was, of course, that the sudden slump in stock values did not reflect any business or industrial condition but was the natural reaction from a speculative boom in which stocks were sold at from twenty to forty or fifty times their net earnings. Another was that there was no great mass of "frozen assets" on the shelves of merchants and manufacturers.

With the improvements in transportation facilities which have been made since the Armistice, business requires less capital investment in goods than formerly was the case. One of the great mail order houses last year reported an inventory of only $77,000,000 as against $120,000,000 in 1921, yet the total volume of business done on the smaller inventory was four times as great as when the larger stock was carried. Something like that is reflected in the records of every merchant who runs his business on an up-to-date basis today. Small stock, speedily replenished on hurry-up orders to manufacturers or jobbers, enable the retailer to make two to four times as many sales on the same amount of capital. He runs less risk of having money tied up in slow-moving goods and by frequent re-ordering keeps his stock fresh and attractive, besides being ready to respond instantly to any change in style or tastes.

Because this system of retailing has become almost universal, business credits were not materially curtailed even when the situation looked worst, and today are almost as free as they have ever been. The trend of wages is still upward, unemployment is diminishing, and the general public will soon be, if it is not already, in better buying position than ever.

STRESSING SAFETY IN AUTOMOBILES

To give an idea of the magnitude of the automobile industry and its bearing on employment and general business conditions, it is interesting to note a recent report that one manufacturer of steel automobile bodies, in a Philadelphia plant alone, used 140,464 tons of sheet steel in the production of all-steel bodies in 1929. This would make a 16-foot wide strip of steel 2,302 miles long.

The use of all-steel bodies has been growing rapidly as a safety feature of automobiles but one can scarcely realize that this much steel can be used by one plant in building one part of an automobile in one year.

American cars, in all the price classes, feature steel bodies. Exhaustive tests and practical experience have proven that this type of construction offers the occupants of a car greatest possible protection in an accident. The trend toward greater automobile safety is unquestionably responsible for saving thousands of lives each year.

After reading the news dispatches from Chicago, U. S. A., the people of Chicago, South Australia, voted to change the name of their town to Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army. If that doesn't make Chicago ashamed of itself, Chicago, Kentucky, might change its name to King George and see if that will have any effect.

When asked how it was that in pictures and statues, angels are always represented as women or young men without beards or mustaches, Dr. Potter, bishop of New York, replied:

"Everyone knows that women naturally inherit the kingdom of heaven, but the men get in only by a very close shave."

KEEP UP GOOD ROADS PROGRAM

This is the time of the year when the man with an automobile wishes he had a horse or a good team of mules whenever he turns off the main paved roads. We have gone a long way since George Washington's time, when it took him two weeks to get from the national capital, then in New York, to his home in Virginia, on account of the bad condition of the roads. The reason why our national Constitution provides that presidents and members of congress elected in November do not take office until the following March is that it was figured that it would take them all that time to get to the capital, especially if new states were created west of the Ohio river!

One of the first acts of Thomas Jefferson's administration was to inaugurate a system of national paved highways. But the railroad was invented along in the 1820's, and road building began to languish, the railroad was going to take its place. Our fathers, grandfathers, and our great-grandfathers continued to pull along in the mud until the automobile made better roads imperative. The past fifteen years have seen road building develop into one of the nation's major industries, and this year's program is vaster than any that have gone before.

The good work should not stop until every farm home in the nation has a paved motor road passing its gate. Already there is some idle talk to the effect that the airplane will make further extension of through motor roads unnecessary. Nobody takes that sort of talk very seriously as yet, but it may become an argument in ten years or so against the appropriation of further federal funds for road building. That was what happened when the railroad came in, but we know more than our ancestors did and probably will not be fooled as they were.

Theodore Roosevelt, while addressing a large Progressive Republican gathering in the election campaign of 1912, criticized the doctrines and methods of the Democratic party. On concluding his address, a Democrat who happened to be present in the audience, and who objected to some of Mr. Roosevelt's remarks, began to question the speaker.

"Mr. Roosevelt," he said, "why are you a Republican?"

"Because my father and grandfather were both Republicans!" was the reply.

"What would you be if your father and grandfather had both been horse thieves?" again asked the Democrat.

"I'd be a Democrat," Mr. Roosevelt replied.

Among recent English politicians there has been no one readier with the witty and discomfiting retort than Mr. Lloyd George. Addressing some Welsh farmers, he once said:

"We will have home rule for Ireland and for England and for Scotland and for Wales."

"And for hell!" interposed a deep half-drunken voice.

"Quite right," replied the former speaker. "I like to hear a man stick up for his own country."

The old saying that while there is life there is hope is not more true than that while there is hope there is life.

WHO IS THE VICTOR?

"A victory for the consumer—that is what papers . . . call the senate vote to retain the present tariff rate on sugar," says the Literary Digest.

If the sugar tariff was adopted on a political rather than a business basis, it is too early to announce the victor.

Any tariff schedule which discourages production by an American industry is costly to American workers and consumers if it leaves them at the mercy of foreign production and price manipulation.

Put two tablespoons of butter in frying pan and add one-half onion sliced thin, fry to a golden brown. Add one cup milk and two ounces bread. Now add two cups finely ground cold cooked beef, one teaspoon curry powder, three eggs and a little sauce. Mix and turn onto a buttered baking dish and bake one-half hour.

Adversity and prosperity are the opposite phases of human life, but either is apt to breed discontent.

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase of an automobile

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

THE low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheister, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating."

"I would burn in my chest, I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me."

"A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?'"

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals, and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Preach Fuller Will Lead the Buffs in 1931

Wearing Maroon and White for the last time, Preach Fuller, center on two Buffalo championship basketball teams, will lead the 1931 Buffaloes as captain.

Playing for the first time on a Buffalo basketball team in 1925, Fuller was a member of the team that was a runner up in the T. I. A. A. race that year. He was out of school the year following but returned in 1927 and was a member of the championship team that year. Again he was out of college for two years, in 1928 and 1929. Returning the past fall he made the Buffalo team this year for the third time, playing on his second championship team, and the fourth for the College.

Despite the fact that the team is losing four regular men and one reserve, prospects for another year are promising. A number of fast reserves will return, and indications are that Fuller will have team-mates in 1931 who will assist him in carrying the Buffalo banner toward another championship.

Fuller has made himself popular during his stay at West Texas, not only among the fans but with his team-mates as well. He received ten of the eleven votes cast at the election. He voted for Brown.

DR. GRAINGER TALKS TO COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. H. G. Grainger presented an interesting and instructive talk to the senior class of the West Texas high school yesterday afternoon, taking as his subject, "Osteopathy, the New Medicine."

Dr. Grainger brought out the relative advantages that osteopathy offers a young man or woman as a career, stressing the idea that the profession is one of the few in which the demand for practitioners exceeds the supply. He also put emphasis on the fact that it is a complete system of medicine, utilizing every therapeutic agent of proven value in the treatment of disease.

The talk by Dr. Grainger was the first of a series of vocational guidance lectures to be given weekly by representatives of the various professions.

Buffs May Meet Southwest Court Quintets in 1931

The West Texas Buffaloes may meet some of the big boys in basketball next season. Texas university, Baylor university and Texas A. and M. have each expressed a willingness to come to the Plains country, if satisfactory dates and terms can be arranged.

It is not quite probable that all of these teams can be brought to Canyon in one season but it appears to be quite possible that one and perhaps two of these clubs will show their wares against the Thundering herd in Canyon next year.

Abilene Reporter Selects All T. I. A. A. Basketball Team

Following is the All T. I. A. A. basketball team as named by the Abilene Morning Reporter. It is not official, but is their own selection. It is not necessarily true:

First Team.

H. Stringer, E. Texas, forward.
Donnell, S. F. Austin, forward.
Brook, N. Texas, center.
Cheves, A. C. C. guard.
Gerald, W. Texas, guard.

Second Team.

Newman, W. Texas, forward.
Rusk, S. F. Austin, forward.
D. Brandt, San Marcos, center.
O. Stringer, E. Texas, guard.
Perryman, N. Texas, guard.

One Buffalo is named on the first team and one on the second, and one is given honorable mention. There is only one criticism to be offered by the sports editor of this paper and that is that Ward is not named in place of Cheves of A. C. C.

CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. J. M. Daugherty entertained the members of Las Senoras Nuevas Club with bridge at her home, Wednesday afternoon. Decorations featuring the St. Patrick's day motif were carried out in the entertaining suite, tallies, and the delectable refreshment course served at the conclusion of the play.

Guests and club members present included: Mrs. L. Ansel, Mrs. Clyde Melroy, Mrs. N. E. McIntyre, Mrs. Annie V. McCarty, Mrs. George E. Nance, Mrs. J. S. Humphreys, Mrs. C. R. Flesher, Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. F. E. Savage, Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, Mrs. Travis Shaw, Mrs. Winfield Miller, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Jim Green, Mrs. C. L. JUDGE B. F. FRONABARGER

County Judge B. F. Fronabarger celebrated his 70th birthday Monday at his usual post in the court house. Many of his friends dropped by during the day to offer him congratulations and wishes for many more such occasions.

Judge Fronabarger is serving his second term as county judge in Randall county and plans to retire from public life at the conclusion of his present term. Recently he announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the office he holds, or for any other public office.

He has been a resident of this county for a number of years and his influence both as a public man and as a minister have been beneficial to many who have come to know him as a friend.

Sale of Dairy Cows at Annual P-P Dairy Show

Entries for the annual auction sale of purebred registered dairy cattle at the Panhandle-Plains dairy show at Plainview must be made to the secretary of the show, Maury Hopkins, not later than March 15. An announcement to that effect was made this week by Frank Phillips, a member of the sales committee.

The reason for the entries in this sale being in at the date mentioned, according to Mr. Phillips, is because the sale catalogue must be published and the sale advertised extensively in order to make it a success. The date for the sale is April 10, the concluding day of the dairy show.

Auto Laundry Opened Here Last Week

A new line of business in Canyon was opened last week when Russell Clark started operation of his Auto Laundry. The auto laundry is equipped to do any kind of cleaning and greasing that an automobile needs.

Mr. Clark has been a resident of this vicinity for several years. He was until recently caretaker of the Palo Duro Country Club. Prior to that, he was connected with an auto laundry in El Paso, Texas.

The system used in the local auto laundry is known as the "Weaverized" system.

JUDGE B. F. FRONABARGER

County Judge B. F. Fronabarger celebrated his 70th birthday Monday at his usual post in the court house. Many of his friends dropped by during the day to offer him congratulations and wishes for many more such occasions.

Judge Fronabarger is serving his second term as county judge in Randall county and plans to retire from public life at the conclusion of his present term. Recently he announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the office he holds, or for any other public office.

He has been a resident of this county for a number of years and his influence both as a public man and as a minister have been beneficial to many who have come to know him as a friend.

Sale of Dairy Cows at Annual P-P Dairy Show

Entries for the annual auction sale of purebred registered dairy cattle at the Panhandle-Plains dairy show at Plainview must be made to the secretary of the show, Maury Hopkins, not later than March 15. An announcement to that effect was made this week by Frank Phillips, a member of the sales committee.

The reason for the entries in this sale being in at the date mentioned, according to Mr. Phillips, is because the sale catalogue must be published and the sale advertised extensively in order to make it a success. The date for the sale is April 10, the concluding day of the dairy show.

Auto Laundry Opened Here Last Week

A new line of business in Canyon was opened last week when Russell Clark started operation of his Auto Laundry. The auto laundry is equipped to do any kind of cleaning and greasing that an automobile needs.

Mr. Clark has been a resident of this vicinity for several years. He was until recently caretaker of the Palo Duro Country Club. Prior to that, he was connected with an auto laundry in El Paso, Texas.

The system used in the local auto laundry is known as the "Weaverized" system.

City Federation Plans Clean-up Day on April 2

The City Federation of Women's Clubs met Wednesday afternoon in the club rooms at the court house. During the business meeting the members designated April 2 as Federation Clean-Up Day, to be observed in co-operation with the mayor in observing clean-up week. Committees are to be appointed to have charge of the different districts of the town.

The Federation appreciates the co-operation of the merchants in the scattering of handbills, and wishes to thank Mr. Wooten of the Olympic for his co-operation with the Federation in this particular situation.

The aim of the City Federation is to promote a cleaner town and in order to realize this aim, the club members urge that every citizen enter actively into the clean-up campaign.

Irma Hinkle and W. K. Money Wed

An event of widespread interest to residents of Canyon and community this week was the marriage of Miss Irma Hinkle and William Kilgore Money, which was solemnized at the home of Rev. C. G. Howard, 1900 Second avenue, Monday evening, with the Rev. Mr.

Howard, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

The wedding, a very quiet affair, came as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple, and only very close friends witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. Money is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hinkle of this city and has been a resident of Canyon for more than ten years. She graduated from the West Texas High School in 1928, taking an active part in school activities. While a junior in the Canyon high school she served as editor of the Eagles Tale, the high school paper.

At the time of her marriage she was enrolled as a sophomore in West Texas State Teachers College and was a member of the staff of the Prairie, the College paper. Mrs. Money has been associated with the Canyon News for four years in the capacity of society editor.

Mr. Money is the son of Mrs. Elsie Money, pioneer resident of this community, and has been for some time associated with his mother in managing her ranch lands twenty-five miles southwest of Canyon. He is a graduate of West Texas high school, completing his work there in 1928. He is a member of the West Texas State Teachers College band.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Hereford, going from there to Carlsbad cavern and points of interest in New Mexico. They expect to return the latter part of the week, and will make their home in Canyon.

HEREFORD GUESTS HONORED
Miss Evelyn Witherspoon entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Witherspoon, Saturday evening, honoring her out-of-town guests, Miss Addene and Ralph Hastings, and Miss Marie Seed and Newt Gilliland, all of Hereford.

Dancing and bridge were the diversions of the entertaining evening. Delicious refreshments were served at an appropriate hour.

Other guests included: Miss Frances Usery, Rosemary Lewis and Winston Savage, Ernest Cabe and Lewis Shirley.

The body is being held by undersent supposed relatives for orders. Roast pork, barbecued ham, chow vices men who are expecting to meet Catawba College on Tuesday night to disposal of the body.

THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 4

CANYON, TEXAS, MARCH 13, 1930.

NUMBER 23

There's not so much happening now but the intramural tournament and that's going to be a walk-over for somebody but I don't know who.

The basketball boys got their new sweaters the other day. They are gray with purple letters on them pretty good looking, we think.

Those famous troupers (colored) are going to be here before long and they are pretty good, too. No foolin'. Mr. Elder is a riot, and what a beautiful voice he has, it will thrill you, and he is so good looking. Gee!

The glorious Canyon "Exes" are going to play Friday night after the finals of the intramural contest. They will take on the Purple Eagles and I'll bet they beat them. It ought to be a pretty good game though if it isn't too one-sided. The "Exes" have a pretty good record, better than the Eagles. I hope you don't feel hurt, as that's only my personal opinion.

Mr. Duflet's Talk Well Received at Faculty Meeting

Friday afternoon, at the faculty meeting, Mr. Duflet of the College presented a talk on personality conflicts among school children.

He stressed that teachers should be sympathetic with failing and unruly students. They should seek to find the cause of disobedience and negligence, and endeavor to overcome them by the use of intelligence rather than by other means.

Mr. Duflet is noted in the Panhandle for his speeches which permeate to human nature.

"This is one of the best speeches we have had at Canyon High School," according to Mr. Carruth.

SENIORS HOPE TO BE VICTORS IN TOURNAMENT

The Seniors so far are undefeated in the intramural tournament, and they aim to stay that way. They have a pretty good team, and if anyone beats them, they are going to have to go some. The Sophs are still undefeated, too. They have a good little team. It looks like the fight will be between the Seniors and the Sophs. Anyway, folks, come Tuesday night and you will certainly see two good games.

Instead of growling at someone else's "pull," get busy and earn one for yourself. How many of the C. H. S. students could profit by abiding by this motto? Many could be earning a "pull" for themselves while growling about someone else's pull and success in life. Try spending that time improving yourself in the ways that you are criticizing others, and notice the change in your place among others.

Rev. L. S. Colvin of Newcastle, England, set a record for ministers by marrying his 1000th couple exactly twenty-six years after he was ordained.

Intramural Games in C. H. S. Come to an End Tuesday

Each grade of Canyon High School and the pick of the grade school are staging an intramural basketball tournament. The former members of the Eagle quintet are the coaches.

The Seniors have the highest percentage, due to the great number of games they have played. "Sheik" McDaniels is their coach.

The Sophomores' team is being trained by former Captain "Hoxie" Cabe and Joe Jennings. They are undefeated.

The Juniors, with Pete Hazlewood as coach, have been defeated once.

The Freshmen and Grade have won no games. "Red" Whaley coaches them.

The standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Seniors	3	0	1.000
Sophomores	2	0	1.000
Juniors	1	1	.500
Freshmen	0	3	.000
Grades	0	2	.000

The finals will be played Tuesday night at 7:30, between the two leading teams. After this game, the ex-Eagles will play the Eagles. A doubleheader for 10 and 15 cents.

ACHIEVEMENT BOARD

"Loyalty, scholarship, achievement." Thus reads a board hung in our front hall just north of Mr. Carruth's office. Quite a number of new students wonder what this is for. It is an achievement board. There are six little gold slabs—bare—on the bottom. In the first the name Mary L. Sternberg is placed. Every year for the next five years the senior's name who is thought to excel in these three things shall be placed on this board. To have your name placed there would be an honor of which you would always be proud.

The first requirement is scholarship—that is the doing of entirely satisfactory work in your studies. To do satisfactory work, one must have a live interest in his studies. If you do not have one, naturally you must cultivate one. One must be willing, alert in the class room. He must prepare his lessons, and have them in on time.

Loyalty comes second. Are you loyal to your school when you deliberately break its rules? Is that trying to keep its standards that it has set? Are you loyal to your school when you deliberately flunk a course? Is that trying to give it a good record? So you see loyalty covers quite a field.

Last but not least comes achievement. This means, are you doing anything not required? Have you given your time and worked for football or basketball? Do you write for the paper? Do you spend an hour a week in glee club work? Are you trying to make your school noticeable in things like that?

Every senior is trying to fulfill these requirements. Even if you are but an underclassman, start such habits now, that by the time you are a senior they will be so firmly established that they will be outstanding.

After Mrs. Agnes Lauren, fortune teller in Chicago, had told Detective James Walsen he would soon be "wearing a uniform," he went to the station, put on his uniform and returned and arrested her for fraud.

You've learned how promptly Bayer Aspirin breaks a cold or relieves a headache. But you'll never know its full efficiency until you accept its welcome relief from the stubborn pain of neuralgia, or of neuritis; even of rheumatism. The times your very bones ache, then you'll be most grateful for genuine Aspirin. It always helps, and never harms. Identify it by Bayer on the box and on every tablet.

Project Hike Is Feature of Week For Girl Scouts

Saturday the Girl Scouts enjoyed a project meeting. This hike was arranged by Mary Orton as a question on her first class test. Recently Mary completed her entire second class test.

On this hike everyone had to pass at least one question. Quite a few passed their signaling. The Morse wig-wag was used. Nature lore and trail work was completed and reported to Scout Mistress O'Donald by three or four. They did not all complete their work, as there was not time to do so. A hearty lunch was spread and rapidly consumed by Girl Scouts.

LOUISE ELKINS ENTERTAINS

Louise Elkins entertained a group of friends with a party Friday evening at her home on Sixth avenue. A number of interesting games were played. "Knock for Love" seeming to be the most outstanding.

About 10:30, delightful refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, punch and cake were served to the following guests: Christina Crawford, Zella Weithley, Lilla Beth Burroughs, Beulah Ballengee, Eulalie Moore, Helen Reeves, Maxine Middleton, Evelynne Irons, Bernice Dubbs, Myrtle Cates, Kate Barnett, George Braseul, R. J. Hurst, Dale Bowman, Ray Long, Pat McCormick, Elvert Laughery, Eugene Brian, Robert Black, Harold Gill, and Albert Foster.

JORDAN-FOSTER ENTERTAIN

Monday evening, Misses Jordan and Foster entertained with a delightful Saint Patrick's Day party. A green and white ensemble was carried out. Bridge followed by delightful refreshments of green and white cake, green punch, white snow pudding and mints were enjoyed thoroughly by all.

Old Family Album Portrayed by Home Ec. Dept. in Chapel

The students of Canyon High School were delightfully entertained last Thursday by the Home Economics department. The program was begun by Bettye Sternberg, who contrasted the pictures of today and the old-fashioned family album of yesterday. Then as the large pages of the treasured old book were turned, the members of a typically old-fashioned family were shown. First came O'Neal Porter as a proud young mother. Then Clarice Matthews portrayed the stern old schoolmaster very vividly. Margaret Gamble was shown as a somewhat wild girl who broke the schoolmaster's heart. An old maid, Gwendolyn Black, was exactly the opposite of Margaret—in dress and everything. The mother of the old maid was shown as Louise Wester. Then came the beautiful little bride, Margaret Tankersly, and the heroic looking groom, Nellavee Roberts. As each member was shown, Bettye Sternberg explained in detail his entire history.

The last few minutes of the chapel were given to the various classes for class meetings. Here the class meetings and coming projects were discussed.

M. T. Department of Canyon High Shows Progress

The Manual Training department of Canyon High School has turned out many beautiful and useful articles this year, in spite of the lack of tools and machinery.

Warren Whaley and Bill Strain, second year pupils, made a table recently for Mr. Carruth that simply cannot be beaten. Bill Shackelford and Vincent Lockhart made a small table for the Eagles Tale office. Earl Bond also made a table.

Those who have made cedar chests this year are: Johnny Plaster, Warren Whaley, Raymond Schmitz, Wayne Porter, Maurice Small, Wilford Taylor, and Bert Dubbs. Many others were refinished.

Also many useful small articles have been made, such as towel racks, book racks, and smoking stands.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Signs of spring are beginning to appear now. The trees are beginning to bud, the grass is getting green, and the flowers are waking from their long winter nap. But Panhandle folks don't usually see these signs of spring first. When the wind begins to blow like it has been the last week, we all know spring is nearly here. Everyone begins to spade up his flower beds and before he knows it all the dirt from the bed is in the house. When things like this begin to happen, spring is not far off.

THE EAGLE'S TALE

CANYON, TEXAS, MARCH 13, 1930.

There's not so much happening now but the intramural tournament and that's going to be a walk-over for somebody but I don't know who.

The basketball boys got their new sweaters the other day. They are gray with purple letters on them pretty good looking, we think.

Those famous troupers (colored) are going to be here before long and they are pretty good, too. No foolin'. Mr. Elder is a riot, and what a beautiful voice he has, it will thrill you, and he is so good looking. Geef!

The glorious Canyon "Exes" are going to play Friday night after the finals of the intramural contest. They will take on the Purple Eagles and I'll bet they beat them. It ought to be a pretty good game though if it isn't too one-sided. The "Exes" have a pretty good record, better than the Eagles. I hope you don't feel hurt, as that's only my personal opinion.

Intramural Games in C. H. S. Come to an End Tuesday

Each grade of Canyon High School and the pick of the grade school are staging an intramural basketball tournament. The former members of the Eagle quintet are the coaches.

The Seniors have the highest percentage, due to the great number of games they have played. "Sheik" McDaniels is their coach.

The Sophomores' team is being trained by former Captain "Hoxie" Cabe and Joe Jennings. They are undefeated.

The Juniors, with Pete Hazlewood as coach, have been defeated once.

The Freshmen and Grade have won no games. "Red" Whaley coaches them.

The standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Seniors	3	0	1.000
Sophomores	2	0	1.000
Juniors	1	1	.500
Freshmen	0	3	.000
Grades	0	2	.000

The finals will be played Tuesday night at 7:30, between the two leading teams. After this game, the ex-Eagles will play the Eagles. A doubleheader for 10 and 15 cents.

ACHIEVEMENT BOARD

"Loyalty, scholarship, achievement." This reads a board hung in our front hall just north of Mr. Carruth's office. Quite a number of new students wonder what this is for. It is an achievement board. There are six little gold slabs—bare on the bottom. In the first the name Mary L. Sternberg is placed. Every year for the next five years the senior's name who is thought to excel in these three things shall be placed on this board. To have your name placed there would be an honor of which you would always be proud.

The first requirement is scholarship—that is, the doing of entirely satisfactory work in your studies. To do satisfactory work, one must have a live interest in his studies. If you do not have one, naturally you must cultivate one. One must be willing, alert in the class room. He must prepare his lessons, and have them in on time.

Loyalty comes second. Are you loyal to your school when you deliberately break its rules? Is that trying to keep its standards that it has set? Are you loyal to your school when you deliberately flunk a course? Is that trying to give it a good record? So you see loyalty covers quite a field.

Last but not least comes achievement. This means, are you doing anything not required? Have you given your time and worked for football or basketball? Do you write for the paper? Do you spend an hour a week in glee club work? Are you trying to make your school noticeable in things like that?

Every senior is trying to fulfill these requirements. Even if you are but an underclassman, start such habits now, that by the time you are a senior they will be so firmly established that they will be outstanding.

After Mrs. Agnes Lauren, fortune teller in Chicago, had told Detective James Walsen he would soon be "wearing a uniform," he went to the station, put on his uniform and returned and arrested her for fraud.

Project Hike Is Feature of Week For Girl Scouts

Saturday the Girl Scouts enjoyed a project meeting. This hike was arranged by Mary Orton as a question on her first class test. Recently Mary completed her entire second class test.

On this hike everyone had to pass at least one question. Quite a few passed their signaling. The Morse wig-wag was used. Nature lore and trail work was completed and reported to Scout Mistress O'Donald by three or four. They did not all complete their work, as there was not time to do so. A hearty lunch was spread and rapidly consumed by Girl Scouts.

LOUISE ELKINS ENTERTAINS

Louise Elkins entertained a group of friends with a party Friday evening at her home on Sixth avenue. A number of interesting games were played. "Knock for Love" seeming to be the most outstanding.

About 10:30, delightful refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, punch and cake were served to the following guests: Christena Crawford, Zelia Weithley, Lilla Beth Burroughs, Beulah Ballensee, Eulalie Moore, Helen Reeves, Maxine Middleton, Evelynne Irons, Bernice Dubbs, Myrtle Cates, Kate Barnett, George Braseul, R. J. Hurst, Dale Bowman, Ray Long, Pat McCormick, Elvert Laughery, Eugene Brian, Robert Black, Harold Gill, and Albert Foster.

JORDAN-FOSTER ENTERTAIN

Monday evening, Misses Jordan and Foster entertained with a delightful Saint Patrick's Day party. A green and white ensemble was carried out. Bridge followed by delightful refreshments of green and white cake, green punch, white snow pudding and mints were enjoyed thoroughly by all.

Walter Condon of Leeds, England, was sent to prison for a month for sticking pins into his mother-in-law.

Old Family Album Portrayed by Home Ec. Dept. in Chapel

The students of Canyon High School were delightfully entertained last Thursday by the Home Economics department. The program was begun by Bettye Sternberg, who contrasted the pictures of today and the old-fashioned family album of yesterday. Then as the large pages of the treasured old book were turned, the members of a typically old-fashioned family were shown. First came O'Neal Porter as a proud young mother. Then Clarice Matthews portrayed the stern old schoolmaster very vividly. Margaret Gamble was shown as a somewhat wild girl who broke the schoolmaster's heart. An old maid, Gwendolyn Black, was exactly the opposite of Margaret—in dress and everything. The mother of the old maid was shown as Louise Wester. Then came the beautiful little bride, Margaret Tankersly, and the heroic looking groom, Nellavee Roberts. As each member was shown, Bettye Sternberg explained in detail his entire history.

The last few minutes of the chapel were given to the various classes for class meetings. Here the class meetings and coming projects were discussed.

TWO FLAGPOLES TO BE SENIOR CLASS GIFT

TWO POLES ARE TO COST
NEAR $500.00.

One to Be Placed on Athletic Field;
the Other to Be Near Ad Building.

Marking the end of a period of debates, secret discussion groups, and much cogitation and financial figuring on the part of the senior class of 1930 came the decision on the senior class gift which was reached in class meeting last Tuesday morning.

After due consideration of the weighty project an almost unanimous vote was cast favoring two substantial, much-needed flag poles, each to cost approximately $250.00 when completed.

The gift is especially appropriate in one sense, for on a certain day in the first part of April some four years ago a more or less patriotic celebration known as Class Rush day caused much consternation and excitement among certain present-day dignitaries who were then merely uneducated "slimes." During that celebration, by some hook or crook the mystery of which has never been entirely brought to light, the flag pole south of the Ad building was spirited away and has since never been heard of. Whether the fault lay with the "fish" or the Sophs was not divulged, and for four long years Old Glory has not shed a protecting influence over the campus of W. T.

Before the end of the spring quarter, however, the national emblem will have two of the finest flag poles it is possible to construct from which to float. Mr. R. A. Terrill of the manual arts department is now at work on the designs for the poles, actual work on which will be begun shortly.

News in Canyon 25 Years Ago

(From the files of the Canyon City News, March 10, 1905.)

A fair spring rain fell south of town Saturday.

The News force has been very busy this week getting matters ready to run the printing presses by power.

John Crawford and wife went to Tulsa Friday evening to see his mother, who is reported to be very sick.

The Hereford Brand records the wedding at that place March 1, of County Judge Russell and Miss Nora A. Daniel.

Born, Friday, to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stratton, a son.

J. A. Wansley sold his horse to the county clerk of Erath county and shipped him Friday.

Mrs. Bomier, of Brenham, who has been on an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. J. W. Cummings, returned home Friday.

To date the president of the board of trade has received some sixty letters from all over the states inquiring about Canyon City and vicinity. Monday brought two of these, one from York, Neb., and the other from Greenwich, N. J.

Three Floyd county men, L. D. Gentry, W. P. Alexander and J. J. Park, were at Canyon Ceta Stock Farm March 2, and purchased from C. T. DeGaffenreid seven registered Hereford bulls ranging in age from seven to fifteen months. The price averaged $104 per head.

Mr. I. L. Hunt, formerly cashier of the First National bank of Lubbock, but now of Fort Worth, was a visitor in our city Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie George of Wolf City is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Black. B. D. Oldham, formerly in the hardware business here, was knocking about town shaking hands with friends and old acquaintances Friday of last week.

Sunny Hill News

The Senior B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church of Happy rendered a program here Sunday afternoon, followed by a sermon by Rev. T. D. Sumrall. The program was as follows:

Subject: "The Popularity of the Bible."

1. Introduction, Mr. Bill Thomas.
2. More Popular Than Other Sacred Books, Miss Mattie Hudson.
3. Bible Supreme in Popularity, Merle Claiborne.
4. Other Evidence of Popularity, Juanita Claiborne.
5. Basis of Bible Popularity, Miss Nannie Hand.

Roy, Jr., and Joe Byrd of Amarillo have been visiting in the O. M. Scott home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Roby, Ernest and Elora Duncan, were guests in the I. H. Hollabaugh home Saturday night.

Mrs. C. O. Hayes and family, Everett and Birtie Belle Culp visited Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knox Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Currie left this week for an extended visit in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Don Yates visited the school Thursday afternoon of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Yates and children were dinner guests in the Johnnie Davis home Sunday.

Mr. H. E. Knox is on the sick list this week.

Among those who were in Canyon Saturday from this community were: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Knox, Mrs. Carter and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knox.

George Scheaffeur and Melvin Miller made a trip to New Mexico Sunday, returning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kuehn and family visited in Canyon Sunday. Clark Neff and Walter Kuehn made a business trip to Lubbock Friday.

Konjola Wins Triumphs Every Day Everywhere

New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count.

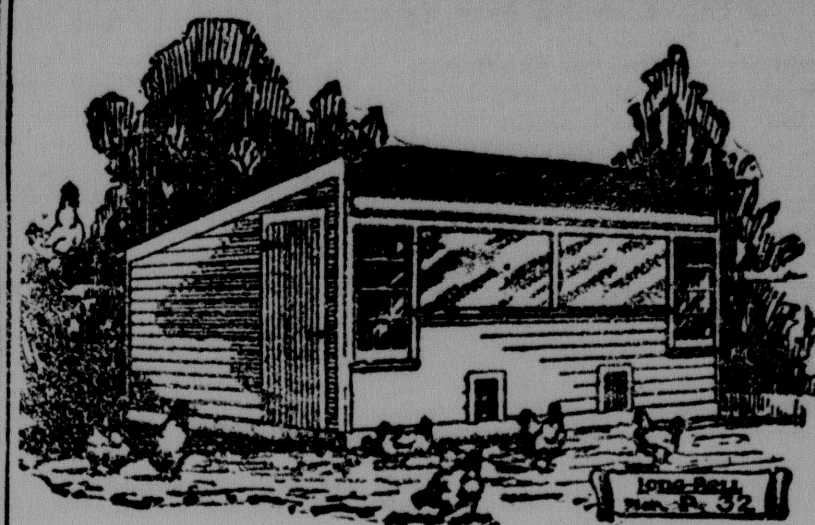

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT

Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say:

"Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and every one was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better, and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Canyon at Jarrett's Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Most of us know from doleful experience what it means to be "broke." But did we profit by our experience? Often a man gains more wisdom from being "broke" than from years of handling large sums of money.

Increase Your Poultry Profits

WEATHER-PROOF, well-ventilated poultry houses keep chickens healthy. A healthy chicken lays more eggs. So the surest way to increase your income from chickens and eggs is to see that the chickens are properly sheltered.

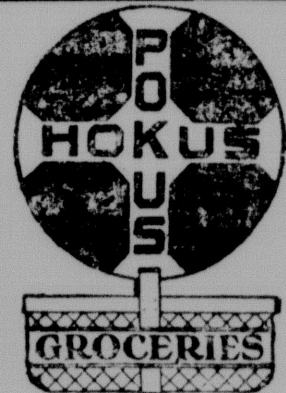

Let us tell you how to build the right kind of poultry house at moderate cost. New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count.

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT

Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say:

"Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and every one was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better, and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Canyon at Jarrett's Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

"It's Wonderful to Feel Like I Do"

Amarillo Woman Declares She Owes Present Good Health to Orgatone (Argotane); Gains Eleven Pounds.

"For more than two years before I began taking Orgatone (Argotane), I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," said Mrs. E. R. Pigg, who resides at 2403 Sanborn Avenue, Amarillo, Texas.

"When I began taking Orgatone (Argotane)," Mrs. Pigg continued, "my entire system seemed to be all run-down. My back would sometimes hurt me so I could hardly stand up. I had no appetite, could not eat much of anything, and of course got badly run-down. I also had a great deal of trouble with gas pains and would try everything I could hear of for these troubles, but kept on suffering just the same. My strength and general health was leaving me all the time. I felt tired and worn out from one day's end to the other, and was hardly able to attend to my household duties.

"But it is all different now since I began taking Orgatone (Argotane). It is really wonderful the way it has built me up. Why, do you know I have already gained eleven pounds in weight on only three bottles, and am strong enough to do my housework with ease. I can get around now without those aches or pains and actually feel better than I have in years. It is certainly wonderful to feel well like I do now all the time and I am glad to have the privilege of making this statement because I believe it will be the cause of others getting relief."

Genuine Orgatone (Argotane) may be bought in Canyon at the Jarrett Drug Store.

BARNETT AND HIBBETS VISIT 15 SCHOOLS

INSPECTORS SPEND WEEK INSPECTING SCHOOLS OF HALL COUNTY; FIND COMMENDABLE WORK BEING DONE.

Miss Anna Hibbets and Dr. Albert Barnett returned to Canyon last Friday after having spent a week in Hall county inspecting and visiting the schools of that county. They report that they made visitations to fifteen schools while in the county.

This trip is the second of its kind that has been made by members of the W. T. faculty this year. The purpose of the trip was to afford Miss Hibbets and Dr. Barnett an opportunity to: 1. Ascertain the type of problems confronting the teachers; 2. Ascertain whether or not the points stressed in education courses are being utilized; 3. Offer new ideas on various subjects; 4. Make helpful suggestions that will improve upon the systems needing such; 5. Make contact with teachers in the field, school boards, and civic groups.

The visitors report that they found excellent work being done in almost all the schools they visited and found only one common handicap bothering the teacher of the county, that being the irregular attendance during the cotton-picking season.

Many W. T. ex-students were found doing commendable work in the several systems visited. "Especially," said Dr. Barnett, "is Dr. Lee Gilmore, superintendent of Turkey schools, doing fine work; he has developed one of the best systems in the county."

It is believed that visits of this kind will be extremely profitable to both the schools visited and to those making the visits. The faculty members making the visits may check their own courses as well as assist the teachers in the field.

Old Currency Will Soon Be Novelty

The federal reserve banks are calling in all the old size currency and within a month's time very little of it will be in circulation. As soon as it is brought into the local banks it is sent to the federal reserve banks and replaced by the new currency. Now is the time to frame one of the old bills and keep it as a souvenir for it won't be long until they will be a novelty.

NOTES BY THE WAY

When a reader finds something in his newspaper about hormones and vitamins and calories and food units, and so on, I advise him to read it, especially if its author is known as reputable. I believe in one learning everything he can of the care of the body and the maintenance of health. But I prefer to talk about the common, everyday things, believing that I shall be the better understood by a greater number of my people.

I recall a friend of mine who became a faddist; he was so sure that people dressed too heavily in cold weather; he was absolutely certain that warm, comfortable clothing shortened life—and that folks "dug their graves with their teeth," and he even went to the other extreme with even worse results to himself.

He ate only two meals a day—a light breakfast and a very heavy "dinner" any time between four and six o'clock; he went without an overcoat in the lowest temperatures, wore no vest; believed in all-the-year-around suitings. He also believed that, with proper "physical culture," a man needn't ever be sick.

He took strenuous "exercises" and plenty of cold baths, and, up to a certain point, he seemed in wonderful vigor and endurance. He was about sixty-two years old; had retired from active duty.

He had quite a bit of hardening of the arteries, and was of spare build. His blood pressure was somewhat over normal for a man of his age, and my modest warnings he took as just so many words wasted, even though he regarded me as a very good physician, one of the few in whom he had any confidence.

I was shocked at his sudden death in Lincoln, Neb., some time ago; a "stroke" of paralysis cut him down. Here was a man who, with rational care of himself, might have been alive and as well as I am—today. There is no argument in favor of the faddist, nor against right living. Our bodies must be kept comfortable at all times, especially those of fifty years and beyond.

Uncle Si Tinklepaugh says there's one good thing about this Russian attack on religion; it gives a lot of preachers something to preach against without making their congregations sore.

When her house caught fire, Mrs. Carl Coppola of Rockford, Ill., leaned from an upper window and tossed her month-old baby into the arms of a passerby. She then jumped and was uninjured.

Everything You Demand In a Combine Harvester

Advance-Rumely's reputation for quality power farming machinery is the result of nearly a century's conscientious effort to give to farmers the type of machinery that will stand many years of hard service at the lowest possible cost.

The outstanding feature of the Advance-Rumely Combine Harvester is its extreme simplicity. It has fewer moving parts than any other combine harvester. This makes it easy to care for, adjust and operate. All moving parts have a comparatively slow speed. This makes for durability and easy running. While light in weight, it is amply strong to be rigid and durable.

This extreme simplicity coupled with slow speeds and properly balanced weight gives you a machine that has made good in every part of the grain growing world.

Come in and let us show you the many quality features of the Advance-Rumely Combine Harvester, also Rumely Oil Pull Tractors, and Rumely Do-All Tractors.

Advance-Rumely's reputation for quality power farming machinery is the result of nearly a century's conscientious effort to give to farmers the type of machinery that will stand many years of hard service at the lowest possible cost.

The outstanding feature of the Advance-Rumely Combine Harvester is its extreme simplicity. It has fewer moving parts than any other combine harvester. This makes it easy to care for, adjust and operate. All moving parts have a comparatively slow speed. This makes for durability and easy running. While light in weight, it is amply strong to be rigid and durable.

This extreme simplicity coupled with slow speeds and properly balanced weight gives you a machine that has made good in every part of the grain growing world.

Come in and let us show you the many quality features of the Advance-Rumely Combine Harvester, also Rumely Oil Pull Tractors, and Rumely Do-All Tractors.

Amazed! Way Tanlac Relieves "Rheumatism"

For years the remarkable results obtained from Tanlac in the treatment of general rundown conditions have amazed its users, but most surprising of all is the quick relief this remarkable medicine gives in cases of "rheumatism" and stomach ills that yield to nothing else.

Men and women who thought themselves beyond human aid, who suffered for years with pains from stomach and bowel troubles, neuritis, chronic headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, constipation, who saw themselves daily going down into a sickly early old age have through the amazing stimulating and cleansing action of this REAL MEDICINE, Tanlac, found themselves once more in the possession of a strong healthy stomach and a body free from pain. One user says, "I suffered tortures from muscular rheumatism but after taking Tanlac for a couple of weeks I was over the rheumatism, my kidneys acting fine, my digestion in apple-pie order." Try it—get a bottle from the nearest druggist. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back. Accept no substitute.

Konjola Wins Triumphs Every Day Everywhere

New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count.

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT
Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say:

"Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and every one was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better, and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Canyon at Jarrett's Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Amazed! Way Tanlac Relieves "Rheumatism"

For years the remarkable results obtained from Tanlac in the treatment of general rundown conditions have amazed its users, but most surprising of all is the quick relief this remarkable medicine gives in cases of "rheumatism" and stomach ills that yield to nothing else.

Men and women who thought themselves beyond human aid, who suffered for years with pains from stomach and bowel troubles, neuritis, chronic headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, constipation, who saw themselves daily going down into a sickly early old age have through the amazing stimulating and cleansing action of this REAL MEDICINE, Tanlac, found themselves once more in the possession of a strong healthy stomach and a body free from pain. One user says, "I suffered tortures from muscular rheumatism, but after taking Tanlac for a couple of weeks I was over the rheumatism, my kidneys acting fine, my digestion in apple-pie order." Konjola Wins Triumphs Every Day Everywhere

New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count.

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT
Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say:

"Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and every one was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better, and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Canyon at Jarrett's Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

At the Cross-Roads of Health

SSS has meant a new day to many a person

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "none"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"My despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skin blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? . . . happily the day came and I found the right road to Health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

SSS. You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Phillips 66

Leave your car outside all night if you have to—but be sure you've fueled with Phillips 66. Take the wheel in the morning—touch the starter—and "get gone"! Phillips 66 overcomes the cold weather starting bugaboo—because its volatility is controlled to fit the season and the climate. It's an action gasoline—with a power complex—and a sweet mileage record. Yet it costs no more. For best results try a full tank of Phillips . . . or Phillips 66 Ethyl.

The Windbag

And so, the Ides of March are almost with us, whatever they are. Folks, publicity is the stuff and if it had not been for the noted writer, "B" hakespeare, the Ides of March might never have amounted to much in the public eye.

And speaking of the Ides of March reminds us that spring is here and along with it the winds and sandstorms. I am sure that the Windbag will not be what it should be this week because of the severe competition offered by the wind during the past few days.

Here of late I have an incessant desire to do handstands every once in a while as well as school hop a few blocks every morning early. That's a sign that spring is here and that I'm not so old, after all.

The Young Squirt in the back shop states that the reason radio has become so popular among the women is that they naturally have a desire to listen all the time, anyway.

Won't anybody learn anything, after all? The newspapers have for the past few days been telling of the innumerable cases of illness in Oklahoma City caused from drinking poisoned cake. It's a shame when supposedly intelligent people will drink the stuff, not knowing what it may contain, and risk their lives for the desire of just a drink. No good was ever gained by drinking bootleg and only a wall of death and injured lives, bodies and minds are the results.

With bowed heads this nation mourns the passing of two men who have saved their nation as judges on the supreme court bench during the past few years.

Strange it is that death claimed Edward T. Sanford only a few hours prior to the passing of William Howard Taft, former president and former chief justice of the supreme court, on the day that marked the 89th milestone in the life of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who is the oldest member of the supreme court.

The other day a friend of mine passed through town and dropped by the house to see me. He hadn't had the opportunity to meet the Madam since we've been hitched up, and after the gent had left, which was before dinner, the Madam said, "Why did you tell Joe you married me because I'm a wonderful cook? I can't boil a potato!" "But I had to give him some excuse," said I.

BAPTIST CHURCH

9:45 a. m. Sunday school, Prof. J. S. Humphreys, superintendent.
11 a. m. morning worship. Sermon by pastor.

7 p. m. B. Y. P. U. meeting. Doris Cheyne, director.
8 p. m. evening worship. Sermon by pastor.

Remarks: Subject for the Sunday night sermon is, "Is the Punishment of the Wicked Eternal?" An inquiry into the final state of the lost.

This is the last message of the special series of sermons on "Life's Tomorrow." The pastor appreciates the many expressions of interest in the sermons delivered. Men ought to live in view of two worlds. We should give our best to this life; we should make the best neighbor possible, the best citizen possible, remembering the life to come and our citizenship in the land of unfading day.

The Bible doctrine of hell is being neglected. Hear the message Sunday night. A cordial welcome to everybody.

C. G. HOWARD, Pastor.

Greenville, South Carolina. I served as Private, Corporal and Sergeant and was discharged as First Lieutenant Signal Corps United States Army. My service was with my division in Belgium and Northern France. I participated in what was known as the Hindenburg Line Crash in September 1918 up around Albert, Brancourt and La Selle river. After the Armistice was signed I was put in charge of the Message Center at Le Mans, where I served until May, 1919, when I was assigned to the American Relief Administration, under Mr. Herbert Hoover. I was sent to Armenia, Turkey, and the East Coast country on a special mission and was returned to the United States and discharged from the service at my request in New York in October, 1919. For a year thereafter I served as Legal Assistant on the Claims Board, War Department, Transportation Section (Dent Act) until 1920. In early 1921 I entered the practice again in Birmingham, Alabama, where I remained until 1925, when I came west on account of my wife's health and I have been here since.

On the railroad I learned that most everybody was the "Boss" and in the Army it was still worse and in public office there can be but one "Boss" and that Boss is the people whom the public officer serves in accordance with the laws and constitution of his state and nation. When I promise you to do my full duty under the law and to conduct myself properly and set the proper example for law enforcement I have promised you to do all that can be done by your servant. Having been raised poor and to work for my living I have the highest regard for the precious liberties of all the people and especially the poor and weak and I do not believe that it is the right of any public officer to oppress anyone regardless of their station in life. The law knows no favorites and is applicable to the most influential as well as the poorest urchin and my conception of the law is "Not persecution but protection to the person, property and rights of all the people."

Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated by

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scrutchins of Canyon were delightfully entertained with a bountiful dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. O. M. Shore of Hereford, Tuesday, in celebration of Mr. Scrutchins' birthday anniversary.

The table was laden with all manner of good things, with a huge white cake, lettered with colored icing, in the center. Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Scrutchins of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Branton, L. H. and William Shore of Hereford, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Shore.

METHODIST W. M. S. MEETS

Mrs. G. W. McGowan was a charming hostess to thirty members of the Methodist Missionary Society at her home Tuesday, March 11. The program was conducted by Mesdames A. W. Sternberg, William Ash and M. B. Orton. Delectable refreshments were served by the hostess at the tea hour.

The local missionary society will not hold its regular meeting next Tuesday because of the meeting of the W. M. S. in Amarillo on that date.

The annual conference of the society is to meet in Plainview, March 20, and all members are urged to attend.

OLDHAMS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Oldham delightfully entertained a number of friends with bridge at their home Wednesday evening. The St. Patrick's day motif was attractively carried out in the tallies and refreshment plates.

Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Foster, Mr. and Mrs. George Nance, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dowlin, Miss Mayme Dunaway, Miss Gladys Beavers, Miss Lorena Frieze, Dr. H. G. Grainger, and Dr. E. J. Cundiff.

HOUSE GUEST HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bellah entertained a number of friends with a delightful party at their home Friday evening, honoring Miss Lucille Hicks, their house guest.

"Forty-two" was the chosen diversion for the evening, and at the conclusion of the games Miss Fay Rucker and Lloyd Harris held high scores. Miss Lucille Hix gave several enjoyable song numbers during the evening.

Guests present included: Miss Hicks, the honoree; Misses Marie Knapp, Martha Hix, Flo Atkins, Fay Rucker, Rosemary Lewis, Lucille Hix, Margaret Strain, and Julia Bellah; and Messrs. Milton Morris, Tim Daugherty, Robin Byars, Jack Jarrell, George Cantrell, Bill Strain and Lloyd Harris.

Delicious refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

Miss Ruth Pearl Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Knight of Canyon, who is teaching music in the Panhandle studio of the Amarillo College of Music, recently assisted in rendering a program from an Amarillo broadcasting station.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin and family, and Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Dickerson and family, all of Canyon, and W. A. Dickerson of Silverton, spent the week end in Lubbock visiting in the R. M. Dickerson home.

The Windbag

And so, the Ides of March are almost with us, whatever they are. Folks, publicity is the stuff and if it had not been for the noted writer, Bi' Shakespeare, the Ides of March might never have amounted to much in the public eye.

And speaking of the Ides of March reminds us that spring is here and along with it the winds and sandstorms. I am sure that the Windbag will not be what it should be this week because of the severe competition offered by the wind during the past few days.

Here of late I have an incessant desire to do handspins every once in a while as well as school hop a few blocks every morning early. That's a sign that spring is here and that I'm not so old after all.

The Young Squirt in the back shop states that the reason radio has become so popular among the women is that they naturally have a desire to listen all the time, anyway.

Won't anybody learn anything, after all? The newspapers have for the past few days been telling of the innumerable cases of illness in Oklahoma City caused from drinking poisoned jake. It's a shame when supposedly intelligent people will drink the stuff, not knowing what it may contain, and risk their lives for the desire of just a drink. No good was ever gained by drinking bootleg and only a wall of death and injured lives, bodies and minds are the results.

With bowed heads this nation mourns the passing of two men who have saved their nation as judges on the supreme court bench during the past few years.

Strange it is that death claimed Edward T. Sanford only a few hours prior to the passing of William Howard Taft, former president and former chief justice of the supreme court, on the day that marked the 89th milestone in the life of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who is the oldest member of the supreme court.

The other day a friend of mine passed through town and dropped by the house to see me. He hadn't had the opportunity to meet the Madam since we've been hitched up, and after the gent had left, which was before dinner, the Madam said, "Why did you tell Joe you married me because I'm a wonderful cook? I can't boil a potato!" "But I had to give him some excuse," said I.

BAPTIST CHURCH

9:45 a. m. Sunday school, Prof. J. S. Humphreys, superintendent.

11 a. m. morning worship. Sermon by pastor.

7 p. m. B. Y. P. U. meeting. Doris Cheyne, director.

8 p. m. evening worship. Sermon by pastor.

Remarks: Subject for the Sunday night sermon is, "Is the Punishment of the Wicked Eternal?" An inquiry into the final state of the lost.

This is the last message of the special series of sermons on "Life's Tomorrows." The pastor appreciates the many expressions of interest in the sermons delivered. Men ought to live in view of two worlds. We should give our best to this life; we should make the best neighbor possible, the best citizen possible, remembering the life to come and our citizenship in the land of unfading day.

The Bible doctrine of hell is being neglected. Hear the message Sunday night. A cordial welcome to everybody.

C. G. HOWARD, Pastor.

Greenville, South Carolina. I served as Private, Corporal and Sergeant and was discharged as First Lieutenant Signal Corps United States Army. My service was with my division in Belgium and Northern France. I participated in what was known as the Hindenburg Line Crash in September 1918 up around Albert, Brancourt and La Selle river. After the Armistice was signed I was put in charge of the Message Center at Le Mans, where I served until May, 1919, when I was assigned to the American Relief Administration, under Mr. Herbert Hoover. I was sent to Armenia, Turkey, and the East Coast country on a special mission and was returned to the United States and discharged from the service at my request in New York in October, 1919. For a year thereafter I served as Legal Assistant on the Claims Board, War Department, Transportation Section (Dent Act) until 1920. In early 1921 I entered the practice again in Birmingham, Alabama, where I remained until 1925, when I came west on account of my wife's health and I have been here since.

On the railroad I learned that most everybody was the "Boss" and in the Army it was still worse and in public office there can be but one "Boss" and that Boss is the people whom the public officer serves in accordance with the laws and constitution of his state and nation. When I promise you to do my full duty under the law and to conduct myself properly and set the proper example for law enforcement I have promised you to do all that can be done by your servant. Having been raised poor and to work for my living I have the highest regard for the precious liberties of all the people and especially the poor and weak and I do not believe that it is the right of any public officer to oppress anyone regardless of their station in life. The law knows no favorites and is applicable to the most influential as well as the poorest urchin and my conception of the law is "Not persecution but protection to the person, property and rights of all the people."

Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated by

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scrutins of Canyon were delightfully entertained with a bountiful dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. O. M. Shore of Hereford, Tuesday, in celebration of Mr. Scrutins' birthday anniversary.

The table was laid with all manner of good things, with a huge white cake, lettered with colored icing, in the center. Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Scrutins of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Branton, L. H. and William Shore of Hereford, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Shore.

METHODIST W. M. S. MEETS

Mrs. G. W. McGowan was a charming hostess to thirty members of the Methodist Missionary Society at her home Tuesday, March 11. The program was conducted by Mesdames A. W. Sternberg, William Ash and M. B. Orton. Delectable refreshments were served by the hostess at the tea hour.

The local missionary society will not hold its regular meeting next Tuesday because of the meeting of the W. M. S. in Amarillo on that date.

The annual conference of the society is to meet in Plainview, March 20, and all members are urged to attend.

OLDHAMS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Oldham delightfully entertained a number of friends with bridge at their home Wednesday evening. The St. Patrick's day motif was attractively carried out in the tallies and refreshment plates.

Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Foster, Mr. and Mrs. George Nance, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dowlin, Miss Mayme Dunaway, Miss Gladys Beavers, Miss Lorena Frieze, Dr. H. G. Grainger, and Dr. E. J. Cundiff.

HOUSE GUEST HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bellah entertained a number of friends with a delightful party at their home Friday evening, honoring Miss Lucille Hicks, their house guest.

"Forty-two" was the chosen diversion for the evening, and at the conclusion of the games Miss Pay Rucker and Lloyd Harris held high scores. Miss Lucille Hix gave several enjoyable song numbers during the evening.

Guests present included: Miss Hicks, the honoree; Misses Marie Knapp, Martha Hix, Flo Atkins, Pay Rucker, Rosemary Lewis, Lucille Hix, Margaret Strain, and Julia Bellah; and Messrs. Milton Morris, Tim Daugherty, Robin Byars, Jack Jarrell, George Cantrell, Bill Strain and Lloyd Harris.

Delicious refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

Miss Ruth Pearl Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Knight of Canyon, who is teaching music in the Panhandle studio of the Amarillo College of Music, recently assisted in rendering a program from an Amarillo broadcasting station.

A SAGA of the FRONTIER

By TROY MORRIS

(Copyright, 1930, by the Home Color Print Co.)

GENTLE breeze rippled the Clear Fork of the Brazos river that curved in and out among the foothills of Shackelford county. Before me lay a quiet and enchanting scene—of cultivated fields, peaceful homes, happy people. Automobiles buzzed along a cardinal highway—here was civilization in the nineteenth century. Yet, amid these peaceful surroundings we listened to a tale that carried us back over the gulf of time and set us down in a wilderness, where savages lurked and where life was lived from day to day without knowing what the morrow would bring forth. It was here that we heard the story of the Lee family, and the fate of Brit Johnson, a former negro slave, who allowed his love for the white race that had enslaved him to be the cause of his untimely death.

The Lee family, father and mother, one son, two daughters, and a baby, had homesteaded land nine miles from Fort Griffin, Texas, on the banks of the Clear Fork of the Brazos in the early 70's. They had cleared land, built a log-cabin home and had cultivated the fields. It was now fall and they were preparing to gather a bountiful harvest. These simple folk were a typical pioneer family who thanked God daily for their blessings, thanked Him for their peace and happiness, and for the ceasing of raids of the redskins. After a Sunday spent in spiritual meditation and rest, they arose early Monday morning. At the breakfast table the father said:

A Terrible Dream

"I must go for supplies today, mother. Without mishap I will be back tonight. You and son gather corn from the field to feed the stock and tomorrow we will start gathering the entire crop."

"I'd rather," said Mrs. Lee in a low quavering voice, "that you wouldn't go today."

"Why, mother?"

"John," she replied, "I had a terrible dream last night, and even this morning I can't shake it off. I walked out from the house, down through the corn field and to the banks of the river. As I stood there looking down at the clear waters I heard a rustling sound. Turning, I beheld a giant warrior by my side. He did not speak, but with outstretched hand pointed at the waters. I looked and was appalled by what I saw. The river was a river of blood."

"Just a dream, mother," laughed the man. "What danger can there be? The soldiers are only nine miles away and the murderous Comanches long since have been corralled in the Indian Territory."

"Perhaps you are right. I am nervous, a little unstrung," replied the woman as she busied herself clearing away the breakfast dishes, while John Lee strode from the house and hitched a team to a big heavy wagon. It was a long, slow trip, and he must get started early. He kissed his family good-bye, promising a speedy return.

But for that family the waters did turn to blood and the father never looked on their living faces again.

The Dreaded War Cry

With her son, 14 years old, the mother, after instructing the girls as to the noon-day meal, and leaving the baby in their care, repaired to the corn field, where she and her son commenced to gather corn. They worked rapidly and talked but little. Nearing the end of the field that butted on the river bank they paused to rest, wondering why a small herd of cattle that seemed frightened were running alongside the field fence. Turning around to look in the opposite direction, Mrs. Lee beheld the hideous face of a Comanche Indian staring at her through parted corn stalks. The load of corn fell from her apron, and she and her son fled. Behind them rose the dreaded war cry, as a score of painted warriors swiftly pursued.

Within a hundred feet of her home Mrs. Lee screamed a warning to her two daughters, but that was her last cry, for a shower of arrows ended the race and both mother and son were dead before the savages reached them.

Advancing upon the home, the savages found doors locked and bolted, but they soon battered down a door. Crouching in the corner of a room were were far away from the scene of butchery.

John Lee, returning at night with supplies, suddenly ceased to whistle as he came in view of his little home. All was darkness, and there was no light in the windows. That was unlike his wife, for she always "waited up" to greet him upon his return. He urged the mules forward and, coming closer to the house, called to his wife, but there was no answer. Then he saw the door was ajar. With heart beating fast, he leaped from the wagon and rushed inside the house.

By the flare of a match he saw the baby lying in a pool of its own blood. He searched for other members of his family and eventually found the murdered wife and son.

Soldiers Pursue Redskins

Soldiers from Fort Griffin pursued the Indians, but they had covered their trail well and pursuit seemed a hopeless task. They escaped and had taken with them the two Lee girls as captives.

Several months after the massacre of members of the Lee family a big, black negro rode into the post at Fort Griffin and asked to see the general. "General," he said, when he had been admitted to his presence, "my name is Brit Johnson and I am an adopted member of the Comanche Indians."

"That's a poor recommendation," replied the soldier.

"Yas, suh, but I is fell out wid dem red devils, and I comes to tell you dey has a white girl wich dey is holding—got her married to one of de chiefs."

Like a flash the murder of the Lee family came before the soldier's eyes. Next morning a detachment of cavalry rode out of Fort Griffin to an Indian village and rescued the Lee girl. It was a horrible tale she told, and on her evidence several of the Indians were punished.

The Comanches realized that information of the Lee family massacre had been disclosed by the negro, Brit Johnson, and they sent him a message that they would kill him on sight, but the black was courageous and did not fear them. However, he went armed and took every precaution, for he realized if caught at a disadvantage the Comanches would murder him. Especially did he fear to meet them on Salt Creek prairie in his going to and from Jacksboro, therefore he always tried to cross this prairie in company with white men.

Johnson Dies Gamely

But a month later he was compelled to make the trip alone. He stayed in Jacksboro over night and set out early next morning. Mounted on a good horse, he believed he could escape if attacked by an overwhelming number of Indians. As he neared the Salt Creek prairie he broke into song.

Suddenly his horse threw up its head and snorted. He loosed his rifle from its scabbard and looked around, then rode out on the prairie. Before Johnson realized what was happening three hundred braves had surrounded him. There was no running—he must fight. He leaped from his horse, and with the hundred cartridges in his belt, he commenced firing. Indian after Indian fell before his deadly aim, but on they came.

His ammunition exhausted and badly wounded, the negro finally came to a hand-to-hand battle with the Indians. He wielded his knife right and left, but superior numbers smothered him, and hours later a stage driver found his body badly mutilated.

Pioneers took the body of the negro and gave it decent burial.

Even unto this day children of these pioneers speak reverently of Brit Johnson and will tell you that he was brave, a friend of the white race, and that he did not die in vain.

"Beheld the hideous face of a Comanche Indian staring at her through parted corn stalks" the two little girls, one holding to her breast the helpless babe.

Warriors Hold Powwow

The girls were dragged into the center of the room while the warriors held a powwow. Snatching the baby from the older girl the chief took it in his arms; scowling, he threw the baby upward, and as it came down drove a knife into its heart and cast the body to the floor. Swiftly the Indians tied the two girls on horses and, before the noon hour,

New Protection Expected for the Alamo

(New York Times.)

LARMED by impatient elbow jabs of modern commerce at the shell-scarred sides of the Alamo, Texans are planning a perpetual barrier to encroachment upon its site.

Many years ago the State acquired title to the chapel, which was originally named for San Antonio de Valero, and for a quarter of a century the courtyard also has been owned by the State. This old patio has been kept as a garden, whose western length is bounded by the ruined arches of old padres' cells—ivy-clad, and bright in blossoming queen's crown.

But a modern city has grown up around the Alamo in the cycle of years since its defenders laid down their lives for the infant republic of Texas. And commerce has no heart for sentiment. By inches, figuratively, it has crept steadily on. Vast signboards overshadow the courtyard walls, and noisy industry disturbs the poplars (alamos) and all but violates the peace the Alamo has known so long.

Today it is a journey of but 100 yards from one of San Antonio's modern skyscrapers to the Alamo. Between the Alamo and the quaint old Menger Hotel—companions of yesteryear—commerce has impressed a wedge. Now the city of San Antonio has agreed to give the site of a municipal fire station and the State has been asked to provide funds for the acquisition of other property so that a State park will envelop the old Franciscan mission.

A New Measure Planned

At this year's session of the Texas Legislature an appropriation bill was passed, almost unanimously, providing the necessary funds for the work, but because other appropriations not so popular were tagged onto it, Governor Moody vetoed the measure. The Governor has been requested to re-submit to the Fifth called session of the Legislature the subject of appropriations for purchase of the property. With funds thus obtained, together with donated property, Texas can set to work on the transformation of the Alamo's park site. They hope to complete it in time for dedication on the one hundredth anniversary of the fall of the mission on March 6, 1836, when its 182 defenders, under Lieut. Col. William Barrett Travis, went to their death rather than surrender.

The Alamo is known throughout the world today because of its fall after a thirteen-day siege by a well-equipped army of over 4,000 Mexicans under command of General Santa Anna. But it has a history all its own.

The flags of six nations have flown from the Alamo's flagstaff. First, the emblem of Spain, which was supplanted by the Tricolor of France when that nation laid claim to the territory that is now Texas. Spain re-established her government there and for a time endeavored to make possession real through colonization by crozier and sword. In 1824 Mexico revolted against Spanish rule and the Alamo hoisted the flag of the Estados Unidos Mexicanos.

Next came the flag of the Republic of Texas—the same Lone Star that by special act of Congress is today permitted equal honor with the Stars and Stripes on the State Capitol at Austin. Nine years later the American flag was unfurled beside the Lone Star, only to be supplanted by the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865. Since then Old Glory has flown in its accustomed place above the mission.

The list of Alamo heroes, embossed on bronze plates erected within the chapel, is a distinguished roll, made up of gallant men not only from Texas, but from all over the United States. Colonel Travis of Alabama had come to Texas but a short time before. There was Davy Crockett, homespun congressman from Tennessee, who headed for Texas after his defeat for re-election to congress. With a few companions he reached San Antonio just in advance of Santa Anna's arrival. En route to join the Texan army he refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republic until border officials permitted him to change the clause requiring "true allegiance to the provisional government of Texas or any future government" to read "any future republican government."

Also present was James Bowie. It was Bowie, lying mortally wounded upon a cot, who insisted that he be carried across a line drawn by Travis with his sword when the latter asked those who were willing to fight until death to cross over the line to his side.

The Last Charge

General Santa Anna demanded the surrender of the little pueblo, the key to the vast territory of Texas then in revolt against Mexico, but the Texans responded with a volley from their guns. Santa Anna's bugler then sounded the fearful daguello (no quarter)—the same bugle call heard a few months ago in the Mexican revolt at Jimenez. The siege ran on for thirteen days. Shortly after midnight of March 6, Santa Anna's overwhelming numbers began their last charge. At daybreak the last Texan died, Travis' body was lying by the western wall of the patio, facing the enemy; Crockett's was found in a room of the chapel; enemy dead were piled about the body of Bowie, half erect on his cot. Santa Anna's victory was complete—at a fearful cost of his men.

The old Alamo and its ivory-clad walls

The earlier history of the Alamo, in a carefully written record that is now part of the archives of San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio, goes back another century. Originally the Alamo is said to have been similar in design to Mission Concepcion of the San Antonio group of five, with twin towers and a magnificent dome. About 1762, 44 years after its founding, the towers collapsed because of faulty construction. At the time of the siege the roof and upper walls were missing, but they were rebuilt in 1849, when the United States government took possession of the ruins for use as a quartermaster's depot. During the Civil War the Confederate Army used the chapel for the same purpose. The convent yard was used for various commercial purposes until the patriotic organizations set about to preserve it.

Companion pieces of the Alamo are to be found in the four other missions along the banks of the San Antonio river just outside the city. In point of beauty, Mission San Jose de Aguayo takes precedence over others of Texas and the Southwest. The order for its establishment was issued in 1720, although the present stone church with its famous rose window, carved by the Spanish artist Hular, was not completed until nearly 60 years later.

The other three missions—Nuestra Senora de Concepcion Purisima de Acuna, San Juan de Capistrano and San Francisco de la Espada—are all smaller. They were relocated in San Antonio in 1731. Each one of the four structures has played a part in the military history of Texas. Concepcion, now on the outskirts of the city, was the scene of a brilliant Texas victory a few months prior to the fall of the Alamo.

Each is today the centre of a parish of brown-skinned people, Indian-Mexican in origin but proud of their many generations of American citizenship. Some of the communities, notably the cluster of parishioners around San Juan and Espada, present a replica of the life followed by their convent ancestors, following the vocations taught by the padres two hundred years ago.

Graves Still Decorated

Not only are all holy days carefully remembered and devoutly observed, but in and around the missions are quaint religious customs not to be found in other communities of the United States. On the day of the dead, or All Souls'

Day, work is suspended while families trudge along roadways, arms laden with white chrysanthemums and tuberoses, to decorate the graves of their dead. At Christmas the parishioners dramatize the Nativity with an ancient miracle play, a direct inheritance from the Middle Ages, called "Los Pastores" (The Shepherds.)

These people also have perpetuated many stories and legends. They tell each other with childish conviction that silver treasure is buried around Espada; with equal conviction they relate how ghosts of the old padres come to the well of this mission at night to draw water from it as in the past. At San Jose spirits are said to walk up and down the long arched corridor and linger at the well. Nearly every one of the parishioners knows the tale of the "secret passage" that leads out of the Alamo chapel to the springs of San Pedro, two miles away.

But while every building has its own cluster of legends and its own history of fact, none is comparable to the story of the Alamo. "Thermopylae had its messenger—the Alamo had none," yet all the world knows the story of the Alamo and its defenders.

LAND GIVEN THE STATE FOR EXPERIMENTS

A tract of six acres of land adjoining the farmstead of the black land experimental station near Temple has been purchased by the Temple Chamber of Commerce and donated to the experimental station for use in connection with soil erosion and root rot studies. The plot of land will be equipped with soil erosion tanks and plats at a cost of approximately $2,000. The equipment is of a permanent nature and will be used over a long period of years in obtaining measurements of soil erosion on the Houston clay soil type under varying conditions, together with records of the water losses from the same areas.

HIGHWAY REROUTED

State Highway Engineer Gib Gilchrist, has announced a tentative rerouting of Highway No. 5, between Henrietta and Bonham, which will effect a saving in distance of 21 miles. The distance between the two towns mentioned is 108 miles. In addition to the saving of 21 miles through the rerouting of the highway, 25 railway grade crossings are eliminated. In spite of the reduction in mileage, every town on the old route will be on the new one.

Spain re-established her government there and for a time endeavored to make possession real through colonization by crozier and sword. In 1824 Mexico revolted against Spanish rule and the Alamo hoisted the flag of the Estados Unidos Mexicanos.

Next came the flag of the Republic of Texas—the same Lone Star that by special act of Congress is today permitted equal honor with the Stars and Stripes on the State Capitol at Austin. Nine years later the American flag was unfurled beside the Lone Star, only to be supplanted by the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865. Since then Old Glory has flown in its accustomed place above the mission.

The list of Alamo heroes, embossed on bronze plates erected within the chapel, is a distinguished roll, made up of gallant men not only from Texas, but from all over the United States. Colonel Travis of Alabama had come to Texas but a short time before. There was Davy Crockett, homespun congressman from Tennessee, who headed for Texas after his defeat for re-election to congress. With a few companions he reached San Antonio just in advance of Santa Anna's arrival. En route to join the Texan army he refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republic until border officials permitted him to change the clause requiring "true allegiance to the provisional government of Texas or any future government" to read "any future republican government."

Also present was James Bowie. It was Bowie, lying mortally wounded upon a cot, who insisted that he be carried across a line drawn by Travis with his sword when the latter asked those who were willing to fight until death to cross over the line to his side.

The Last Charge

General Santa Anna demanded the surrender of the little pueblo, the key to the vast territory of Texas then in revolt against Mexico, but the Texans responded with a volley from their guns. Santa Anna's bugler then sounded the fearful daguello (no quarter)—the same bugle call heard a few months ago in the Mexican revolt at Jimenez. The siege ran on for thirteen days. Shortly after midnight of March 6, Santa Anna's overwhelming numbers began their last charge. At daybreak the last Texan died. Travis' body was lying by the western wall of the patio, facing the enemy; Crockett's was found in a room of the chapel; enemy dead were piled about the body of Bowie, half erect on his cot. Santa Anna's victory was complete—at a fearful cost of his men.

The old Alamo and its ivory-clad walls

The earlier history of the Alamo, in a carefully written record that is now part of the archives of San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio, goes back another century. Originally the Alamo is said to have been similar in design to Mission Concepcion of the San Antonio group of five, with twin towers and a magnificent dome. About 1762, 44 years after its founding, the towers collapsed because of faulty construction. At the time of the siege the roof and upper walls were missing, but they were rebuilt in 1849, when the United States government took possession of the ruins for use as a quartermaster's depot. During the Civil War the Confederate Army used the chapel for the same purpose. The convent yard was used for various commercial purposes until the patriotic organizations set about to preserve it.

Companion pieces of the Alamo are to be found in the four other missions along the banks of the San Antonio river just outside the city. In point of beauty, Mission San Jose de Aguayo takes precedence over others of Texas and the Southwest. The order for its establishment was issued in 1720, although the present stone church with its famous rose window, carved by the Spanish artist Huelcar, was not completed until nearly 60 years later.

The other three missions—Nuestra Senora de Concepcion Purisima de Acuna, San Juan de Capistrano and San Francisco de la Espada—are all smaller. They were relocated in San Antonio in 1731. Each one of the four structures has played a part in the military history of Texas. Concepcion, now on the outskirts of the city, was the scene of a brilliant Texas victory a few months prior to the fall of the Alamo.

Each is today the centre of a parish of brown-skinned people, Indian-Mexican in origin but proud of their many generations of American citizenship. Some of the communities, notably the cluster of parishioners around San Juan and Espada, present a replica of the life followed by their convent ancestors; following the vocations taught by the padres two hundred years ago.

Graves Still Decorated

Not only are all holy days carefully remembered and devoutly observed, but in and around the missions are quaint religious customs not to be found in other communities of the United States. On the day of the dead, or All Souls'

Day, work is suspended while families trudge along roadways, arms laden with white chrysanthemums and tuberoses, to decorate the graves of their dead. At Christmas the parishioners dramatize the Nativity with an ancient miracle play, a direct inheritance from the Middle Ages, called "Los Pastores" (The Shepherds.)

These people also have perpetuated many stories and legends. They tell each other with childish conviction that silver treasure is buried around Espada; with equal conviction they relate how ghosts of the old padres come to the well of this mission at night to draw water from it as in the past. At San Jose spirits are said to walk up and down the long arched corridor and linger at the well. Nearly every one of the parishioners knows the tale of the "secret passage" that leads out of the Alamo chapel to the springs of San Pedro, two miles away.

But while every building has its own cluster of legends and its own history of fact, none is comparable to the story of the Alamo. "Thermopylae had its messenger—the Alamo had none," yet all the world knows the story of the Alamo and its defenders.

LAND GIVEN THE STATE FOR EXPERIMENTS

A tract of six acres of land adjoining the farmstead of the black land experimental station near Temple has been purchased by the Temple Chamber of Commerce and donated to the experiment station for use in connection with soil erosion and root rot studies. The plot of land will be equipped with soil erosion tanks and plats at a cost of approximately $2,000. The equipment is of a permanent nature and will be used over a long period of years in obtaining measurements of soil erosion on the Houston clay soil type under varying conditions, together with records of the water losses from the same areas.

HIGHWAY REROUTED

State Highway Engineer Gib Gilchrist, has announced a tentative rerouting of Highway No. 5, between Henrietta and Bonham, which will effect a saving in distance of 21 miles. The distance between the two towns mentioned is 108 miles. In addition to the saving of 21 miles through the rerouting of the highway, 25 railway grade crossings are eliminated. In spite of the reduction in mileage, every town on the old route will be on the new one.

CURRENT COMMENT

By J. H. (JIM) LOWRY
(Copyright, 1930, by the Home Color Print Co.)

MARCH was originally the first month of the year. This order probably suited the ancients very well, but it would work horrors now. It would bring the Democratic primaries in the middle of cotton planting time, would usher in St. Patrick's Day when it was too cold for the Irish to march, and commencement time when it was too cold for the sweet girl graduates to wear chiffon gowns. We are told that March took its name from Mars, the god of war. There were pacifists in ancient Rome, but Mars was not one of them. The pacifists stood for the League of Nations, the Peace Conference and disarmament, while Mars was strong for preparedness. The pacifists argued that preparedness meant action. They argued that the woman with the most elaborate wardrobe did the most visiting, while the woman with a single gown and only one pair of silk hose hardly ever left the kitchen and children. Another favorite argument of theirs was that the fellow with the big six-shooter in his hip pocket was always the originator of the fight at the country dance or picnic. They also called the "preparedness" advocates' attention to the undeniable fact that a doctor with a fine new set of instruments would diagnose appendicitis where a doctor without instruments could find nothing more serious than a case of stomach ache. Mars always met these arguments by saying nobody would jump on a fellow who showed a big pistol or knife, while it was virtually impossible for the weakling without arms to keep people from smashing his nose or kicking his caboose side.

March has always been a very unpopular month, but it will be a little more popular this year than it was last year or the year before. The skirts have been lengthened and it will take a March wind to make the scenery equal to that of the more abbreviated skirt regime. The welcome sight of greening grass will dissipate a lot of gloom, the sunshine peering through the windows will accomplish wonders, and the playful wind toying with the lengthened skirts will cause the shapely-skinned to tarry at the crossings, while the unshapely will make them with a spurt. The sun, which has been wintering in the South, will cross the Tropic of Capricorn on the 22nd and proceed leisurely North. This will make the flowers bloom, the birds sing, and all of us will forget the short cotton crop and the recent disasters of the stock market. Before the month is over most of us will think more of the plumber, the coal dealer and the gas companies, and get ready to spill the phials of our wrath upon the ice trust. Best of all, the winter itch will become less severe as the human family quaffs large quantities of sassafras tea and gets back to a diet of young onions and greens.

March brings us the first kisses of Spring, and how welcome! When the idea of March has passed, and the sun has crossed the line of Capricorn, the red bird comes with musical throat to fill the world with the cadence of song. We look upon the dead grass in the yard and see a touch of green ready to break forth. In the flower beds the modest hyacinth is already rearing its stately banners and showing its tiny bugles, while the bolder buttercup and jonquil give forth the golden glow of the topaz. The sap in the trees is warming up, the twigs are swelling and the buds are rounding like the form of a radiant maiden of sixteen. Soon we are to see again that great miracle of life, the resurrection, in field, garden and forest. It's a time for gladness, a time for a new baptism of hope and joy. Take up the harp of life and play a song of Love.

St. Patrick's Day

March brings us St. Patrick's Day. St. Pat was a great man, but he wasn't an American, hence our banks will do business as usual and our mail deliveries will not be disrupted when his anniversary rolls around. But all of us should do the green and think kindly of the Old Sod. All people except the full-blooded Germans, Indians and French proudly claim that a little Irish blood courses their veins. To be sure every real Irishman is a born revolutionist, but he's a poet and an idealist by nature. The only kind of government he loves is the kind he can't possibly get. He's witty whether he wants to be or not, and the more serious he tries to be the more witty he becomes. Nationally he has never received a square deal, but socially he's ever been a lion.

A Look Ahead

The future is opened to many people through dreams. Occasionally I dream, and sometimes my dreams come true. I read the paper the other night and pondered much over the changes, political and otherwise, the last fifty years have brought, and then I wondered how things would be fifty years hence. With these things weighing on my mind I retired to my couch and sought restful sleep. And I dreamed. I dreamed that it was the year 1995 and I was visiting the national capitol at Washington. As I entered the Congressional Hall, Mrs. Dukie Stephens, a decided blonde, representing one of the Massachusetts districts, arose and asked recognition of the chair, which was granted by the speaker, and then Mrs. Stephens said: "I rise to present for the consideration of this body the twenty-third amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the same having received a favorable report from the committee on amendments. The amendment provided that on and after March 4, 1997, male suffrage should be abolished in the United States.

Speaking to the amendment, the congresswoman from Massachusetts said it was offered in the interest of the men. There had been adopted, a few years before, an amendment limiting male suffrage to the elections for school trustees. It had emancipated mankind partially but not wholly, and further legislation was needed for male relief. Frail man should be protected against the contaminating influences of corrupt politics so they might better perform the domestic duties for which they were by nature fitted and intended. To strengthen her contention that the exercise of the franchise by males in school trustee elections was so seriously interfering with the domestic duties of men that families were suffering and the happiness of many homes had been blighted, the speaker related an incident in her own neighborhood and within her own knowledge. Two husbands, both under 35, who were fast friends and had been known as model cooks and housekeepers, espoused the cause of different candidates for school trustee in a recent election. One day they met at the fence which separated their yards and began arguing over which of the candidates was best fitted to discharge the duties of school trustee. The argument, which was friendly and mild at first, soon became heated, and the men argued so long that the cakes they were baking for a church festival were burned, and the festival was a miserable failure, humiliating all the wives of the congregation.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Stephens' remarks a vote was taken and resulted as follows: For submitting the amendment, 433; against submitting the amendment, 19.

The regular order was then demanded and the clerk read as unfinished business Bill 87, which provided, "that hereafter no male person shall appear on any stage or in any movie or talkie production, unless such male performer shall wear a skirt reaching two inches below the knee and the neck shall not be exposed below the collar bone."

The Vision of a Poet

Many poets of latter days, like the prophets of old, were endowed with prophetic vision. The curtains that shut out the future were pushed aside and they were permitted to see the wonders that would be. Nearly one hundred years ago Lord Tennyson went back to the old schoolhouse and sat down under the shadow of his alma mater. There he battled for a time with his anger, aroused by the unfaithfulness of his first sweetheart, but after a season his soul grew weary of anger and a gentler mood came over him. He "dipped into the future." He saw the awful conflicts of nations and finally the peaceful settlements of the world's disputes in the "parliament of man," the federation of the world. It is of great interest to note that this gifted poet saw, with prophetic eye, the aerial battles waged in his own land a decade ago for possession of a continent—

"Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails, Pilots of the purple twilight dropping down
their costly bales;
Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there
rained a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue."

The prophecies of the great poet have been fulfilled in part. His vision of battles in the air is a cold reality which forms a lengthy chapter in the history of the world's greatest war. And the Peace Conference, the League of Nations, the limiting of battleships and armies and the desire to outlaw war by most of the nations leave no room to doubt that we are soon to see the brighter side of the poet's picture, when "the war drum throbs no longer," when "the battle flags are furled" and "common sense shall hold a fretful realm in awe."

Grand Opera

The country has passed through another grand opera season, and those who had the price and the clothes have had all the savagery worked out of their breasts and their souls filled with noblest aspirations by the heavenly symphonies. To those who do not know, I volunteer the information that grand opera is singing. Not every person who has watched the convolutions of a grand opera star knew the star was singing, but that was what the star was doing. Grand opera singing is the best singing there is. It doesn't sound the best, but it is the best. The best medicine doesn't taste good, neither does the best singing have a pleasing sound, but medicine and music must be judged by what they do for a person, and not by their taste or sound.

Congress and the Legislatures of several States are now in session. In the corridors of the National and State Houses are many lobbyists, trying to push through pet measures. Many of these lobbyists are women. Some of them get results and some do not. I pause here to give the women folk who have measures to put through the law-making bodies a little unsolicited advice. When you send a committee to appear before the law-makers, leave the brainy women in spectacles and old-time gowns at home and send a delegation of the effeminate young things with pink cheeks and witching ways. An energetic buttonhole-bouquet lobby of this description will get a measure through both houses in a jiffy. Legislators who look coldly on petitions and listen with indifference to logical arguments will melt down before coquettish glances and tender appeals like a pan of cookies at the mercy of a small boy.

If you would build a colossal fortune, let such work as writing books and filling the pages of magazines severely alone. The path of literature is filled with thorns, and men who pound the gray matter of their upper stories to a dull red, evolving thoughts that burn, find as a rule that a careless world allows them to starve and then builds monuments to their memory. Bret Harte, the poet humorist, died at 63 worth $1800; Frank Norris, California's gifted novelist, cashed in with only $1000, and Edgar Allan Poe wept for joy over the tender of a job on a magazine at $20 per month. The names of these children of genius will live and be handed around in padded leather when Rockefellers and Goulds are forgotten by the worms that feast upon their carcasses, but they found it difficult to keep in mush while living.

The season is at hand when new screen wire for the windows must be purchased. This would not be so burdensome financially if purchasing new wire ended the matter, but it will not. When new wire is purchased wife will discover that the screen frames are getting old, and it would be a shame to put new wire on the old frames. And when the new frames are put in and nicely painted, the house, with its old paint, will look very bad. And of course the house will have to be repainted.

While restitution for stolen property gives relief of conscience and puts one on the royal road blazed out by the Master for subjects of His kingdom to travel, unfortunately it does not always bring physical relief. When a boy I stole a watermelon. I left the melon in the patch for its owner after carrying it a few yards. But the shot in my leg pains me every time the weather changes.

I often wonder what becomes of all the pins. The census reports say about 250,000,000 are manufactured daily, but you hardly ever find a person with one he or she can spare. My next question is, what becomes of all the converts of revival meetings? According to reports of the professional evangelists about one-fifth of the people of a State are converted every year, yet it is hard to find a town that isn't full of sinners.

Surely the movie actresses bathe more than any other class of people. Every picture you ever saw of a movie actress showed her just about ready to jump into a bath tub.

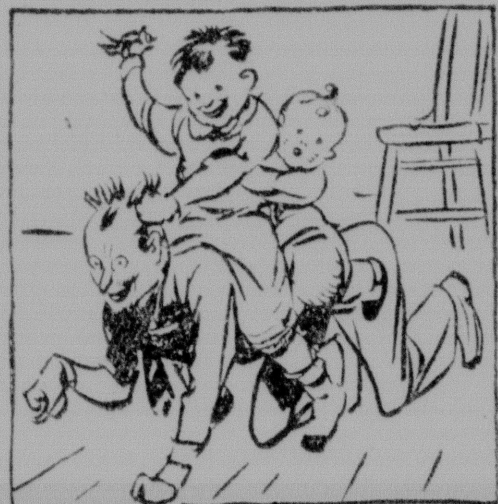

An Old Trunk and Its Memories

By JOE SAPPINGTON

(Copyright, 1930, by the Home Color Print Co.)

FEW years ago after looking the place over for an ancient document and not finding it, I decided to go through an old discarded trunk out in the junk house filled with miscellaneous rubbish. I didn't find the paper, but the contents of that dust-covered old relic spoke to me of the past in clarion tones, reminded me of my aspirations, mistakes, joys and sorrows.

The first thing to greet my eye when I raised the lid was a package of papers tied with a twine string; thinking it might contain the document in question, I cut the string and began a search. The very first paper examined was a deed to an imaginary town lot located somewhere in Boomville. When I looked at that deed I deliberately slapped my face three times for being an idiot. I recalled the circumstance of that purchase without mental effort. The property was supposed to be a corner lot right in the heart of the town, less than a block from the principal bank and in a stone's throw of the Metropolitan opera house. The salesman told me the townsite company was apportioning but one lot to different towns of the State and the ten dollars he was charging me was merely for abstract and recording fees and under no circumstances would a lot be given to anyone but a prominent citizen of the town. He then made me place my hand over my heart and promise not to say anything about our transaction until I heard from the president of the company.

"I was again the young father"

The dern crook sold that lot to at least twenty leading citizens of my town and made each of them promise to keep it under cover until he had heard from the head promoter.

Hair Recipe Swindle

That package of faded old papers contains documentary evidence sufficient to send me to a lunatic asylum, should I ever be tried for insanity. It contains not only a deed to a bogus lot, but a recipe to make hair grow on bald heads. The poor fellow—I shall never forget him—had been in town but two hours when he came to me with tears streaming down his face, holding a telegram in one hand and his hair recipe in the other, and sobbingly asked the loan of $7.50 to go to his dying wife. The only thing he said he had to put up for security was his hair recipe which he had refused $10,000 for just the week before. I let him have the money and so did thirteen other fellowtown idiots that confessed to it, to say nothing of others who had done likewise but kept the swindle to themselves.

Along with other worthless documents in the old trunk was a funny-looking paper covered with mystic signs and Spanish words. That was a chart telling of buried treasure and had cost me nine dollars, no matter if the fellow had asked $250 for it. After digging three deep holes in the ground at the dead hours of night I abandoned my search for buried treasure, and bought a county-right to a patent churn, the title of which still nestles in that ancient package.

But let's speak of other things found in that old trunk—things that brought pleasant memories. There was an old dilapidated photograph album full of the family portraits of my own and my wife's kinfolks dating back to the Civil War. Some of the pictures were in a bad state of preservation on account of rough handling. Uncle Abner had had the misfortune of losing a goodly part of an ear by the unkindly jolts of Father Time. There was cousin Rufus with smooth shaven upper lip but sporting chin whiskers, gazing vacantly into eternal space. But the cock-roaches had made sad inroads on his whiskers besides gnawing out an eye.

Halycon Days of Youth

The sight of that old album brought to mind another album of the halycon days of youth. It was a large plush album with a looking glass on one of the lids and belonged to the widow Jones, who was the mother of Mary Jones, whom I was madly in love with. Mary was a great collector of pictures, no matter what kind of pictures they might be. Her collection embraced the hateful mug of a rival of mine—one Jeff Duggins, and for that reason I had stubbornly refused to add my tintype to her collection. One night while we were going through her album I became so insanely jealous that I snatched Jeff's picture and tore it to pieces right before her eyes. I told her as plain as I could talk that there never was an album big enough to hold his and my picture at the same time. She pouted and said she hated me, but while her back was turned I slipped my picture in the place of the deposed rival. Before leaving that night Mary confessed that she had always loved me and was proud I had torn up Jeff's ugly old picture.

Down at the bottom of the trunk was a rag doll, a drum and toy pistol. For a few blissful moments I was again the young father romping and playing with our babies. I saw a young mother standing in the door with tears in her eyes, waving to a little girl as she joined other little girls the day she started to school. Then there came to my vision a little boy with golden hair, who thought his daddy a mighty brave man—not afraid of giants, bears or "boogers." Again I was the fiery steed and he the gallant rider. I could almost feel his arms around my neck and his little pink heels digging into my side as I loped and cavorted around the room like a circus horse. But that little girl who owned the doll and that little boy who beat the drum and killed Indians with his toy pistol are long since grown and full of modern thoughts and fancies. My son is doing all he can to help me along and pay for his raising. He lets me wear his old clothes, and occasionally ride in the rumble seat of his new Ford.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE U. S. AND TEXAS (March, 1895)

Four highwaymen held up the H. & T. C. passenger train five miles north of Dallas February 27.

Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, who had been defeated by a Populist, in November, had been appointed minister to Mexico.

Cyclone Davis had abandoned his contest for Congress against D. E. Culbertson, in the Texarkana district, but Jerome Kearby was still pushing his contest against Joe Abbott in the Dallas district.

The Texas Legislature had adopted a resolution submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution limiting the right of suffrage to those who pay poll tax, the amendment to be voted on at the next general election.

Annie Gould, daughter of the great railway magnate, Jay Gould, was married March 6th to Count Boni Castellane, a French nobleman.

Five people were killed in a riot at

New Orleans March 12. The riot grew out of a strike in the ship yards.

Japan had whipped China to a frazzle, and China had signed an article granting independence to Korea and agreeing to pay Japan a heavy indemnity.

A bill had been introduced into the Texas Legislature disfranchising every bachelor over the age of 30 who could not produce an affidavit from some woman saying he had proposed marriage and been rejected.

Pennsylvanians were making preparation to bore for oil at Sour Lake, Texas.

The Texas Legislature had passed a law increasing the value of property that must be stolen to constitute a felony from $20 to $50.

Col. A. J. Houston, son of Gen. Sam Houston, had sent the mayor of Cincinnati, Ohio, the dagger which Gen. Santa Anna handed to his captors at the battle of San Jacinto in 1836. Just before this decisive battle Gen. Houston received two brass six-pounders as a present from the ladies of Cincinnati, and the cannons were used for the first time in that battle. Col. A. J. Houston concluded to present the dagger to the city of Cincinnati in recognition of the aid that city rendered the cause of Texas independence in its darkest hour.

Eleven hundred negroes left Savannah, Ga., March 20 for Liberia, Africa, and many others were there awaiting ships to take them to the negro republic. The negroes were from all sections of the South.

SWIFT PLANT AT PARIS

The Swift creamery and poultry packing plant which is being erected at Paris is ready for occupancy. The plant will have a daily dressing capacity of 4,000 birds, and the creamery department will be able to handle 6,000 gallons of cream daily. The plant was erected at a cost of $500,000.

soul grew weary of anger and a gentler mood came over him. He "dipped into the future." He saw the awful conflicts of nations and finally the peaceful settlements of the world's disputes in the "parliament of man," the federation of the world. It is of great interest to note that this gifted poet saw, with prophetic eye, the aerial battles waged in his own land a decade ago for possession of a continent—

"Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails, Pilot of the purple twilight dropping down
their costly bales;
Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there
rained a ghastly dew
central blue."

The prophecies of the great poet have been fulfilled in part. His vision of battles in the air is a cold reality which forms a lengthy chapter in the history of the world's greatest war. And the Peace Conference, the League of Nations, the limiting of battleships and armies and the desire to outlaw war by most of the nations leave no room to doubt that we are soon to see the brighter side of the poet's picture, when "the war drum throbs no longer," when "the battle flags are furled" and "common sense shall hold a fretful realm in awe."

Grand Opera

The country has passed through another grand opera season, and those who had the price and the clothes have had all the savagery worked out of their breasts and their souls filled with noblest aspirations by the heavenly symphonies. To those who do not know, I volunteer the information that grand opera is singing. Not every person who has watched the convolutions of a grand opera star knew the star was singing, but that was what the star was doing. Grand opera singing is the best singing there is. It doesn't sound the best, but it is the best. The best medicine doesn't taste good, neither does the best singing have a pleasing sound, but medicine and music must be judged by what they do for a person, and not by their taste or sound.

Congress and the Legislatures of several States are now in session. In the corridors of the National and State Houses are many lobbyists, trying to push through pet measures. Many of these lobbyists are women. Some of them get results and some do not. I pause here to give the women folk who have measures to put through the law-making bodies a little unsolicited advice. When you send a committee to appear before the law-makers, leave the brainy women in spectacles and old-time gowns at home and send a delegation of the effeminate young things with pink cheeks and witching ways. An energetic buttonhole-bouquet lobby of this description will get a measure through both houses in a jiffy. Legislators who look coldly on petitions and listen with indifference to logical arguments will melt down before coquettish glances and tender appeals like a pan of cookies at the mercy of a small boy.

If you would build a colossal fortune, let such work as writing books and filling the pages of magazines severely alone. The path of literature is filled with thorns, and men who pound the gray matter of their upper stories to a dull red, evolving thoughts that burn, find as a rule that a careless world allows them to starve and then builds monuments to their memory. Bret Harte, the poet humorist, died at 63 worth $1800; Frank Norris, California's gifted novelist, cashed in with only $1000, and Edgar Allan Poe wept for joy over the tender of a job on a magazine at $20 per month. The names of these children of genius will live and be handed around in padded leather when Rockefellers and Goulds are forgotten by the worms that feast upon their carcasses, but they found it difficult to keep in mush while living.

The season is at hand when new screen wire for the windows must be purchased. This would not be so burdensome financially if purchasing new wire ended the matter, but it will not. When new wire is purchased wife will discover that the screen frames are getting old, and it would be a shame to put new wire on the old frames. And when the new frames are put in and nicely painted, the house, with its old paint, will look very bad. And of course the house will have to be repainted.

While restitution for stolen property gives relief of conscience and puts one on the royal road blazed out by the Master for subjects of His kingdom to travel, unfortunately it does not always bring physical relief. When a boy I stole a watermelon. I left the melon in the patch for its owner after carrying it a few yards. But the shot in my leg pains me every time the weather changes.

I often wonder what becomes of all the pins. The census reports say about 250,000,000 are manufactured daily, but you hardly ever find a person with one he or she can spare. My next question is, what becomes of all the converts of revival meetings? According to reports of the professional evangelists about one-fifth of the people of a State are converted every year, yet it is hard to find a town that isn't full of sinners.

Surely the movie actresses bathe more than any other class of people. Every picture you ever saw of a movie actress showed her just about ready to jump into a bath tub.

An Old Trunk and Its Memories

By JOE SAPPINGTON
(Copyright, 1930, by the Home Color Print Co.)

FEW years ago after looking the place over for an ancient document and not finding it, I decided to go through an old discarded trunk out in the junk house filled with miscellaneous rubbish. I didn't find the paper, but the contents of that dust-covered old relic spoke to me of the past in clarion tones, reminded me of my aspirations, mistakes, joys and sorrows.

The first thing to greet my eye when I raised the lid was a package of papers tied with a twine string; thinking it might contain the document in question, I cut the string and began a search. The very first paper examined was a deed to an imaginary town lot located somewhere in Boomville. When I looked at that deed I deliberately slapped my face three times for being an idiot. I recalled the circumstance of that purchase without mental effort. The property was supposed to be a corner lot right in the heart of the town, less than a block from the principal bank and in a stone's throw of the Metropolitan opera house. The salesman told me the townsie company was apportioning but one lot to different towns of the State and the ten dollars he was charging me was merely for abstract and recording fees and under no circumstances would a lot be given to anyone but a prominent citizen of the town. He then made me place my hand over my heart and promise not to say anything about our transaction until I heard from the president of the company.

The dern crook sold that lot to at least twenty leading citizens of my town and made each of them promise to keep it under cover until he had heard from the head promoter.

Hair Recipe Swindle

That package of faded old papers contains documentary evidence sufficient to send me to a lunatic asylum, should I ever be tried for insanity. It contains not only a deed to a bogus lot, but a recipe to make hair grow on bald heads. The poor fellow—I shall never forget him—had been in town but two hours when he came to me with tears streaming down his face, holding a telegram in one hand and his hair recipe in the other, and sobbingly asked the loan of $7.50 to go to his dying wife. The only thing he said he had to put up for security was his hair recipe which he had refused $10,000 for just the week before. I let him have the money and so did thirteen other fellowtown idiots that confessed to it, to say nothing of others who had done likewise but kept the swindle to themselves.

Along with other worthless documents in the old trunk was a funny-looking paper covered with mystic signs and Spanish words. That was a chart telling of buried treasure and had cost me nine dollars, no matter if the fellow had asked $250 for it. After digging three deep holes in the ground at the dead hours of night, I abandoned my search for buried treasure, and bought a county-right to a patent churn, the title of which still nestles in that ancient package.

But let's speak of other things found in that old trunk—things that brought pleasant memories. There was an old dilapidated photograph album full of the family portraits of my own and my wife's kinfolks dating back to the Civil War. Some of the pictures were in a bad state of preservation on account of rough handling. Uncle Abner had had the misfortune of losing a goodly part of an ear by the unkindly jolts of Father Time. There was cousin Rufus with smooth shaven upper lip but sporting chin whiskers, gazing vacantly into eternal space. But the cock-roaches had made sad inroads on his whiskers besides gnawing out an eye.

Halycon Days of Youth

The sight of that old album brought to mind another album of the halycon days of youth. It was a large plush album with a looking glass on one of the lids and belonged to the widow Jones, who was the mother of Mary Jones, whom I was madly in love with. Mary was a great collector of pictures, no matter what kind of pictures they might be. Her collection embraced the hateful mug of a rival of mine—one Jeff Duggins, and for that reason I had stubbornly refused to add my tintype to her collection. One night while we were going through her album I became so insanely jealous that I snatched Jeff's picture and tore it to pieces right before her eyes. I told her as plain as I could talk that there never was an album big enough to hold his and my picture at the same time. She pouted and said she hated me, but while her back was turned I slipped my picture in the place of the deposed rival. Before leaving that night Mary confessed that she had always loved me and was proud I had torn up Jeff's ugly old picture.

Down at the bottom of the trunk was a rag doll, a drum and toy pistol. For a few blissful moments I was again the young father romping and playing with our babies. I saw a young mother standing in the door with tears in her eyes, waving to a little girl as she joined other little girls the day she started to school. Then there came to my vision a little boy with golden hair, who thought his daddy a mighty brave man—not afraid of giants, bears or "boogers." Again I was the fiery steed and he the gallant rider. I could almost feel his arms around my neck and his little pink heels digging into my side as I loped and cavorted around the room like a circus horse. But that little girl who owned the doll and that little boy who beat the drum and killed Indians with his toy pistol are long since grown and full of modern thoughts and fancies. My son is doing all he can to help me along and pay for his raising. He lets me wear his old clothes, and occasionally ride in the rumble seat of his new Ford.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE U. S. AND TEXAS (March, 1895)

Four highwaymen held up the H. & T. C. passenger train five miles north of Dallas February 27.

Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, who had been defeated by a Populist, in November, had been appointed minister to Mexico.

Cyclone Davis had abandoned his contest for Congress against D. E. Culbertson, in the Texarkana district, but Jerome Kearby was still pushing his contest against Joe Abbott in the Dallas district.

The Texas Legislature had adopted a resolution submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution limiting the right of suffrage to those who pay poll tax, the amendment to be voted on at the next general election.

Annie Gould, daughter of the great railway magnate, Jay Gould, was married March 6th to Count Boni Castellane, a French nobleman.

Five people were killed in a riot at

New Orleans March 12. The riot grew out of a strike in the ship yards.

Japan had whipped China to a frazzle, and China had signed an article granting independence to Korea and agreeing to pay Japan a heavy indemnity.

A bill had been introduced into the Texas Legislature disfranchising every bachelor over the age of 30 who could not produce an affidavit from some woman saying he had proposed marriage and been rejected.

Pennsylvanians were making preparation to bore for oil at Sour Lake, Texas.

The Texas Legislature had passed a law increasing the value of property that must be stolen to constitute a felony offense from $20 to $50.

Col. A. J. Houston, son of Gen. Sam Houston, had sent the mayor of Cincinnati, Ohio, the dagger which Gen. Santa Anna handed to his captors at the battle of San Jacinto in 1836. Just before this decisive battle Gen. Houston received two brass six-pounders as a present from the ladies of Cincinnati, and the cannons were used for the first time in that battle. Col. A. J. Houston concluded to present the dagger to the city of Cincinnati in recognition of the aid that city rendered the cause of Texas independence in its darkest hour.

Eleven hundred negroes left Savannah, Ga., March 20 for Liberia, Africa, and many others were there awaiting ships to take them to the negro republic. The negroes were from all sections of the South.

SWIFT PLANT AT PARIS

The Swift creamery and poultry packing plant which is being erected at Paris is ready for occupancy. The plant will have a daily dressing capacity of 4,000 birds, and the creamery department will be able to handle 6,000 gallons of cream daily. The plant was erected at a cost of $500,000.

"I was again the young father"

GAME FARM BEING STUDIED

A committee of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission and members of the Department are now studying and investigating a plan for a game propagation farm to be established somewhere in the State. The committee consists of Gus Schreiner, of Kerrville, Gene Howe, of Amarillo, the chairman, executive secretary and deputy secretary of the commission.

MILLION DOLLAR LUMBER BUSINESS IN GREGG

A survey shows that the lumber business of Gregg county, during 1929 netted more than $1,000,000. More than $400,000 was paid for cross ties; lumber mills bought $300,000 of logs, and local box and implement manufacturing industries were also substantial buyers. Increased attention is being given in the county this year to reforestation and the prevention of forest fires.

FORTY KILLED BY AUTOS IN FORT WORTH IN 1929

Automobile accidents in Fort Worth during 1929 took a toll of 40 lives and injured 313 persons, according to the report of the chief of police of that city for the year. Traffic fatalities in Tarrant county, outside the city of Fort Worth, totaled eleven. Violent deaths claimed the lives of 86 persons during the year, of whom 33 were slain by other persons and 24 took their own lives.

PRICES 65 YEARS AGO

Many of us feel that prices of dress goods and many other necessities are too high now, especially when the bills for same are presented, but the prices now paid are very low indeed when compared to the prices which prevailed 65 years ago. The prices given below are taken from the advertisement of a dry goods concern printed in a Texas newspaper in 1865:

Prints, 45 to 66 cents a yard; gingham, 48½ cents a yard; ticks, 70½ cents; denims 55 cents; cotton flannel 75 cents; brown sheeting 54 to 72½ cents; bleached cottons, 61 to 77 cents; finer goods were priced proportionately with staples.

SAME PLOT HIS HOME 88 YEARS

Scott Beeman, who died in Dallas recently, made the same plot of ground his home for the long period of 88 years. Mr. Beeman was born in Bowie county in 1842, and when he was only two months old his father moved to what is now East Dallas. The trip was made from Bowie county in an ox cart. Mr. Beeman's father cutting the first road through Dallas county. His mother was the first white woman ever known to have set foot in Dallas county. The Beeman family arrived shortly before the first settlement was made at this point on Trinity river and twenty-nine years before the town of Dallas was incorporated. In 1848 his sister, Margaret Beeman, married John Neeley Bryan, an Indian trader. This was the first wedding in Dallas county. When the city of Dallas grew out to his homestead Mr. Beeman sold the land, which had been under cultivation 42 years, and the same was developed into what is known as the Owenwood addition to Dallas.

ANNIVERSARY OF TEXAS' GREAT-EST FIRE

March 21 marks the fourteenth anniversary of the great fire at Paris, Texas, possibly the most destructive conflagration in the history of the State. It is doubtful if any city ever sustained such a high percentage of loss at the hands of the flames.

Starting in a warehouse on the afternoon of March 21, the fire raged until after daylight on the morning of March 22. The flames spread by leaps and bounds from house to house and continued their work of destruction until there were no more houses in their path to prey upon. Many large buildings were destroyed by dynamite with the hope of checking the flames, but with no success, the fire leaping the destroyed buildings to attack others. The wind was very high, and while several fire companies from neighboring towns and cities aided the local companies in a heroic fight, it was impossible to check the spread of the flames. Flying shingles scattered the fire far and near, setting fire to houses two and three hundred yards distant from the building that was burning.

The property loss in this great fire was above ten million dollars. More than 1400 houses were burned, but only three lives were lost. Not a building was left standing on the large square, and the entire business district was wiped out, with the exception of three or four houses on side streets. Seven churches, a college and a high school were among the buildings burned. Not a dry goods store, a hardware store, a drug store or a bank was left in the city of 16,000 people, and not a business concern or a professional man had an office left. Thousands of people were left without a change of clothing.

WORK ON BIG DAM STARTED

Work has been begun on the main dam of the project which is to be undertaken by Emery, Peck & Rockwood, of Chicago, for development of hydro-electric power on the Colorado river about ten miles above Marble Falls. The dam will have a length of two miles and a maximum height of 130 feet. A force of about 300 men will work on the project.

Several smaller dams will be constructed along the Colorado river below the big control dam. It is said the company has spent or contracted to spend $500,000 in the purchase of land which will be inundated when the water is impounded by the big dam. The dam will cost about $11,000,000. The reservoir will store 1,150,000-acre feet of water as a year-around power supply for the five dams below.

OLD STONE FORT AT NACOGDOCHES

The old stone fort at Nacogdoches, which played such an important part in the earliest settlement of Texas, was torn down in 1902, but was re-erected from the same stones by the Cum Conclio Club in 1907.

The Spaniards built this old fort in 1778 as a protection against the Indians, and it became the nucleus of the settlement. The old fort served many purposes. For a time it was used as a place of divine worship by the early pioneers; Heyden Edwards used it as a base of operations against the Mexicans in the Fredonian rebellion. It was within the walls of this old fort that Davy Crockett, while en route to San Antonio to aid in gaining independence for Texas, took the oath of allegiance to Texas. Many years later the old fort was used for a time as a saloon.

In 1907 the stone from the walls of the old fort, which had been torn away, was removed to the high school campus, and there the old fort was re-erected.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION NOW IN PROGRESS

Railway lines now under construction in Texas include the Santa Fe extension from Palsiona Pass, near Alpine, to Presidio, and from San Angelo to Sonora, these being extensions of the former Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, now owned by the Santa Fe. The Santa Fe is also building for the Cane Belt a line from Guy to Lane City, in South Texas, where a new sulphur mine is being developed.

Important work completed in Texas last year included the Santa Fe line from Cheyenne, Okla., to Pampa, Texas, and the Rock Island from Stinnett, Texas, to Liberal, Kan. Smaller projects included a Missouri Pacific line from Edcough to Weslaco in the Rio Grande Valley, a short extension south from Brundage, Texas; the four-mile line of the San Diego & Palangana, where a sulphur mine has been opened, and a ten-mile extension of the Texas & Pacific in Winkler county, north of Kermit.

TO BEAUTIFY HIGHWAYS WITH RED BUDS

A movement is under way to beautify the highways of Texas. Inasmuch as Texas will celebrate its centennial in 1936, the work will be pushed in order that the highways will be a continuous scene of beauty by that time, when visitors and tourists from every section of the globe are expected to visit Texas in large numbers.

One of the plans for beautifying the highways that seems to meet with especial favor is that of lining the roads with red buds. This beautiful shrub grows and blooms to perfection in most sections of the State, and in their season, nothing would add more to the attractiveness of the highways than a continuous stretch of red buds. To give impetus to the movement a meeting was recently held under the auspices of the Texas Federation of Garden Clubs at which the hearty co-operation of all the people of the State was urged in this splendid work. Property owners having land bordering the highways are urged to plant a few red buds at this time. If there is the co-operation in this beautifying movement that there ought to be the highways in Texas will be a continuous stretch of magic beauty by centennial year, that tourists may well travel thousands of miles to see.

CELEBRATED SIXTY-THIRD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel C. Osborne, of White Deer, Carson county, celebrated the 63rd anniversary of their wedding Christmas day. These good people were married December 25, 1866. They are natives of Georgia, but moved to Texas 40 years ago. In 1871 Rev. Mr. Osborne was ordained to the ministry in the Baptist church. Although 83 years old, he preaches frequently. He served in the Southern army as a lieutenant during the Civil War.

To this couple ten children were born, nine of whom are still living. They have 99 descendants living and 69 of them were present at the anniversary celebration.

NEW LUTHERAN COLLEGE DEDICATED

The new Lutheran College at Seguin recently dedicated four new buildings, two teachers' residences, a central heating system and a new girls' dormitory, at a cost of more than $100,000. This was the first unit of a new and extensive development plan for the institution. This college receives its support from more than 50,000 Lutherans of Texas. Last year a new building was erected to care for the library and chemical laboratory and to give additional class room space. Future plans call for a new "commons," a gymnasium, a science building, a boys' dormitory, an auditorium and the remodeling of the main building.

REFORESTATION PROGRAM IN TEXAS

Nurseries at two Texas State forests are now growing approximately 600,000 forest tree seedlings annually for distribution throughout wide areas of the State that are adaptable to forest tree growth. This is the beginning of a program that it is hoped may eventually halt the rapid decline in Texas forest resources.

It is estimated that the original forest area of Texas was 14,000,000 acres of pine and from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 acres of merchantable hardwoods. There now remains about 1,000,000 acres of virgin pine and about the same area of hardwoods. There are something like 4,000,000 acres of good second growth pine and hardwoods. The remaining 8,000,000 acres has been turned to agriculture or is in cut-over land with scant growth of timber.

Texas now has three State forests, which are administered by the Texas forest service. Two of these were acquired by purchase. One is located in Newton county and includes 1,700 acres of land, and the other in Montgomery county and includes 1,633 acres. Both are in charge of resident superintendents. The third State forest, which includes 2,360 acres, is located in Cherokee county, and was formerly State prison land, but was transferred to the A. & M. College of Texas for forestry research and demonstration work. Research and demonstration work is being carried on at the two first mentioned forests. The work includes growth studies, thinning practice on natural stands of second-growth pine timber, forest planting, including a testing of various planting methods to determine those most practical for the country and the planting of various species of pine trees in addition to those native to Texas in order to find, if possible, any species of pine as good or better than those native to the region. Forest tree nurseries are maintained at each of these two forests in which approximately 600,000 forest tree seedlings are grown each year with various methods of treatment in order to develop a forest tree nursery practice that is best adapted to successful forest tree seedling production under East Texas conditions.

CONTRACT LET FOR TRINITY DAM

At a price of $3,758,216, the contract has been let to the Trinity Farm Construction Company of Dallas, and associated companies for the construction of the Bridgeport and Eagle Mountain dams on the west fork of the Trinity river not far from Fort Worth. The contract provides that the work must be completed in 700 working days. The lakes project to be formed by the construction of these dams will involve an expenditure of $6,500,000. Thousands of acres will be available for irrigating field crops when dams are completed.

CONTRACTS FOR NEW BRIDGES

Contracts for new bridges have recently been let by the State Highway Department as follows:

For a steel and concrete bridge across Red river between Gainesville, Texas, and Ardmore, Oklahoma, on Texas Highway No. 40 and U. S. Highway No. 77. Contract awarded to Tom L. Green, of Oklahoma City, for $247,530.

Concrete and steel bridge and earth approaches across Copana Bay on Highway No. 87. Contract awarded L. E. Meyers Co., of Dallas, at $470,028.

Concrete and steel bridges across Sabine river between Newton county, Texas, and Beauregard parish, La., on Texas Highway No. 63. Contract awarded Austin Bridge Company, Dallas, at $179,240.

A GOOD DOCTOR MADE TEXAS A STATE

This story of making Texas a State in the Union is vouched for by several papers printed 75 or 80 years ago.

Eighty-six years ago a joint resolution providing for the annexation of the then Republic of Texas to the Union was passed by Congress. On the following day President Tyler gave his official assent to the measure. So was taken a step that led not only to the acquisition of the vast Lone Star State, but also to the Mexican war and the consequent expansion of the United States over a tremendous western territory, including the present States of California, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. Yet if a sick man in Indiana hadn't had a good physician all the tremendous course of events might have been changed.

In 1843 Daniel Kelso, a prominent Hoosier lawyer, was running for State Senator from Switzerland county, Indiana. The district was close, and great interest was manifested in the election, since the Indiana Legislature would be called upon to choose a United States Senator. The sick man referred to had once been charged with murder and had been acquitted. Kelso had defended him and the man naturally felt under great obligations to the attorney. A week before the election the doctor told his patient that his end was near. The sufferer begged him to use every means to stave off death until he could cast his ballot for Kelso. On election day the sick man was carried to the polls, cast his vote and immediately collapsed, dying in a few hours. When the vote was counted it was found that Kelso had won by one vote. Then came the election of a United States Senator by the Hoosier lawmakers.

The annexation of Texas was the great issue before the people. The South favored the measure, but in the North there was bitter opposition on the ground that such action would increase the area and political strength of the South and certainly lead to war with Mexico. Indiana, as always, was a doubtful State, and the Legislature was evenly divided between rival candidates for the toga, one of whom favored and the other opposed the annexation of Texas.

For days the deadlock continued, until finally Daniel Kelso made an impassioned speech in which he urged the Legislature, as a duty to the whole nation, to choose a United States Senator, and advocated the election of Edward A. Hannigan, who favored annexation. The address carried the day and Hannigan arrived in Washington just in time to vote "aye" on the bill providing for the admission of the Lone Star State. His was the deciding vote, since the measure passed the United States Senate on the strength of Hannigan's "yes."

On February 28, 1845, the joint resolution passed and President Tyler signed it as one of the last and most important acts of his administration.

PERMIT GIVEN FOR NEW LINE

Authorization for the Gulf & West Texas Railway to construct a line in Gillespie, Mason, McCullough, Concho and Tom Green counties, was recently given, conditionally, by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The proposed road would extend from Fredericksburg to Brady, a distance of 113 miles, and from Eden to San Angelo. The petition was granted conditioned that work should begin on the Fredericksburg-Brady line prior to July 1, 1930, and be completed by June 30, 1932.

TEXAS RAILWAY EARNINGS

Statistics of operation of the railroads of Texas in the calendar year of 1928, a compilation of which was recently completed by the Texas Railway Commission, show that gross earnings from operations amounted to $243,192,113, while operating expenses were $176,414,514, leaving a net operating revenue of $66,777,599. For the preceding year the corresponding figures were $245,162,395, $186,531,926 and $58,630,469. Figures for the calendar year 1929 will not be available for several months.

Texas led all other States in 1928 in trackage laid, with 443 miles of new line. Texas also led all States in railway construction in 1929 with 158.82 miles. Construction in 1930 will equal or exceed that of 1929. The present railway mileage of Texas is 16,547 miles. This is approximately 4,000 miles more than the trackage in Illinois, the second State in railway mileage.

In pre-war times the passenger service of Texas railroads provided approximately 30 per cent of the total revenue from operation, but the percentage is very much lower now. In 1920 Texas roads carried 30,947,106 passengers; in 1928 the number of passengers carried dropped to 7,910,483, or only 25 per cent as many as in 1920. Passenger revenues have not declined in the same proportion for the reason that loss in number of passengers has been largely in the short-haul class.

THREATENED INVASION THAT DIDN'T MATERIALIZE

Historians speak lightly of a threatened invasion of Texas by the Mexicans two months after Texas independence was won at San Jacinto, but since the invasion didn't materialize, not much attention is paid the incident by the early writers. Judge Felix D. Robertson, of Dallas, recently found among the papers of his father, General Felix H. Robertson, who died nearly two years ago in Waco, a letter which was written by General Thomas J. Rusk, which tells of the threatened invasion and sounds a call to arms. The letter was given General Robertson by his father, Gen. Jerome B. Robertson, who was a soldier in the Texas war for independence and a captain in the Somerville campaign of 1843. The letter is as follows:

"Headquarters, Victoria, 11 June, 1836.

"To Gen. Thomas J. Green.

"Sir: My spies have just brought information from Matamoros, of the date of the 9th and 10th inst.

"It consists of letters from Captains Carnes and Teal and Major Miller, who were arrested after having received passports from General Feisola. The information is of the most important character. It details the fact that Feisola was ordered to turn back with his troops about half way between Matamoros and San Patricio. Urrea had been appointed commander in chief and had arrived in Matamoros on his march to Texas with 4,000 new troops. Four thousand more were to embark at Vera Cruz in a few days.

"Urrea took up the line of march from Matamoros for La Bahia about four days ago. They have all sworn to exterminate the Texans, or never to return to Mexico. My force does not exceed 350 men. I have ordered in the cavalry that were directed to join you, and have also ordered Major Ward with his command to join me immediately.

"You will immediately see the necessity of joining me with all the force you can raise. You had best march by way of Coxeys on the Colorado. It would be well to detail all the cavalry you can in advance as they are the most important troops for immediate service. I have directed all the supplies, etc., to Cox's Point on the opposite side of the LaBaca.

"I have the honor to be with great respect,

"Your obedient servant,
"THOMAS J. RUSK.
"Brig. Gen'l. Comdg.

"Issue proclamations and bring on all the volunteers you can raise on the march as there is not one moment to lose.

"T. J. RUSK."

Three days after Gen. Rusk wrote the above letter President Burnet issued a proclamation calling the people to arms. The threatened invasion, however, failed to materialize. At that time Santa Anna, the president of Mexico and commander-in-chief of the Mexican armies, was still held a prisoner in Texas.

DAIRY FACTS

By J. W. RIDGWAY
Former Director of Dairy Department,
A. & M. College.

The general prosperity of Texas is primarily dependent upon its agricultural income and the dairy industry is basically important to a permanent system of agriculture.

In this State as a result of the activities and support of various agencies such as the chambers of commerce, the railroads, public service organizations and A. & M. College, the dairy industry has grown to where it represents a big factor in our agricultural program.

The markets for dairy products are now depressed as a result of a surplus production; so much so that the returns to our farmers are below the cost of production and if continued on the present basis the industry will suffer materially, leading to a curtailment in the supply of dairy products. These dairy products are vital to our diet, as we are told by eminent food authorities that the scarcity of dairy products in one's diet may become a serious cause of malnutrition. All kinds of dairy products are now available at prices far below the actual or comparative food value. A liberal use of such products will materially promote good health and at the same time render assistance to an industry that is of vital economic importance to this State. The Honorable Herbert Hoover said "The white race cannot survive without dairy products." We cannot afford to ignore the present emergency and it behooves each citizen to consider carefully his responsibility in the matter, not only for the health of his family but for the good of the community.

GAME FARM BEING STUDIED

A committee of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission and members of the Department are now studying and investigating a plan for a game propagation farm to be established somewhere in the State. The committee consists of Gus Schreiner, of Kerrville, Gene Howe, of Amarillo, the chairman, executive secretary and deputy secretary of the commission.

MILLION DOLLAR LUMBER BUSINESS IN GREGG

A survey shows that the lumber business of Gregg county, during 1929 netted more than $1,000,000. More than $400,000 was paid for cross ties; lumber mills bought $300,000 of logs, and local box and implement manufacturing industries were also substantial buyers. Increased attention is being given in the county this year to reforestation and the prevention of forest fires.

FORTY KILLED BY AUTOS IN FORT WORTH IN 1929

Automobile accidents in Fort Worth during 1929 took a toll of 40 lives and injured 313 persons, according to the report of the chief of police of that city for the year. Traffic fatalities in Tarrant county, outside the city of Fort Worth, totaled eleven. Violent deaths claimed the lives of 86 persons during the year, of whom 33 were slain by other persons and 24 took their own lives.

PRICES 65 YEARS AGO

Many of us feel that prices of dress goods and many other necessities are too high now, especially when the bills for same are presented, but the prices now paid are very low indeed when compared to the prices which prevailed 65 years ago. The prices given below are taken from the advertisement of a dry goods concern printed in a Texas newspaper in 1865:

Prints, 45 to 66 cents a yard; gingham, 48 1/2 cents a yard; ticks, 70 1/2 cents; denims 55 cents; canton flannel 75 cents; brown sheeting 54 to 72 1/2 cents; bleached cottons, 61 to 77 cents; finer goods were priced proportionately with staples.

SAME PLOT HIS HOME 88 YEARS

Scott Beeman, who died in Dallas recently, made the same plot of ground his home for the long period of 88 years. Mr. Beeman was born in Bowie county in 1842, and when he was only two months old his father moved to what is now East Dallas. The trip was made from Bowie county in an ox cart. Mr. Beeman's father cutting the first road through Dallas county. His mother was the first white woman ever known to have set foot in Dallas county. The Beeman family arrived shortly before the first settlement was made at this point on Trinity river and twenty-nine years before the town of Dallas was incorporated. In 1848 his sister, Margaret Beeman, married John Neeley Bryan, an Indian trader. This was the first wedding in Dallas county. When the city of Dallas grew out to his homestead Mr. Beeman sold the land, which had been under cultivation 42 years, and the same was developed into what is known as the Owenwood addition to Dallas.

ANNIVERSARY OF TEXAS' GREATEST FIRE

March 21 marks the fourteenth anniversary of the great fire at Paris, Texas, possibly the most destructive conflagration in the history of the State. It is doubtful if any city ever sustained such a high percentage of loss at the hands of the flames.

Starting in a warehouse on the afternoon of March 21, the fire raged until after daylight on the morning of March 22. The flames spread by leaps and bounds from house to house and continued their work of destruction until there were no more houses in their path to prey upon. Many large buildings were destroyed by dynamite with the hope of checking the flames, but with no success, the fire leaping the destroyed buildings to attack others. The wind was very high, and while several fire companies from neighboring towns and cities aided the local companies in a heroic fight, it was impossible to check the spread of the flames. Flying shingles scattered the fire far and near, setting fire to houses two and three hundred yards distant from the building that was burning.

The property loss in this great fire was above ten million dollars. More than 1400 houses were burned, but only three lives were lost. Not a building was left standing on the large square, and the entire business district was wiped out, with the exception of three or four houses on side streets. Seven churches, a college and a high school were among the buildings burned. Not a dry goods store, a hardware store, a drug store or a bank was left in the city of 16,000 people, and not a business concern or a professional man had an office left. Thousands of people were left without a change of clothing.

WORK ON BIG DAM STARTED

Work has been begun on the main dam of the project which is to be undertaken by Emery, Peck & Rockwood, of Chicago, for development of hydro-electric power on the Colorado river about ten miles above Marble Falls. The dam will have a length of two miles and a maximum height of 130 feet. A force of about 300 men will work on the project.

Several smaller dams will be constructed along the Colorado river below the big control dam. It is said the company has spent or contracted to spend $500,000 in the purchase of land which will be inundated when the water is impounded by the big dam. The dam will cost about $11,000,000. The reservoir will store 1,150,000-acre feet of water as a year-around power supply for the five dams below.

OLD STONE FORT AT NACOGDOCHES

The old stone fort at Nacogdoches, which played such an important part in the earliest settlement of Texas, was torn down in 1902, but was re-erected from the same stones by the Cum Conclio Club in 1907.

The Spaniards built this old fort in 1778 as a protection against the Indians, and it became the nucleus of the settlement. The old fort served many purposes. For a time it was used as a place of divine worship by the early pioneers; Heyden Edwards used it as a base of operations against the Mexicans in the Fredonian rebellion. It was within the walls of this old fort that Davy Crockett, while en route to San Antonio to aid in gaining independence for Texas, took the oath of allegiance to Texas. Many years later the old fort was used for a time as a saloon.

In 1907 the stone from the walls of the old fort, which had been torn away, was removed to the high school campus, and there the old fort was re-erected.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION NOW IN PROGRESS

Railway lines now under construction in Texas include the Santa Fe extension from Paisana Pass, near Alpine, to Presidio, and from San Angelo to Sonora, these being extensions of the former Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, now owned by the Santa Fe. The Santa Fe is also building for the Cane Belt a line from Guy to Lane City, in South Texas, where a new sulphur mine is being developed.

Important work completed in Texas last year included the Santa Fe line from Cheyenne, Okla., to Pampa, Texas, and the Rock Island from Stinnett, Texas, to Liberal, Kan. Smaller projects included a Missouri Pacific line from Edcough to Weslaco in the Rio Grande Valley, a short extension south from Brundage, Texas; the four-mile line of the San Diego & Palangana, where a sulphur mine has been opened, and a ten-mile extension of the Texas & Pacific in Winkler county, north of Kermit.

TO BEAUTIFY HIGHWAYS WITH RED BUDS

A movement is under way to beautify the highways of Texas. Inasmuch as Texas will celebrate its centennial in 1936, the work will be pushed in order that the highways will be a continuous scene of beauty by that time, when visitors and tourists from every section of the globe are expected to visit Texas in large numbers.

One of the plans for beautifying the highways that seems to meet with especial favor is that of lining the roads with red buds. This beautiful shrub grows and blooms to perfection in most sections of the State, and in their season, nothing would add more to the attractiveness of the highways than a continuous stretch of red buds. To give impetus to the movement a meeting was recently held under the auspices of the Texas Federation of Garden Clubs at which the hearty co-operation of all the people of the State was urged in this splendid work. Property owners having land bordering the highways are urged to plant a few red buds at this time. If there is the co-operation in this beautifying movement that there ought to be the highways in Texas will be a continuous stretch of magic beauty by centennial year, that tourists may well travel thousands of miles to see.

CELEBRATED SIXTY-THIRD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel C. Osborne, of White Deer, Carson county, celebrated the 63rd anniversary of their wedding Christmas day. These good people were married December 25, 1866. They are natives of Georgia, but moved to Texas 40 years ago. In 1871 Rev. Mr. Osborne was ordained to the ministry in the Baptist church. Although 83 years old, he preaches frequently. He served in the Southern army as a lieutenant during the Civil War.

To this couple ten children were born, nine of whom are still living. They have 99 descendants living and 69 of them were present at the anniversary celebration.

NEW LUTHERAN COLLEGE DEDICATED

The new Lutheran College at Seguin recently dedicated four new buildings, two teachers' residences, a central heating system and a new girls' dormitory, at a cost of more than $100,000. This was the first unit of a new and extensive development plan for the institution. This college receives its support from more than 50,000 Lutherans of Texas. Last year a new building was erected to care for the library and chemical laboratory and to give additional class room space. Future plans call for a new "commons," a gymnasium, a science building, a boys' dormitory, an auditorium and the remodeling of the main building.

REFORESTATION PROGRAM IN TEXAS

Nurseries at two Texas State forests are now growing approximately 600,000 forest tree seedlings annually for distribution throughout wide areas of the State that are adaptable to forest tree growth. This is the beginning of a program that it is hoped may eventually halt the rapid decline in Texas forest resources.

It is estimated that the original forest area of Texas was 14,000,000 acres of pine and from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 acres of merchantable hardwoods. There now remains about 1,000,000 acres of virgin pine and about the same area of hardwoods. There are something like 4,000,000 acres of good second growth pine and hardwoods. The remaining 8,000,000 acres has been turned to agriculture or is in cut-over land with scant growth of timber.

Texas now has three State forests, which are administered by the Texas forest service. Two of these were acquired by purchase. One is located in Newton county and includes 1,700 acres of land, and the other in Montgomery county and includes 1,633 acres. Both are in charge of resident superintendents. The third State forest, which includes 2,360 acres, is located in Cherokee county, and was formerly State prison land, but was transferred to the A. & M. College of Texas for forestry research and demonstration work. Research and demonstration work is being carried on at the two first mentioned forests. The work includes growth studies, thinning practice on natural stands of second-growth pine timber, forest planting, including a testing of various planting methods to determine those most practical for the country and the planting of various species of pine trees in addition to those native to Texas in order to find, if possible, any species of pine as good or better than those native to the region. Forest tree nurseries are maintained at each of these two forests in which approximately 600,000 forest tree seedlings are grown each year with various methods of treatment in order to develop a forest tree nursery practice that is best adapted to successful forest tree seedling production under East Texas conditions.

DAIRY FACTS

By J. W. RIDGWAY
Former Director of Dairy Department,
A. & M. College.

The general prosperity of Texas is primarily dependent upon its agricultural income and the dairy industry is basically important to a permanent system of agriculture.

In this State as a result of the activities and support of various agencies such as the chambers of commerce, the railroads, public service organizations and A. & M. College, the dairy industry has grown to where it represents a big factor in our agricultural program.

The markets for dairy products are now depressed as a result of a surplus production; so much so that the returns to our farmers are below the cost of production and if continued on the present basis the industry will suffer materially, leading to a curtailment in the supply of dairy products. These dairy products are vital to our diet, as we are told by eminent food authorities that the scarcity of dairy products in one's diet may become a serious cause of malnutrition. We are informed that if we were to increase the consumption of dairy products from 15 to 20 per cent there would be less instances of the "over-fed and under-nourished."

All kinds of dairy products are now available at prices far below the actual or comparative food value. A liberal use of such products will materially promote good health and at the same time render assistance to an industry that is of vital economical importance to this State. The Honorable Herbert Hoover said "The white race cannot survive without dairy products." We cannot afford to ignore the present emergency and it behooves each citizen to consider carefully his responsibility in the matter, not only for the health of his family but for the good of the community.

(Any subscriber of this newspaper who has a question to ask about his dairy cattle should write Mr. J. W. Ridgway and he will be glad to answer it free of cost. Address Box 1912, Fort Worth, Texas.)

CONTRACT LET FOR TRINITY DAM

At a price of $3,758,216, the contract has been let to the Trinity Farm Construction Company of Dallas, and associated companies for the construction of the Bridgeport and Eagle Mountain dams on the west fork of the Trinity river not far from Fort Worth. The contract provides that the work must be completed in 700 working days. The lakes project to be formed by the construction of these dams will involve an expenditure of $6,500,000. Thousands of acres will be available for irrigating field crops when dams are completed.

CONTRACTS FOR NEW BRIDGES

Contracts for new bridges have recently been let by the State Highway Department as follows:

For a steel and concrete bridge across Red river between Gainesville, Texas, and Ardmore, Oklahoma, on Texas Highway No. 40 and U. S. Highway No. 77. Contract awarded to Tom L. Green, of Oklahoma City, for $247,530.

Concrete and steel bridge and earth approaches across Copana Bay on Highway No. 87. Contract awarded L. E. Meyers Co., of Dallas, at $470,028.

Concrete and steel bridges across Sabine river between Newton county, Texas, and Beauregard parish, La., on Texas Highway No. 63. Contract awarded Austin Bridge Company, Dallas, at $179,240.

A GOOD DOCTOR MADE TEXAS A STATE

This story of making Texas a State in the Union is vouched for by several papers printed 75 or 80 years ago.

Eighty-six years ago a joint resolution providing for the annexation of the then Republic of Texas to the Union was passed by Congress. On the following day President Tyler gave his official assent to the measure. So was taken a step that led not only to the acquisition of the vast Lone Star State, but also to the Mexican war and the consequent expansion of the United States over a tremendous western territory, including the present States of California, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. Yet if a sick man in Indiana hadn't had a good physician all the tremendous course of events might have been changed.

In 1843 Daniel Kelso, a prominent Hoosier lawyer, was running for State Senator from Switzerland county, Indiana. The district was close, and great interest was manifested in the election, since the Indiana Legislature would be called upon to choose a United States Senator. The sick man referred to had once been charged with murder and had been acquitted. Kelso had defended him and the man naturally felt under great obligations to the attorney. A week before the election the doctor told his patient that his end was near. The sufferer begged him to use every means to stave off death until he could cast his ballot for Kelso. On election day the sick man was carried to the polls, cast his vote and immediately collapsed, dying in a few hours. When the vote was counted, it was found that Kelso had won by one vote. Then came the election of a United States Senator by the Hoosier lawmakers.

The annexation of Texas was the great issue before the people. The South favored the measure, but in the North there was bitter opposition on the ground that such action would increase the area and political strength of the South and certainly lead to war with Mexico. Indiana, as always, was a doubtful State, and the Legislature was evenly divided between rival candidates for the toga, one of whom favored and the other opposed the annexation of Texas.

For days the deadlock continued, until finally Daniel Kelso made an impassioned speech in which he urged the Legislature, as a duty to the whole nation, to choose a United States Senator, and advocated the election of Edward A. Hannigan, who favored annexation. The address carried the day and Hannigan arrived in Washington just in time to vote "aye" on the bill providing for the admission of the Lone Star State. His was the deciding vote, since the measure passed the United States Senate on the strength of Hannigan's "yes."

On February 28, 1845, the joint resolution passed and President Tyler signed it as one of the last and most important acts of his administration.

PERMIT GIVEN FOR NEW LINE

Authorization for the Gulf & West Texas Railway to construct a line in Gillespie, Mason, McCulloch, Concho and Tom Green counties, was recently given, conditionally, by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The proposed road would extend from Fredericksburg to Brady, a distance of 113 miles, and from Eden to San Angelo. The petition was granted conditioned that work should begin on the Fredericksburg-Brady line prior to July 1, 1930, and be completed by June 30, 1932.

TEXAS RAILWAY EARNINGS

Statistics of operation of the railroads of Texas in the calendar year of 1928, a compilation of which was recently completed by the Texas Railway Commission, show that gross earnings from operations amounted to $243,192,113, while operating expenses were $176,414,514, leaving a net operating revenue of $66,777,599. For the preceding year the corresponding figures were $245,162,395, $186,531,926 and $58,630,469. Figures for the calendar year 1929 will not be available for several months.

Texas led all other States in 1928 in trackage laid, with 443 miles of new line. Texas also led all States in railway construction in 1929 with 158.82 miles. Construction in 1930 will equal or exceed that of 1929. The present railway mileage of Texas is 16,547 miles. This is approximately 4,000 miles more than the trackage in Illinois, the second State in railway mileage.

In pre-war times the passenger service of Texas railroads provided approximately 30 per cent of the total revenue from operation, but the percentage is very much lower now. In 1920 Texas roads carried 30,947,106 passengers; in 1928 the number of passengers carried dropped to 7,910,483, or only 25 per cent as many as in 1920. Passenger revenues have not declined in the same proportion for the reason that loss in number of passengers has been largely in the short-haul class.

THREATENED INVASION THAT DIDN'T MATERIALIZE

Historians speak lightly of a threatened invasion of Texas by the Mexicans two months after Texas independence was won at San Jacinto, but since the invasion didn't materialize, not much attention is paid the incident by the early writers. Judge Felix D. Robertson, of Dallas, recently found among the papers of his father, General Felix H. Robertson, who died nearly two years ago in Waco, a letter which was written by General Thomas J. Rusk, which tells of the threatened invasion and sounds a call to arms. The letter was given General Robertson by his father, Gen. Jerome B. Robertson, who was a soldier in the Texas war for independence and a captain in the Somerville campaign of 1843. The letter is as follows:

"Headquarters, Victoria, 11 June, 1836.

"To Gen. Thomas J. Green.

"Sir: My spies have just brought information from Matamoros, of the date of the 9th and 10th inst.

"It consists of letters from Captains Carnes and Teal and Major Miller, who were arrested after having received passports from General Felixola. The information is of the most important character. It details the fact that Felixola was ordered to turn back with his troops about half way between Matamoros and San Patricio. Urrea had been appointed commander in chief and had arrived in Matamoros on his march to Texas with 4,000 new troops. Four thousand more were to embark at Vera Cruz in a few days.

"Urrea took up the line of march from Matamoros for La Bahia about four days ago. They have all sworn to exterminate the Texans, or never to return to Mexico. My force does not exceed 350 men. I have ordered in the cavalry that were directed to join you, and have also ordered Major Ward with his command to join me immediately.

"You will immediately see the necessity of joining me with all the force you can raise. You had best march by way of Coxeys on the Colorado. It would be well to detail all the cavalry you can in advance as they are the most important troops for immediate service. I have directed all the supplies, etc., to Cox's Point on the opposite side of the LaBaca.

"I have the honor to be with great respect,

"Your obedient servant,
"THOMAS J. RUSK.

"Brig. Gen'l. Comdg.
"Issue proclamations and bring on all the volunteers you can raise on the march as there is not one moment to lose.

"T. J. RUSK."

Three days after Gen. Rusk wrote the above letter President Burnet issued a proclamation calling the people to arms. The threatened invasion, however, failed to materialize. At that time Santa Anna, the president of Mexico and commander-in-chief of the Mexican armies, was still held a prisoner in Texas.

BRUNSWICK TO BE HANDLED BY DISTRIBUTORS

The radio, panatope and record department of Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company's Dallas branch has been transferred to the Schoellkopf Company, of Dallas, effective February 19, it was announced by W. H. Humphries, Brunswick branch manager. Offices of the Schoellkopf Company at Abilene and San Angelo also will be maintained.

Perry P. Pyle, who has been with Brunswick for some time, will remain in this territory as factory representative. G. O. Moore is general manager for Schoellkopf, with W. J. Lincham as sales manager and J. M. Harrell as radio sales manager.

Ronald F. Law, formerly manager of the record department for the Brunswick branch, and R. L. Credille, assistant, will continue in the same capacity with the Schoellkopf Company, together with the former stock room force.

A large stock of Brunswick radios, panatopes, combinations, portables and records will be handled to supply Dallas, Waco, San Angelo and the Panhandle, it was announced.

Other distributors in the Southwest are: Straus-Bodenheimer Company, of 805 Preston Ave., Houston, Texas, and 414 Dolorosa St., San Antonio; National Sales Company, El Paso, Texas, and McEwen Halliburton Co., Oklahoma City.

TEXAS MILLIONAIRES

Federal treasury actuaries, figuring on the basis of income taxes, find that Texas has 481 millionaires and 13 super-millionaires. Those whose holdings and investments yield them $50,000 a year are classed as millionaires, and those who have annual incomes ranging from $500,000 to $2,000,000 a year are placed in the list of super-millionaires.

A LITTLE FUN Jokes to Make You Laugh

Youthful Wisdom

"Can we play store in here, Mamma?"
"Yes, but you must be very, very quiet."
"We will, Mamma. We'll pretend we don't advertise."

Gates Ajar

"He put on speed, thinking he could beat the train to it."
"Did he get across?"
"He will as soon as the tombstone maker has it finished."

Manager—We want a man who can answer all sorts of questions.
Applicant—I'm your man, then. I'm the father of seven children.

Familiar Touch

Outside the storm raged. The thunder rolled and the lightning flashed almost continuously. Presently a bolt struck Mr. Jones and knocked him out of bed. He rose, yawned, rubbed his eyes and mumbled: "All right, dear, I'll get up."

Good Advice

A young man just out of college sought the advice of a hard-headed and successful business man. "Tell me, please, how I should go about getting a start in the great game of business?"
"Sell your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock," was the laconic reply.

A Late One on Lindbergh

Salesman: "You'll like this place, Colonel Lindbergh."
Lindbergh: "I think I'll take it."
Salesman: "Shall I send the bill to you today?"
Lindbergh: "No, I think you better send the bill to Morrow."

Prompt Service

"Poor old Bill fell off the roof of the Second National Bank Building a couple of hours ago."
"Heavens! Was he killed?"
"Well, I don't know, but I heard the insurance company handed him his check as he passed the seventeenth floor."

Simple Test

"Now, Mary, when you bathe the baby, be sure and use the thermometer to test the water."
Returning an hour later, the mistress asked: "Did you use the thermometer?"
"No ma'am, I can tell without that. If it's too hot, the baby turns red, and if it's too cold he turns blue."

It always was a funny world, And it gets funnier, by heck! Who'd ever thought we'd hear wife yell—
"Oh, dearie, please shave my neck!"

Not Fatally Injured

The cowboy entered the Robbinsdale cafe and ordered a beef steak. Ten minutes later the waitress brought in a T-bone that was quite rare. The cowboy cut it with his steak knife and then called the waitress.
"Take this back to the cook shack an' have it cooked," he said.
"But that has been cooked," said the girl.
"Cooked—heck," roared the cowboy. "I've seen steers hurt worse than that get well."

The Road Hog

Motorist (to companion as a huge truck takes up all the road ahead of them)—Well, I've tried everything but I can't seem to attract that driver's attention.
His Companion—Just leave it to me, Jim. Maybe you didn't know that I'm the champion hog caller of the world.

A Terrible Fate

"What has become of your brother?" inquired a friendly mosquito.
"He met a terrible fate," answered the other. "Those human beings poured kerosene all over the place."
"But he liked kerosene."
"Yes, that was the trouble. He gorged himself with it and then collided with a lightning bug."

Fatal Revelation

The prisoner was asked why he beat the victim.
"Well, judge, he called me a rhinoceros."
"Umph! Rhinoceros, eh? When did this happen?"
"Jess about three years ago, judge."
"Three years ago! Why did you wait until today to get even, then?"
"Well, judge, de facts am dat I never seed no rhinoceros 'till dis mawnin'."

Sad Predicament

Jones Smith tells about the sad predicament of the friend he knew who upon being asked if he was "ever tempted to sell his automobile," replied: "The temptation is strong enough, but there are too many points involved. You know I mortgaged my house in order to buy the machine."
"Well, I mortgaged the machine in order to build the garage, and now I've had to mortgage the garage in order to buy gasoline."

Premature

An Irishman lay dying when the odor of cooking assailed his nostrils. Summoning his weeping daughter to his bedside he said:
"Nora, darlint, ain't it doughnuts that I smell?"
"Right for ye, father," the girl replied.
"And would you be asking your mither if I can have one before I die?"
The daughter delivered the message to mother in the kitchen and brought back this answer:
"Mither says ye cannot have one of them doughnuts; they're fer the wake."

She Changed the Wording

"MY GRIEF IS MORE THAN I CAN BEAR."
The man who was to erect the monument was a little tardy in doing it and the widow remarried before it was done. This fact worried him, as he feared that he might have to change the wording of the inscription. So he called upon the lady and told her that he was now ready to do his work, and after some hesitation asked her if she wished to change the wording of the inscription in any way.
She politely replied: "No, just as I gave it, only add at the end the word 'Alone!'"

POULTRY FACTS

By F. W. KAZMEIER
Poultry Breeder, Bryan, Texas.

Keeping Records.

The average farm hen lays about 70 eggs per year. How many of these do you have? Even under farm conditions where the hen picks up a part of her living, such a hen is a money losing proposition. Why do you continue to keep her? Present prices of feed makes it doubly important for you to keep records, so you will know what you are doing. If you do not keep records, you are groping in the dark, you are just stumbling along, you are guessing, you don't know how much money you are losing. Farming, as a business, is carried on with less system and record-keeping than any other business. The first step to a profitable farming program is a system of record-keeping. At least make a start by keeping a record of the number of eggs produced each day by your flock. Do you believe the man that said, "It is right smart trouble picking up the eggs?"

A Good Example.

Here are the averages of all the farm demonstration flocks studied in Ohio:
Average number of hens per farm..... 234
Average eggs per hen 138

Youthful Wisdom

"Can we play store in here, Mamma?" "Yes, but you must be very, very quiet."

"We will, Mamma. We'll pretend we don't advertise."

Gates Ajar

"He put on speed, thinking he could beat the train to it."

"Did he get across?" "He will as soon as the tombstone maker has it finished."

Manager—We want a man who can answer all sorts of questions.

Applicant—I'm your man, then. I'm the father of seven children.

Familiar Touch

Outside the storm raged. The thunder rolled and the lightning flashed almost continuously. Presently a bolt struck Mr. Jones and knocked him out of bed. He rose, yawned, rubbed his eyes and mumbled: "All right, dear, I'll get up."

Good Advice

A young man just out of college sought the advice of a hard-headed and successful business man. "Tell me, please, how I should go about getting a start in the great game of business?" "Sell your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock," was the laconic reply.

A Late One on Lindbergh

Salesman: "You'll like this place, Colonel Lindbergh."

Lindbergh: "I think I'll take it."

Salesman: "Shall I send the bill to you today?"

Prompt Service

"Poor old Bill fell off the roof of the Second National Bank Building a couple of hours ago."

"Heavens! Was he killed?"

"Well, I don't know, but I heard the insurance company handed him his check as he passed the seventeenth floor."

Simple Test

"Now, Mary, when you bathe the baby, be sure and use the thermometer to test the water."

Returning an hour later, the mistress asked: "Did you use the thermometer?"

"No ma'am. I can tell without that. If it's too hot, the baby turns red, and if it's too cold he turns blue."

And it gets funnier, by heck!

Who'd ever thought we'd hear wife yell—

"Oh, dearie, please shave my neck!"

Not Fatally Injured

The cowboy entered the Robbinsdale cafe and ordered a beef steak. Ten minutes later the waitress brought in a T-bone that was quite rare. The cowboy cut it with his steak knife and then called the waitress.

"Take this back to the cook shack and have it cooked," he said.

"But that has been cooked," said the girl.

"Cooked—heck," roared the cowboy.

"I've seen steers hurt worse than that get well."

The Road Hog

His Companion—Just leave it to me, Jim. Maybe you didn't know that I'm the champion hog caller of the world.

A Terrible Fate

"What has become of your brother?" inquired a friendly mosquito.

"He met a terrible fate," answered the other. "Those human beings poured kerosene all over the place."

"But he liked kerosene."

"Yes, that was the trouble. He gorged himself with it and then collided with a lightning bug."

Fatal Revelation

The prisoner was asked why he beat the victim.

"Well, judge, he called me a rhinoceros."

"Umph! Rhinoceros, eh? When did this happen?"

"Jess about three years ago, judge."

"Three years ago! Why did you wait until today to get even, then?"

Sad Predicament

Jones Smith tells about the sad predicament of the friend he knew who upon being asked if he was "ever tempted to sell his automobile," replied: "The temptation is strong enough, but there are too many points involved. You know I mortgaged my house in order to buy the machine."

"Well, I mortgaged the machine in order to build the garage, and now I've had to mortgage the garage in order to buy gasoline."

Premature

An Irishman lay dying when the odor of cooking assailed his nostrils. Summoning his weeping daughter to his bedside he said:

"Nora, darlint, ain't it doughnuts that I smell?"

"Right for ye, father," the girl replied.

"And would you be asking your mither if I can have one before I die?"

The daughter delivered the message to mother in the kitchen and brought back this answer:

"Mither says ye cannot have one of them doughnuts; they're fer the wake."

She Changed the Wording

A young widow went to select a monument for her recently deceased husband. After due consideration she picked out a stone and ordered the following inscription placed upon it:

"My Grief Is More Than I Can Bear."

The man who was to erect the monument was a little tardy in doing it and the widow remarried before it was done. This fact worried him, as he feared that he might have to change the wording of the inscription. So he called upon the lady and told her that he was now ready to do his work, and after some hesitation asked her if she wished to change the wording of the inscription in any way.

She politely replied: "No, just as I gave it, only add at the end the word 'Alone'."

Keeping Records.

The average farm hen lays about 70 eggs per year. How many of these do you have? Even under farm conditions where the hen picks up a part of her living, such a hen is a money losing proposition. Why do you continue to keep her?

Present prices of feed makes it doubly important for you to keep records, so you will know what you are doing. If you do not keep records, you are groping in the dark, you are just stumbling along, you are guessing, you don't know how much money you are losing. Farming, as a business, is carried on with less system and record-keeping than any other business. The first step to a profitable farming program is a system of record-keeping. At least make a start by keeping a record of the number of eggs produced each day by your flock. Do you believe the man that said, "it is right smart trouble picking up the eggs?"

A Good Example.

Here are the averages of all the farm demonstration flocks studied in Ohio:

Average number of hens per farm..... 234

Average eggs per hen 138

Cash receipts per hen $5.19

Feed cost per hen 2.08

Cash per hen above feed costs 3.11

In answer to the above some of you will say, why don't you show some figures applicable to Texas and Oklahoma. In reply I will come right back and say because you don't keep records; you say it is too hot and troublesome. You claim your grandfather was a success, and did not keep books or records. You believe in following in the footsteps of your grandfather 20 years ago; you don't believe we have made any progress; you don't know that Col. Lindbergh made a non-stop flight across the Atlantic Ocean. Yes, we have made progress in poultry-keeping as well as in aviation.

TEXAS FARM NEWS

The largest wheat farm in New Mexico is 20 miles from Bellevue. This farm had 6,500 acres in wheat last year. Twelve combines were used in harvesting the crop.

This is not a Texas farm story, but comes from Missouri. S. J. Riggins derived a gross annual income of $6,000 from six acres of Rocky Ozark land. Riggins started his poultry business five years ago with five hens. By providing clean laying rooms and by concentrating his production on infertile eggs that bring more than top prices, he has found it a very paying business. He says his gross income is fully $1000 from each of his rocky acres. Quality shipments and high-grade eggs, carefully sorted, bring a price nearly 20 per cent higher than the best market price. That 20 per cent in turn almost pays for feed for his flock.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce is planning to test the growing of flue-cured tobacco in East Texas in an effort to secure an additional money crop for that area. Flue-curing is the air-drying process used in the cigarette type. It is claimed that tobacco was grown in East Texas prior to the Civil War, but was abandoned on account of insect blight. Since then means have been found to overcome the insect trouble. It is said that soil surveys indicate that several East Texas counties have considerable areas of what is known as Norfolk soil, which it is claimed, will enable that section to produce a type of tobacco similar to the typical flue-cured leaf of Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia.

Record prices for fifteen years were broken recently when Donna Anna, a 15-month-old Texas Hereford heifer, was sold at Hereford for $5,200. The heifer was owned by V. L. McDonald and was purchased by V. F. Uchel & Sons, of Strong City, Kansas.

Ralph Patterson, of near Paris, gets a nice profit from his flock of 58 White Leghorn hens, which he ascribes to proper care and feeding. During a seven-day period which ended the 20th of January, Mr. Patterson got from his little flock 317 eggs. At the price then prevailing, 40 cents a dozen, the eggs sold for $11.90, or $1.70 a day from 58 hens. Mr. Patterson keeps his flock in a laying house 24 feet square. The hens are given warm water twice daily and fed on a laying mash and scratch feed.

Carl Williams, member of the Federal Farm Board, recently issued a statement to the effect that unless the American cotton farmer, individually and collectively, is willing to co-operate with the Federal Farm Board in its efforts to improve the character of the staple and reduce the acreage devoted to its production, all the efforts the Farm Board has made or may make will be futile. Mr. Williams called attention to the fact that other nations are growing more cotton and of an increasingly improved character while the cotton production in the United States shows deterioration, both in character and staple. The condition in the United States, he says, is due to introduction of short staple varieties and the lowered fertility of the land.

Geo. D. Lindley, of Tahoka, claims for one of his cows the milk production record of his county. His cow gives five pounds of milk per day which tests 4 to 5.5 per cent, or two and one-fourth pounds of butter a day. The cow produced 67 pounds of butter fat in one month at a value of $26.80. Feeding costs are $7.00 per month.

J. R. Shelton, of Lamar county, who is one of the most successful pecan growers in that section of the State, practices and recommends to pecan growers the following method of cultivation: Plow deeply as soon as possible after Christmas, being careful not to plow too near large trees. The larger trees should not be plowed nearer than ten feet. Small trees may be plowed closely enough to lap the dirt. Beginning about April 1 the broken ground should be disced across. This should be repeated about once every two weeks until September 1. At intervals during this time all weeds and grass should be cut with a hoe. Spraying should begin about April. Trees should be sprayed twice in April, and again about 30 days from the second spraying. When leaf worms appear trees should be sprayed as often as is necessary to destroy them. In making a spray mixture, three pounds of arsenate of lead should be used to 50 gallons of water, adding 20 pounds of slaked lime. In discing each time should be across the previous discing. The soil should be kept loose. When orchards are cared for in this manner the trees will not suffer from hot, dry weather and the nuts will fill out much better.

Steady profits from black-eyed peas in Henderson county is responsible for largely increased interest in this crop and the acreage this year promises to be larger. Threshing agencies have taken the lead, guaranteeing a price at planting time, usually with the provision for the benefit of any improvement in the market which may occur before market time.

An acre contest, which proved a great success and put a church in much better financial condition is reported from the Caledonia community in Shelby county. This was an acre-tithing contest, the contestants agreeing to give one-tenth of the net income from the acre cultivated to the church. The prize, which was a young Jersey heifer, was won by Grady Ash, who planted his acre in ribbon cane and sold his crop for $206. After young Ash had given his tenth to the church, ($20.60) he still had $175.40 left, and also the Jersey calf.

About fifty Federal and State scientists recently attended a meeting at Temple, Texas, which was called to enable the workers to submit their findings in last year's work and observations in the fight against root rot in cotton. Nothing new in the way of practical control measures was offered, but assurance was given that well-trained and experienced investigators are continuing their work and will leave nothing undone to find the solution of this troublesome problem. Some of the scientists expressed the belief, based on experiments, that by introducing sulphur into the two upper feet of soil in which cotton is raised it may be practicable to stamp out the fungus. Such methods are as yet, however, only in the experimental stage.

Recently the home economics department of a large mail order house made a canvass of the young people on the farms of Texas, and at the conclusion of the canvass gave out the surprising statement that of the 750,000 farm boys and girls of Texas from which answers were had 80 per cent of the boys and 93 per cent of the girls plan to remain on the farm. These figures were very surprising to the people at large, who were under the impression that few of the young people on the farms desired to remain there. These figures show a very healthy condition in farm life, to which agricultural colleges, farm clubs and demonstration and home agents have doubtless contributed largely.

The Southern Cotton Seed Crushers' Association at a recent meeting, adopted unanimously a resolution demanding that the cotton seed oil industry of the South be protected from the competition of foreign vegetable oil imports, either by protective tariff revision, or by giving the Philippine Islands independence, so as to bring coconut oil products from the islands automatically under tariff restrictions. The text of the resolution was telegraphed to the finance committee of both Houses of Congress. The resolution recites that destructive and impossible competition from foreign vegetable oils has caused the price of cotton seed oil to slump to 6 3/4 cents a pound, the low price of oil materially decreasing the value of cotton seed. A great proportion of the foreign vegetable oils are coconut oils imported tariff-free from the Philippine Islands. The resolution further recites that the coconut industry in the Philippines is largely owned by foreign interests, and not by the natives, and that the Filipino laborers receive a daily wage of 18 to 20 cents for producing a commodity which is in direct competition with cotton seed oil produced by the farmers of the South.

In an effort to improve cotton in Harrison county ten carloads of the latest improved seeds have been ordered by the Marshall banks and business men for distribution among the farmers for the 1930 crop.

Registered sows are being distributed by the Midland Chamber of Commerce as prizes to the farm boys of the country. The champion cotton and maize growers of the county will receive the fine sows. The Chamber of Commerce has adopted the policy of giving live stock prizes instead of cash to stimulate greater interest in better farming and the production of better live stock.

A State organization for marketing honey was recently formed at San Antonio at a gathering of beekeepers representing about 10,000 colonies. Plans were made to open advertising and sales headquarters at San Antonio to direct the sale of the 1930 crop. Perfection of a permanent organization will depend upon the success of the members in signing up a minimum of 25,000 colonies.

There are 111 white demonstration agents and 21 colored home agents in the State and figures gathered by agricultural organizations show that millions of dollars are added annually to the income of Texas farms through their work. The home demonstration agent of Smith county lists a total of $176,788 as the value of home food products canned and preserved by the 900 women and girl members of the 38 clubs in that county.

More than 133,000 pounds of meat were canned and about 75,000 quarts of fruit and vegetables. Splendid reports come from the home demonstration agent of Bowie county. This agent says that while an old rooster if sold on foot will bring around 45 cents, the same product when canned brought $3. She urges her members to can the old roosters and cull hens, and also the fat cows and yearlings which do not command an attractive price on account of the recent drop in prices. Instead of getting $15 to $20 an animal, the canned product brought about $42, and the hide paid for the cans. The home demonstration agent of Lamar county reports that a club member of that county last fall canned a 300-pound beef, which could not have been sold on foot for more than $40. The beef was canned and yielded a profit of $12, above the cost of beef, cans and labor. The beef was canned in the form of steaks, roasts, chili and soup meats.

Save Money on a Feed Grinder

You can save a lot more for a feed grinder than tape ads, but you can't buy a better outfit. Government-controlled, self-feed rolls make feeding automatic. Low speed saves power. Grinding done in air at top of mill making grain cooler and saving wear on sieve screen. Grindsoy bean hay, oats, alfalfa, shuck corn, barley—any grain or roughage to any fineness. Mail us the ad with your name and address. We will send free grinder catalog.

TEXAS FARM NEWS

The largest wheat farm in New Mexico is 20 miles from Bellview. This farm had 6,500 acres in wheat last year. Twelve combines were used in harvesting the crop.

This is not a Texas farm story, but comes from Missouri. S. J. Riggins derived a gross annual income of $6,000 from six acres of Rocky Ozark land. Riggins started his poultry business five years ago with five hens. By providing clean laying rooms and by concentrating his production on infertile eggs that bring more than top prices, he has found it a very paying business. He says his gross income is fully $1000 from each of his rocky acres. Quality shipments and high-grade eggs, carefully sorted, bring a price nearly 20 per cent higher than the best market price. That 20 per cent in turn almost pays for feed for his flock.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce is planning to test the growing of flue-cured tobacco in East Texas in an effort to secure an additional money crop for that area. Flue-curing is the air-drying process used in the cigarette type. It is claimed that tobacco was grown in East Texas prior to the Civil War, but was abandoned on account of insect blight. Since then means have been found to overcome the insect trouble. It is said that soil surveys indicate that several East Texas counties have considerable areas of what is known as Norfolk soil, which it is claimed, will enable that section to produce a type of tobacco similar to the typical flue-cured leaf of Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia.

Record prices for fifteen years were broken recently when Donna Anna, a 15-month-old Texas Hereford heifer, was sold at Hereford for $5,200. The heifer was owned by V. L. McDonald and was purchased by V. F. Urchel & Sons, of Strong City, Kansas.

Ralph Patterson, of near Paris, gets a nice profit from his flock of 58 White Leghorn hens, which he ascribes to proper care and feeding. During a seven-day period which ended the 20th of January, Mr. Patterson got from his little flock 317 eggs. At the price then prevailing, 40 cents a dozen, the eggs sold for $11.90, or $1.70 a day from 58 hens. Mr. Patterson keeps his flock in a laying house 24 feet square. The hens are given warm water twice daily and fed on a laying mash and scratch feed.

Carl Williams, member of the Federal Farm Board, recently issued a statement to the effect that unless the American cotton farmer, individually and collectively, is willing to co-operate with the Federal Farm Board in its efforts to improve the character of the staple and reduce the acreage devoted to its production, all the efforts the board has made or may make will be futile. Mr. Williams called attention to the fact that other nations are growing more cotton and of an increasingly improved character while the cotton production in the United States shows deterioration, both in character and staple. The condition in the United States, he says, is due to introduction of short staple varieties and the lowered fertility of the land.

Geo. D. Lindley, of Tahoka, claims for one of his cows the milk production record of his county. His cow gives five pounds of milk per day which tests 4 to 5.5 per cent, or two and one-fourth pounds of butter a day. The cow produced 67 pounds of butter fat in one month at a value of $26.80. Feeding costs are $7.00 per month.

J. R. Shelton, of Lamar county, who is one of the most successful pecan growers in that section of the State, practices and recommends to pecan growers the following method of cultivation: Plow deeply as soon as possible after Christmas, being careful not to plow too near large trees. The larger trees should not be plowed nearer than ten feet. Small trees may be plowed closely enough to lap the dirt. Beginning about April 1 the broken ground should be disced across. This should be repeated about once every two weeks until September 1. At intervals during this time all weeds and grass should be cut with a hoe. Spraying should begin about April. Trees should be sprayed twice in April, and again about 30 days from the second spraying. When leaf worms appear trees should be sprayed as often as is necessary to destroy them. In making a spray mixture, three pounds of arsenate of lead should be used to 50 gallons of water, adding 20 pounds of slaked lime. In disceding each time should be across the previous disced. The soil should be kept loose. When orchards are cared for in this manner the trees will not suffer from hot, dry weather and the nuts will fill out much better.

Steady profits from black-eyed peas in Henderson county is responsible for largely increased interest in this crop and the acreage this year promises to be larger. Threshing agencies have taken the lead, guaranteeing a price at planting time, usually with the provision for the benefit of any improvement in the market which may occur before market time.

An acre contest, which proved a great success and put a church in much better financial condition is reported from the Caledonia community in Shelby county. This was an acre-tithing contest, the contestants agreeing to give one-tenth of the net income from the acre cultivated to the church. The prize, which was a young Jersey heifer, was won by Grady Ash, who planted his acre in ribbon cane and sold his crop for $206. After young Ash had given his tenth to the church, ($20.60) he still had $175.40 left, and also the Jersey calf.

About fifty Federal and State scientists recently attended a meeting at Temple, Texas, which was called to enable the workers to submit their findings in last year's work and observations in the fight against root rot in cotton. Nothing new in the way of practical control measures was offered, but assurance was given that well-trained and experienced investigators are continuing their work and will leave nothing undone to find the solution of this troublesome problem. Some of the scientists expressed the belief, based on experiments, that by introducing sulphur into the two upper feet of soil in which cotton is raised it may be practicable to stamp out the fungus. Such methods are as yet, however, only in the experimental stage.

Recently the home economics department of a large mail order house made a canvass of the young people on the farms of Texas, and at the conclusion of the canvass gave out the surprising statement that of the 750,000 farm boys and girls of Texas from which answers were had 80 per cent of the boys and 93 per cent of the girls plan to remain on the farm. These figures were very surprising to the people at large, who were under the impression that few of the young people on the farms desired to remain there. These figures show a very healthy condition in farm life, to which agricultural colleges, farm clubs and demonstration and home agents have doubtless contributed largely.

The Southern Cotton Seed Crushers' Association at a recent meeting, adopted unanimously a resolution demanding that the cotton seed oil industry of the South be protected from the competition of foreign vegetable oil imports, either by protective tariff revision, or by giving the Philippine Islands independence, so as to bring coconut oil products from the islands automatically under tariff restrictions. The text of the resolution was telegraphed to the finance committee of both Houses of Congress. The resolution recites that destructive and impossible competition from foreign vegetable oils has caused the price of cotton seed oil to slump to 6 3/4 cents a pound, the low price of oil materially decreasing the value of cotton seed. A great proportion of the foreign vegetable oils are coconut oils imported tariff-free from the Philippine Islands. The resolution further recites that the coconut industry in the Philippines is largely owned by foreign interests, and not by the natives, and that the Filipino laborers receive a daily wage of 18 to 20 cents for producing a commodity which is in direct competition with cotton seed oil produced by the farmers of the South.

In an effort to improve cotton in Harrison county ten carloads of the latest improved seeds have been ordered by the Marshall banks and business men for distribution among the farmers for the 1930 crop.

Registered sows are being distributed by the Midland Chamber of Commerce as prizes to the farm boys of the country. The champion cotton and maize growers of the county will receive the fine sows. The Chamber of Commerce has adopted the policy of giving live stock prizes instead of cash to stimulate greater interest in better farming and the production of better live stock.

A State organization for marketing honey was recently formed at San Antonio at a gathering of beekeepers representing about 10,000 colonies. Plans were made to open advertising and sales headquarters at San Antonio to direct the sale of the 1930 crop. Perfection of a permanent organization will depend upon the success of the members in signing up a minimum of 25,000 colonies.

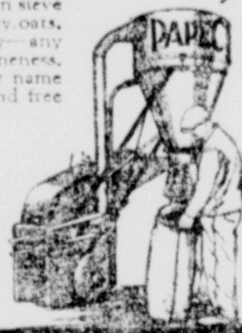

There are 111 white demonstration agents and 21 colored home agents in the State and figures gathered by agricultural organizations show that millions of dollars are added annually to the income of Texas farms through their work. The home demonstration agent of Smith county lists a total of $176,788 as the value of home food products canned and preserved by the 900 women and girl members of the 38 clubs in that county.

More than 133,000 pounds of meat were canned and about 75,000 quarts of fruit and vegetables. Splendid reports come from the home demonstration agent of Bowie county. This agent says that while an old rooster if sold on foot will bring around 45 cents, the same product when canned brought $3. She urges her members to can the old roosters and cull hens, and also the fat cows and yearlings which do not command an attractive price on account of the recent drop in prices. Instead of getting $15 to $20 an animal, the canned product brought about $42, and the hide paid for the cans. The home demonstration agent of Lamar county reports that a club member of that county last fall canned a 300-pound beef, which could not have been sold on foot for more than $40. The beef was canned and yielded a profit of $12, above the cost of beef, cans and labor. The beef was canned in the form of steaks, roasts, chili and soup meats.

For Our BOYS and GIRLS

By AUNT MARY

CLEVER STUNT NO. 19

Well, boys and girls, not long now until school will be out; then for a whole vacation time. But vacation time is very nice and I am sure all will make the most of it. Sometimes, it so happens, we are too anxious for that pleasant time and fail to do our very best the last month or two of school. I am sure, all my boy and girl readers of this page, will not do this, however, but will try even to make higher grades the last few weeks of school. Will you?

SUNSHINE FOR SHUT-IN CLUB NEWS

This has been a rather quiet month—only a few letters. How did you enjoy all the letters on the February page? I was very proud of them. Now, this month we are going to start back to work in earnest and I hope all of you are going to do your best to help me make the club bigger and better in every way.

Assignment for Members Shut-In List

Is your letter here this month? If it is, be sure and do your duty. Remember, there is a little Shut-In that is dependent on you for happiness—NOW. Will you disappoint him or her? I feel sure you will not. (Note: "When more than one letter appears in front of a Shut-In name, all the members with the letters designated are to send sunshine like in the first line (A—D); this means that members with the letters A, B, C, and D are all to send sunshine.) Be sure to find YOURS all to send sunshine. If not, it will appear next month, so be prepared.

(A—D)—Miss Claudine West, Box G, Clinton, Okla. Age 23.
(E—H)—Mrs. Mattie S. Stevens, Co. Texas. Age 55.
(I—L)—Mrs. Alice Beantick, Stillwell, Okla. Age 58.
(M—P)—Jewell Quattlebaum, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 15, Leedey, Okla. Age 19.
(Q—T)—Ella Kay, Eldon, Okla. Age 12.
(U—X)—Mrs. Edna May, Winfield, Texas. Age 29.
(Y—Z)—Miss Mabel Brown, Hamlin, Texas. Age 29.
(A—AF)—Mrs. Cora Woodward, San Saba, Texas. Age 59.
(AG—AH)—J. P. Dillard, Big Foot, Texas. Age 63.
(AI—AN)—R. C. Shaw, Route 3, Box 94, Madill, Okla. Age 4.
(AO—AR)—Miss Iris Platt, Route 5, Box 99, Canton, Texas. Age 17.

There were only a few letters this month; one is from a faithful Shut-In member who never fails to express her appreciation of the club work—Miss Mable Brown, Hamlin, Texas. Her letter follows:

"I certainly enjoy trying to make others happy and intend to do so as long as I can. My strength is failing gradually, in my arms and hands. I am very proud to belong to your club and think it is so grand; it is food for my little heart to know of another. I read and write nearly all of the time, and can truthfully say that I enjoy receiving cards and letters as well as anyone. It is a great pleasure to get mail from other States as well as your own. I had a splendid Christmas with many nice presents, among them a choice radio which is certainly valued highly by all of us. Good luck and God bless us all, is my sincere wish for the future."

There was one from a young lady who has been a member of the club for some time and who recently became a happy bride. She has sent us a lovely poem which I am sure all will enjoy. Aunt Mary and the Sunshine Club join her many friends in wishing her a long and happy married life—a life, no doubt, that will reflect her lovely poem, which follows:

Just a Little Hope from Heaven.

Just a little bit of cheering
When our hearts are feeling sad,
And a little bit of sunshine
Seems to make us very glad.

Just a little bit of courage
When there's sorrow drawing near;
And a little hope from heaven
Seems to drive away the fear.

Just a little ray of sunshine,
And a little bit of love,
Makes us see the many blessings
Send to us from God above.
—By Mrs. Anna Johnson, Coalgate, Okla.

Contest Prize Awards

In the January issue of this page Aunt Mary offered six prizes for letters that would give her the best suggestions as to improving the Sunshine for Shut-In Club. Here are the awards as they were judged:

First prize of two ($2.00) dollars is awarded to Catherine Weathers, Box 284, Canyon, Texas. Catherine is one of our Shut-Ins.

Second prizes of one ($1.00) dollar each are awarded to: Amy Bell, Tanglewood, Texas, and Olive Little, Granger, Texas.

Third prizes, each a pretty and interesting book, to: Mildred Tupp, Ennis, Texas, Route 2, Box 21; Ludie Freeman, Henderson, Texas, and Ruby Williams, Santa Anna, Texas.

There were several other letters making suggestions that were of great help to Aunt Mary. I want to thank everyone that sent in letters and I am sorry that we couldn't award a prize to everyone. All the letters were so much appreciated.

Here is Catherine Weathers' suggestions. The letter is exceptionally neat in style and writing:

"First, I would suggest that the Sunshine Club members write more cheerful letters to the Shut-Ins and admonish them to become as reconciled to their afflictions as possible. We see so many stout young people drifting along carelessly, not seeming to think of anything but worldly pleasure. No doubt many of us Shut-Ins, if we could go and come as we pleased, we could do a wonderful work in the world, but let us be thankful that with the use of our pen and paper we can still bring happiness and cheer to others. It seems to me if we had a lot of good books to send Shut-Ins they would be most helpful. Soon as one Shut-In reads a book he or she could send it to another to read. If we had a religious circuit letter, say twenty to a circuit, to discuss different subjects in the Bible and as the bundle of letters come around the second time take out your old letter and put in a new one. Right here I am going to beg all members to make the Bible their companion. How many of you can repeat the books of the Bible, old and new, like ABC? I learned them when I was ten years old. I am the only one of a large family that can repeat them. * * * (Isn't this wonderful, boys and girls?) * * * I want to impress on the minds of members, when you receive a gift or letter, always return your thanks. Let us cheer up and help make 1930 a banner year. Not just a few of us—but all—for in unity there is strength."

Aunt Mary is surely proud of this letter—it is so lovely. I am proud that we have boys and girls with such depth of character and such Christian hearts and souls. As I sit here copying the last few words of Catherine's letter, a little bird perched on a limb, outside my open window, seemed to sing his whole-hearted approval. Possibly, somehow, through God's great plan the little feathered folk know when man is happy and when he is sad. Oh, beautiful creatures of God's great plan, who would harm a feather of your pretty throats? Are we not all God's creatures, each and every one? Protect and cheer the sad and afflicted and carry the message of protection and love to our feathered friends as well as to our human friends. This is the aim of our club.

Are You a Member of the Sunshine Club?

If you are not a member of the Sunshine for Shut-Ins Club, and would like to join, here are the rules and regulations and how to join:

Our motto is: "I Want to Bring Happiness to Others."

We are striving to bring cheer and sunshine into the lives of young and old who are bed-ridden, or bound to a wheel chair, or who spend their time in eternal darkness—the blind. First, we join the club and are assigned a letter group; that is, you are given a letter or set of letters that will designate the group to which you belong, on the card that will be sent you. Each month on this page are printed the names, addresses and ages of our Shut-In members, and preceding each name are the letters of the members that are to write or send sunshine that month to a particular Shut-In. If a gift is sent to a Shut-In, we try to limit our gift to ten cents as this will not burden anyone. However, it will cost almost nothing to send letters, cards and little messages of cheer and love.

If you think you would like to help us in this great work, fill in the membership coupon below and mail to: Aunt Mary, Box 1012, Fort Worth, Texas. There are no fee or dues; membership is free to readers of this page.

Are You a Shut-In?

If you are a Shut-In, or know of one, that would like to join this club, write Aunt Mary. The only obligation of the Shut-In members is that each third month after their names appear on this page, they must write to us and tell us if they are receiving letters and messages from the members or not; and send us their own full name and correct address. Write your name and address carefully. In this way we can keep a check on the members and also on the correct address of the Shut-Ins, this saving members the inconvenience of sending out letters that cannot reach a Shut-In because of wrong address. If Shut-Ins are not willing to do this we must drop them from the list, because we feel this is only fair to members that want to do their task well and should be rewarded with a kind message from the Shut-In. Also this will help Aunt Mary check the members that are not doing their duty and she can drop their membership and prevent some little Shut-In from being disappointed. If you are a Shut-In and want to join our club and live up to the one only rule for Shut-Ins, fill in the "I am a Shut-In" coupon and mail to: Aunt Mary, Box 1012, Fort Worth, Texas.

LIVE STORIES IN VERSE

For the child that lives in the country there are dreams of a day when they can go to the city—where there are gay lights—and lots of things going on. But for the child who must live in the city, there are dreams of the quiet country and the beauty there. Here is a little verse that tells its own story:

The Little London Girl

In my little Green House, quite content am I,
When the hot sun pours down from the sky;
For oh, I love the country—the beautiful country.
Who'd live in a London street when there's the country?

I live in a London street, there I long and long
To be the whole day the sweet flowers among—
Instead of tall chimney-pot up in the sky,
The joy of seeing birds and dragon flies go by.

At home I lie in bed, and cannot go to sleep,
For the sound of cart-wheels upon the hard street.
But here my eyes close up to no sound of anything
Except it is to hear the nightingales sing.

And then I see the chickens and the geese go walking,
I hear the pigs and the ducks all talking,
And the red and spotted cows they stare at me,
As if they wonder whoever I could be.

I see the little lambs out with their mothers—
Such pretty little white young sisters and brothers.
Oh, I'll stay in the country, and make a daisy chain,
And never go back to London again.

UP-SIDE-DOWN IT STILL READS THE SAME

Well, boys and girls, not long now until school will be out; then for a whole vacation time. But vacation time is very nice and I am sure all will make the most of it. Sometimes, it so happens, we are too anxious for that pleasant time and fail to do our very best the last month or two of school. I am sure, all my boy and girl readers of this page, will not do this, however, but will try even to make higher grades the last few weeks of school. Will you?

SUNSHINE FOR SHUT-IN CLUB NEWS

This has been a rather quiet month—only a few letters. How did you enjoy all the letters on the February page? I was very proud of them. Now, this month we are going to start back to work in earnest and I hope all of you are going to do your best to help me make the club bigger and better in every way.

Assignment for Members Shut-In List

Is your letter here this month? If it is, be sure and do your duty. Remember, there is a little Shut-In that is dependent on you for happiness—NOW. Will you disappoint him or her? I feel sure you will not. (Note: "When more than one letter appears in front of a Shut-In name, all the members with the letters designated are to send sunshine like in the first line (A-D); this means that members with the letters A, B, C, and D are all to send sunshine.) Be sure to find YOURS if it appears this month. If not, it will appear next month, so be prepared.

- (A-D)—Miss Claudine West, Box G, Clinton, Okla. Age 23.
(E-H)—Mrs. Mattie S. Stevens, Cost Texas. Age 88.
(I-L)—Mrs. Alice Beaudet, Stillwell, Okla. Age 50.
(M-P)—Jewell Jett, Stillwell, Okla. Age 50.
(Q-T)—Mrs. F. M. May, Winfield, Okla. Age 12.
(U-X)—Mrs. Mabel Brown, Hamlin, Texas. Age 29.
(Y-AB)—Mrs. Cora Woodward, San Saba, Texas. Age 59.
(AC-AJ)—J. P. Dillard, Big Foot, Texas. Age 63.
(AK-AN)—R. C. Shaw, Route 3, Box 94, Madill, Okla. Age 4.
(AO-AR)—Miss Iris Platt, Route 5, Box 99, Canton, Texas. Age 17.

There were only a few letters this month; one is from a faithful Shut-In member who never fails to express her appreciation of the club work—Miss Mable Brown, Hamlin, Texas. Her letter follows:

"I certainly enjoy trying to make others happy and intend to do so as long as I can. My strength is failing gradually, in my arms and hands. I am very proud to belong to your club and think it is so grand; it is food for one's soul to know of another. I read and write nearly all of the time, and can truthfully say that I enjoy receiving cards and letters as well as anyone. It is a great pleasure to get mail from other States as well as your own. I had a splendid Christmas with many nice presents, among them a choice radio which is certainly valued highly by all of us. Good luck and God bless us all, is my sincere wish for the future."

There was one from a young lady who has been a member of the club for some time and who recently became a happy bride. She has sent us a lovely poem which I am sure all will enjoy. Aunt Mary and the Sunshine Club join her many friends in wishing her a long and happy married life—a life, no doubt, that will reflect her lovely poem, which follows:

Just a Little Hope from Heaven.

Just a little bit of cheering
When our hearts are feeling sad,
And a little bit of sunshine
Seems to make us very glad.

Just a little bit of courage
When there's sorrow drawing near;
And a little hope from heaven
Seems to drive away the fear.

Just a little ray of sunshine,
And a little bit of love,
Makes us see the many blessings
Send to us from God above.
—By Mrs. Anna Johnson, Coalgate, Okla.

Contest Prize Awards

In the January issue of this page Aunt Mary offered six prizes for letters that would give her the best suggestions as to improving the Sunshine for Shut-In Club. Here are the awards as they were judged:

First prize of two ($2.00) dollars is awarded to Catherine Weathers, Box 284, Canyon, Texas. Catherine is one of our Shut-Ins.

Second prizes of one ($1.00) dollar each are awarded to: Amy Bell, Tanglewood, Texas, and Olive Little, Granger, Texas.

Third prizes, each a pretty and interesting book, to: Mildred Tapp, Ennis, Texas, Route 2, Box 21; Lulu Freeman, Henderson, Texas, and Ruby Williams, Santa Anna, Texas.

There were several other letters making suggestions that were of great help to Aunt Mary. I want to thank everyone that sent in letters and I am sorry that we couldn't award a prize to everyone. All the letters were so much appreciated.

Here is Catherine Weathers' suggestions. The letter is exceptionally neat in style and writing:

"First, I would suggest that the Sunshine Club members write more cheerful letters to the Shut-Ins and admonish them to become reconciled to their afflictions as possible. We see so many stout young people drifting along carelessly, not seeming to think of anything but worldly pleasure. No doubt many of us Shut-Ins, if we could go and come as we pleased, we could do a wonderful work in the world, but let us be thankful that with the use of our pen and paper we can still bring happiness and cheer to others. It seems to me if we had a lot of good books to send Shut-Ins they would be most helpful. Soon as one Shut-In reads a book he or she could send it to another to read. If we had a religious circuit letter, say twenty to a circuit, to discuss different subjects in the Bible and as the bundle of letters come around the second time take out your old letter and put in a new one. Right here I am going to beg all members to make the Bible their companion. How many of you can repeat the books of the Bible, old and new, I like ABC? I learned them when I was ten years old. I am the only one of a large family that can repeat them. * * * (Isn't this wonderful, boys and girls?) * * * I want to impress on the minds of members, when you receive a gift or letter, always return your thanks. Let us cheer up and help make 1930 a banner year. Not just a few of us—but all—for in unity there is strength."

Aunt Mary is surely proud of this letter—it is so lovely. I am proud that we have boys and girls with such depth of character and such Christian hearts and souls. As I sit here copying the last few words of Catherine's letter, a little bird perched on a limb, outside my open window, seemed to sing his whole-hearted approval. Possibly, somehow, through God's great plan the little feathered folk know when man is happy and when he is sad. Oh, beautiful creatures of God's great plan, who would harm a feather of your pretty throats? Are we not all God's creatures, each and every one? Protect and cheer the sad and afflicted and carry the message of protection and love to our feathered friends as well as to our human friends. This is the aim of our club.

Are You a Member of the Sunshine Club?

If you are not a member of the Sunshine for Shut-Ins Club, and would like to join, here are the rules and regulations and how to join:

Our motto is: "I Want to Bring Happiness to Others."

We are striving to bring cheer and sunshine into the lives of young and old who are bed-ridden, or bound to a wheel chair, or who spend their time in eternal darkness—the blind. First, we join the club and are assigned a letter group; that is, you are given a letter or set of letters that will designate the group to which you belong, on the card that will be sent you. Each month on this page are printed the names, addresses and ages of our Shut-In members, and preceding each name are the letters of the members that are to write or send sunshine that month to a particular Shut-In. If a gift is sent to a Shut-In, we try to limit our gift to ten cents as this will not burden anyone. However, it will cost almost nothing to send letters, cards and little messages of cheer and love.

If you think you would like to help us in this great work, fill in the membership coupon below and mail to: Aunt Mary, Box 1012, Fort Worth, Texas. There are no fee or dues; membership is free to readers of this page.

Are You a Shut-In?

If you are a Shut-In, or know of one, that would like to join this club, write Aunt Mary. The only obligation of the Shut-In members is that each third month after their names appear on this page, they must write to us and tell us if they are receiving letters and messages from the members or not; and send us their own full name and correct address. Write your name and address carefully. In this way we can keep a check on the members and also on the correct address of the Shut-Ins, this saving members the inconvenience of sending out letters that cannot reach a Shut-In because of wrong address. If Shut-Ins are not willing to do this we must drop them from the list, because we feel this is only fair to members that want to do their task well and should be rewarded with a kind message from the Shut-In. Also this will help Aunt Mary check the members that are not doing their duty and she can drop their membership and prevent some little Shut-In from being disappointed. If you are a Shut-In and want to join our club and live up to the one only rule for Shut-Ins, fill in the "I am a Shut-In" coupon and mail to: Aunt Mary, Box 1012, Fort Worth, Texas.

LIVE STORIES IN VERSE

For the child that lives in the country there are dreams of a day when they can go to the city—where there are gay lights—and lots of things going on. But for the child who must live in the city, there are dreams of the quiet country and the beauty there. Here is a little verse that tells its own story:

The Little London Girl

In my little Green House, quite content am I,
When the hot sun pours down from the sky;
For oh, I love the country—the beautiful country.

Who'd live in a London street when there's the country?

I live in a London street, there I long and long
To be the whole day the sweet flowers among—
Instead of tall chimney-pot up in the sky,
The joy of seeing birds and dragon flies go by.

At home I lie in bed, and cannot go to sleep,
For the sound of cart-wheels upon the hard street.
But here my eyes close up to no sound of anything
Except it is to hear the nightingales sing.

And then I see the chickens and the geese go walking,
I hear the pigs and the ducks all talking.
And the red and spotted cows they stare at me,
As if they wonder whoever I could be.

I see the little lambs out with their mothers—
Such pretty little white young sisters and brothers.
Oh, I'll stay in the country, and make a daisy chain,
And never go back to London again.

ASKS PERMISSION TO BUILD SABINE BASIN LINE

Authority to construct a railway line between Beaumont and Port Arthur is sought by the Sabine Basin, the Beaumont, Sour Lake & Western and the Santa Fe. Application to build was recently made to the Interstate Commerce Commission. In addition to the thirteen miles from Beaumont to Port Arthur, the new line would operate certain spur lines and take over the tracks of the Eastern Texas Electric Railroad.

NEW COURT HOUSE FOR FANNIN

A new courthouse is to be erected for Fannin county at Bonham to take the place of the one burned a few weeks ago. The new structure will cost about $350,000.

Short Skirts made stylish this way!

In most cases it is only necessary to drop the hems to make short skirts the fashionable length. Sometimes new material must be added.

The part that's been turned under—or the new material—may not match the rest of your dress. Then do this. Remove the old color from all your material—or lighten the color—by shimmering from ten to twenty minutes in water to which has been added household ammonia—2 tablespoons to the gallon. Then redye the dress a bright, fashionable color with Diamond Dyes.

For every home use, Diamond Dyes are the finest you can buy. They are easy to use; go on smoothly and evenly; always give true, brilliant, fadeless colors. They contain the highest quality anilines that can be produced.

The white package Diamond Dyes will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon; any kind of goods. The blue package dyes pure silk or wool only. It gives extra fastness and brightness to those two materials. Your dealer has both packages.

HOME PROBLEMS.

EAT YOUR WAY TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

Today, as never before, we are studying the problems of health, because we are well aware that without health we have nothing. Since the beginning of time man has sought (in vain) for that "magic cure-all" which would, with magic wand touch, cure all troubles and ailments of mankind. But today, after centuries and centuries of vain searching, we are turning our attention all too slowly to the plan of prevention. Every school boy knows that a piece of machinery, in order to function properly and give the greatest amount of service, must be properly handled and operated with the right kind of fuel. He also knows that the human body is much like machinery; we must operate it with the right kind of fuel to obtain the best results. The housewife and mother cannot spend too much time studying this all-important problem. There are volumes and volumes on the subject; there are thousands and thousands of advertisements extolling the virtue of this and that product. Out of the maze of written opinions it might be hard for the average woman to decide what is right and what is wrong. So we are going to make a few suggestions that we hope will help her to choose wisely for her particular family and surroundings.

First we would like to suggest that in deciding the merits of an article, ask yourself "Is this written for my benefit or for the benefit of some product that is for sale?" This will, I believe, answer 60 per cent of the questions. Next let me urge simplicity. Simplicity of life and simplicity of eating. Doctors and dietitians are today discovering more and more proof that the wrong combinations of foods are more dangerous than any one special food. They know that the digestive juices of the body can act in only one way, and that when we over-tax them or give them work they cannot perform the excess food is so much poison. This must be gotten rid of in some manner by the body, and in this way we overtax our heart, our lungs, our kidneys and bowels; also our liver and spleen; because these organs must rid the body of things not needed in building and functioning the body. Therefore, two or three well-chosen dishes will do far more good than a dozen incorrectly-balanced ones. In every paper and magazine we pick up we find much about the four major vitamins and the 11 minor (necessary for reproduction.) So it will not be necessary to acquaint you with the importance of these vital food elements that are of life itself. But here is a simplified table that will give you a suggestion of some of the foods found in each group.

Vitamin A: Lettuce, tomatoes, egg yolk, cream, spinach, codliver oil, carrots, prunes, etc.

Vitamin C: Raw lettuce, oranges, bananas, grapefruit, lemons, pineapple, (fresh) raw tomatoes, onions (uncooked), etc.

Vitamin D: (The most illusive) yolk of egg, (not hard cooked) whole milk, codliver oil.

Vitamin E: (Necessary for reproduction) salad greens, some vegetable oils and wheat heart.

Our living conditions, the weather and our general system must be taken into account when selecting our foods; also the age of a person.

Study your family, study your pocketbook, and then form in your mind the foods they need. You will be surprised how nicely it all fits together. Simple, inexpensive foods stand for health, happiness and success.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR THE CHILDREN

With spring at the door and summer just around the corner, we should be thinking of the summer playground for the children. Happy, happy time are youth and spring. Make the memories of your child a thing of beauty. Make the environment so sweet, so pure, that when at last the little birds are ready to fly from the nest, they will take into the world sunshine and happiness; health in body and mind. "All work, no play, makes Jack a dull boy," is very, very true. Playtime is as important to the full life of a child as is school and home training. Play is the social barometer with which the child gauges himself or herself in relationship to others. Given the right foundation and background, the rest is not so difficult. The foundation of anything is the most important part of the structure; the whole depends on this one factor. The right sort of playgrounds and the right sort of equipment are most important. Above all, do not furnish the children with a "finished product," as this is most tiring to anyone. We are happiest and best when we are building and struggling with our own hands and brains. Often we do not see this; it often looks dark and dreary and the way seems hard; but from the mouths of many that have at last reached the mountain height to which they aspired, I have learned that the best period was the climbing and not the ultimate success, although this is part of it.

"Supervised play" is the term so often applied to modern methods on playgrounds. I would like to add "Supervise with care." I believe we can over-supervise more easily than we can under-supervise. Furnish the raw materials and let them do the constructing. What are the raw materials? For small children there should be an enclosed yard, the latches of the gates so constructed that little fingers cannot work them. This relieves mother's mind and provides a safe harbor for little souls. See that all dangerous objects are removed from the yard, such as broken glass, open-jagged tin cans and the like. Have the yard as smooth as possible. The raw materials for little children should be very simple. A small sand bed, pretty rocks or shells, a tin nail with a handle, a tin cup with a good handle, a small cheap wagon and a few blocks of wood will furnish amusement for hours at a time. Show them a few simple things to do with the rocks, blocks, etc., then leave them to their own devices.

For older children several things may be added to the above list. Remember the sand bed is useful for many, many years. For the older children you may add buckets that will hold water and pans in which to make the beloved mud cakes; also plenty of pretty rocks to decorate the cakes. Then it is wise to provide a liberal supply of boxes of various sizes; these can be obtained at most grocery stores free of charge. These boxes will answer many purposes. First, they can build imaginary houses, and the houses can be taken apart and the lumber used by the child or children for many things. Supply them with the aforesaid box lumber and a small set of good tools, (now made for children) and endless days will be usefully filled with constructions. Buy them a supply of the cheapest nails you can get; encourage them to use them and also show them how to make the best use of them without wasting them. Swings, horizontal bars, slides, etc., are lovely and are highly recommended. Arrange the play yard, if possible, where a building will cut off the cold north wind and where there are trees for shade in the hot summer weather. Arrange a place where the children may keep their toys and tools and reward them for taking care of them rather than punishing them for not doing so. Above all, provide a place for play that is the child's or children's own paradise. Let them arrange the yard to suit their desires; let them rule their own kingdom, you being a spectator that will applaud when things are nicely done. This will build character and a sense of responsibility better than any other thing I know.

BETTER RECIPES

This department is conducted to try to help you arrange both healthful and delicious meals. Do the recipes help you any? If you do gain any benefit from this department let me hear from you. Write to Mrs. Margaret Stute, box 1012, Fort Worth, Texas.

Prune Pudding

Two cups cooked, sweetened prunes and their juice, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons Karo syrup, 2 tablespoons Argo corn starch, 4 egg whites, whipped stiff, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon.

Pit the prunes, heat, and thicken with the corn starch blended with the syrup. Add the salt and cinnamon, fold in the egg whites, whipped stiff, transfer to a baking dish oiled with butter or shortening and bake until puffy in a moderate oven—about thirty minutes. Serve with cream or fresh crushed strawberries and cream.

Health Cocktail

Freeze a can of grapefruit. Serve ginger ale or a sweetened fruit cocktail in tall colored glasses in which has been dropped a red cherry and a sprig of mint. Just before serving the individual glasses drop a slice of frozen grapefruit into each. Of course the ginger ale or fruit cocktail should be thoroughly chilled before putting in the glasses. This is delicious for parties or for the pick-up drink on a hot afternoon.

Potato Biscuit

One and a half cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, ½ cup cold mashed potatoes, ½ cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening and potatoes, mixing in with the dry ingredients. Add milk to make a soft dough. Pat out with the hand on floured board to about one-half inch thick; cut with small cutter; bake on greased pan in hot oven until crispy brown.

Spaghetti Pudding

Two cups cooked spaghetti, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, ½ cup sugar, grated rind of ½ lemon.

Cook spaghetti, cool and chop fine. Beat eggs, add milk, sugar spaghetti and lemon rind. Mix thoroughly and pour into buttered molds. Bake in a slow oven for 35 minutes, or until firm. Chill, turn out, serve with fresh or stewed fruit.

Puffed Wheat

Pastries
Two and a half cups powdered sugar, 1 cup maple syrup, ½ cup cream, 1 cup pecans, 1 cup puffed wheat.

Boil sugar, syrup and cream until soft ball is formed in cold water. Remove from fire and beat until a creamy consistency. Add nuts and puffed wheat and drop from top of spoon in small piles of buttered paper.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of salicylic powder from your druggist, sprinkle a little on a wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briefly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them large and unsightly—while the simple application of salicylic powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.—Ad.

for five or ten minutes. Warm the oatmeal, if left over porridge is used, and stir the soaked gelatin and the sugar into the hot oatmeal. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then rub through a strainer. Add the lemon rind and fold in the cream whipped stiff. Pour into a serving dish or shallow mold and chill thoroughly. Serve cold, plain or with any crushed fruit.

Puffed Wheat Macaroons

Two cups puffed wheat, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup melted butter, 2 teaspoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, ¼ teaspoon baking powder.

Beat egg thoroughly and add sugar gradually. Add melted butter and beat until light. Stir in flour with which baking powder has been sifted. Lastly add flavoring and puffed wheat and drop on a well greased and floured pan about three inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from pan while warm.

Two cups cooked, sweetened prunes and their juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons Karo syrup, 2 tablespoons Argo corn starch, 4 egg whites, whipped stiff, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon.

Put the prunes, heat, and thicken with the corn starch blended with the syrup. Add the salt and cinnamon, fold in the egg whites, whipped stiff, transfer to a baking dish oiled with butter or shortening and bake until puffy in a moderate oven—about thirty minutes. Serve with cream or fresh crushed strawberries and cream.

Health Cocktail

Freeze a can of grapefruit. Serve ginger ale or a sweetened fruit cocktail in tall colored glasses in which has been dropped a red cherry and a sprig of mint. Just before serving the individual glasses drop a slice of frozen grapefruit into each. Of course the ginger ale or fruit cocktail should be thoroughly chilled before putting in the glasses. This is delicious for parties or for the pick-up drink on a hot afternoon.

Potato Biscuit

One and a half cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 cup cold mashed potatoes, 1/2 cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening and potatoes, mixing in with the dry ingredients. Add milk to make a soft dough. Pat out with the hand on floured board to about one-half inch thick; cut with small cutter; bake on greased pan in hot oven until crispy brown.

Spaghetti Pudding

Two cups cooked spaghetti, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, grated rind of 1/2 lemon.

Cook spaghetti, cool and chop fine. Beat eggs, add milk, sugar spaghetti and lemon rind. Mix thoroughly and pour into buttered molds. Bake in a slow oven for 35 minutes, or until firm. Chill, turn out, serve with fresh or stewed fruit.

Puffed Wheat

Pastries
Two and a half cups powdered sugar, 1 cup maple syrup, 1/2 cup cream, 1 cup pecans, 1 cup puffed wheat.

Boil sugar, syrup and cream until soft ball is formed in cold water. Remove from fire and beat until a creamy consistency. Add nuts and puffed wheat and drop from top of spoon in small piles of buttered paper.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick, by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calomine powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a wet cloth—rub over the blackheads twice, for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them large and unsightly—while the simple application of calomine powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.—Ad.

for five or ten minutes. Warm the oatmeal, if left over porridge is used, and stir the soaked gelatin and the sugar into the hot oatmeal. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then rub through a strainer. Add the lemon rind and fold in the cream whipped stiff. Pour into a serving dish or shallow mold and chill thoroughly. Serve cold, plain or with any crushed fruit.

Puffed Wheat Macaroons

Two cups puffed wheat, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup melted butter, 2 teaspoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder.

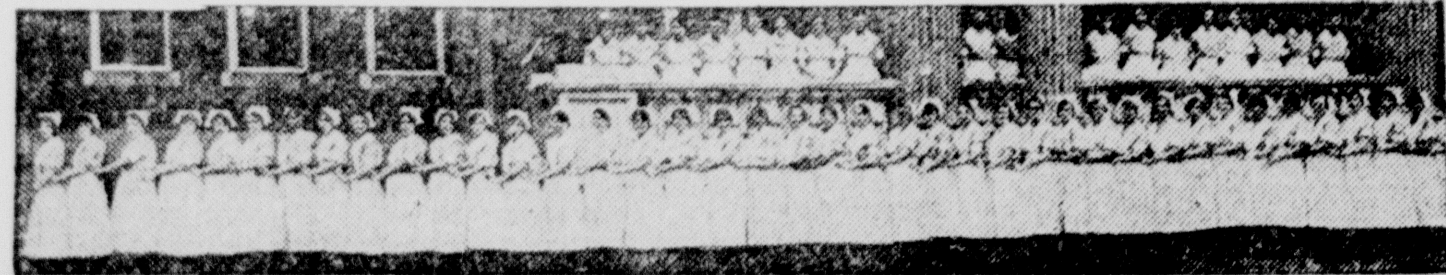

Beat egg thoroughly and add sugar gradually. Add melted butter and beat until light. Stir in flour with which baking powder has been sifted. Lastly add flavoring and puffed wheat and drop on a well greased and floured pan about three inches apart. Bake in moderate oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from pan while warm.
